UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

JOHN COOPER, OF BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

BOW OR SCARF HOLDER.

SPECIFICATION forming part of Letters Patent No. 258,994, dated June 6, 1882.

Application filed November 25, 1881. (No model.)

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, JOHN COOPER, a citizen of the United States, residing in Boston, in the county of Suffolk and State of Massachusetts, have invented a new and useful Improvement in Bow or Scarf Holders; and I do hereby declare that the following is a full, clear, and exact description of the invention, which will enable others skilled in the art to which it appertains to make and use the same.

The object of my invention is to make a bow or scarf holder that is easily adjusted, and that cannot get out of place or position. My holder is made of brass or other suitable material. It is cut by means of a cutting-die, and with another die is struck into shape and corrugated, to stiffen it.

In the drawings, Figure 1 is a front view of my holder. Fig. 2 is a back view. Fig. 3 is a back view with the holder reversed; and Fig. 4 is a section through hook, brace, and pin.

A is the brace that goes under the collar. B is the hook that hooks over the bands of the shirt and collar. C C are plates in which loops E E are made to hold the pin D. 25

To use the holder, put the pin D through one of the loops E. Then press a part of the back of the bow between the plates C C and run the pin under a part of the back of the bow and let the point of the pin pass through the opposite loop E, and the bow will be fastened to the holder. To fasten the holder to the collar, put the hook B over the bands of the collar and shirt and turn the ends of the brace A under the folds of the collar, and the holder and bow will be secured to the collar. 30 35

What I claim, and desire to secure by Letters Patent, is—

An improved bow or scarf holder, consisting of the brace A, hook B, plates C C, pin D, and loops E E, all substantially as shown and described. 40

JOHN COOPER.
