UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

HORACE B. CAMP, OF TALLMADGE, OHIO.

PAVING-BRICK.

SPECIFICATION forming part of Letters Patent No. 411,010, dated September 17, 1889.

Application filed May 2, 1889. Serial No. 309,332. (No model.)

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, HORACE B. CAMP, a citizen of the United States, residing at Tallmadge, in the county of Summit and State of Ohio, have invented a certain new and useful Paving-Brick and Apparatus for Making the Same, of which the following is a specification.

My invention has relation to improvements in brick which are adapted for pavements; and it has for its object the production of a brick for the purpose aforesaid which shall have along one side one or more serrated ridges integral with the brick, by which it is separated from the smooth side of the adjacent brick to leave a space for the paving-pitch, the serratures serving to permit the pitch to enter said space more readily than if the ridge were solid.

My invention consists of the peculiarly-formed brick hereinafter described, and specifically pointed out in the claim, reference being had to the accompanying drawing, which constitutes a part of this specification.

In the accompanying drawing the figure is a perspective view of my improved paving-brick.

The brick E is made of any desired material and by any of the known methods of making brick, and has on one of its broader sides serrated ridges e. The ridges e serve to separate the brick and leave a space in which a retaining-cement is poured, and the serratures permit the ready entrance of the cement.

I claim—

As an improved article of manufacture, a paving-brick having on one side one or more serrated ridges, substantially as shown, and for the purpose specified.

In testimony that I claim the above I hereunto set my hand.

HORACE B. CAMP.

In presence of—

C. P. HUMPHREY,
C. E. HUMPHREY.
