United States Patent [19]

Edmark et al.

[11] Des. 243,717 [45]** Mar. 15, 1977

[54]	4) PHYSIOLOGICAL MONITORING DEVICE HOUSING		<ul><li>D. 207,685</li><li>D. 214,755</li></ul>	5/1967 7/1969	King
[75]	Inventors: K. William Edmark, Seattle; David B. Smith, Mercer Island; Louis D. Pheil, Redmond, all of Wash.		Primary Examiner—Bernard Ansher Attorney, Agent, or Firm—Orland M. Christensen
[73]	A seignoo:	Physio Control Corporation, Redmond, Wash.	[57]		CLAIM
[ 7 3 ]	Assignee.		The ornamental design for physiological monitoring device housing, as shown and described.
[]	Appl. No.: 605,440  Piled: Aug. 18, 1975  Int. Cl. D24—02; D10—99  U.S. Cl. D83/1 F
[21]			DESCRIPTION  FIG. 1 is a perspective front view of a physiological monitoring device housing showing our design;  FIG. 2 is a side view of the physiological monitoring device housing of FIG. 1;
[51]
[52]
[58] Field of Search			FIG. 3 is a top plan view of the physiological monitoring device housing of FIG. 1;
[56]	References Cited		FIG. 4 is a rear end view of the physiological monitor-			or-
U.S. PATENT DOCUMENTS			ing device housing of FIG. 1; FIG. 5 is a front end view of the physiological monitor-
•	3,728,670 4/1973 Rosauer			ing device housing of FIG. 1.
3,776,228 12/1973 Semler 128/2.06 E			The stethoscope shown in broken lines is for illustrative
3,890	o,788 //19	75 Sato 128/2.05 Z	purposes or	шy.

