The image contains four technical line drawings of a wireless charger. The largest drawing on the left is a front perspective view (FIG. 1) showing a rectangular device with rounded corners, a top surface with a small square feature, and a side with a textured area. To its right is a rear perspective view (FIG. 2) showing the back of the device with a similar square feature. Below these are two smaller drawings: a split state view (FIG. 3) showing the device with its top cover partially open, and a side view (FIG. 4) showing the profile of the device.
