

[54] ASSEMBLY FOR THE EVAPORATION OF AN ACTIVE VOLATILE SUBSTANCE

[75] Inventor: Georg Schimanski, Hagen, Germany

[73] Assignee: Globol-Werk GmbH, Neuberg, Germany

[] Term: 14 Years

[21] Appl. No.: 714,247

[22] Filed: Aug. 13, 1976

Related U.S. Application Data

[63] Continuation-in-part of Ser. No. 622,630, Oct. 15, 1975, Pat. No. D. 242,145.

[30] Foreign Application Priority Data

Oct. 21, 1975 Germany 281

[51] Int. Cl. D23-04

[52] U.S. Cl. D23/150

[58] Field of Search D23/139, 141, 150; 239/34, 35, 51.5, 57, 60

[56] References Cited

U.S. PATENT DOCUMENTS

| | | | |
|------------|---------|--------------------|---------|
| D. 136,877 | 12/1943 | Estes | D23/150 |
| D. 236,348 | 8/1975 | Schimanski | D23/150 |
| 3,804,330 | 4/1974 | Miller et al. | 239/34 |
| 3,844,478 | 10/1974 | Davis | 239/57 |
| 3,964,684 | 6/1976 | Schimanski | 239/57 |

Primary Examiner—Wallace R. Burke

Assistant Examiner—B. J. Bullock

Attorney, Agent, or Firm—Gilbert L. Wells

[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a combined holder and mounting bracket for solid deodorant, perfume, insect repellent, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a top front perspective view of the combined holder and mounting bracket for solid deodorant, perfume, insect repellent or the like showing my new design and

FIG. 2 is a rear bottom perspective view of FIG. 1,

FIG. 3 is a top front perspective view of a second embodiment of the design of FIG. 1, with the difference being the lack of the solid insert and the accompanying internal bracket structure and

FIG. 4 is a rear bottom perspective of FIG. 3.

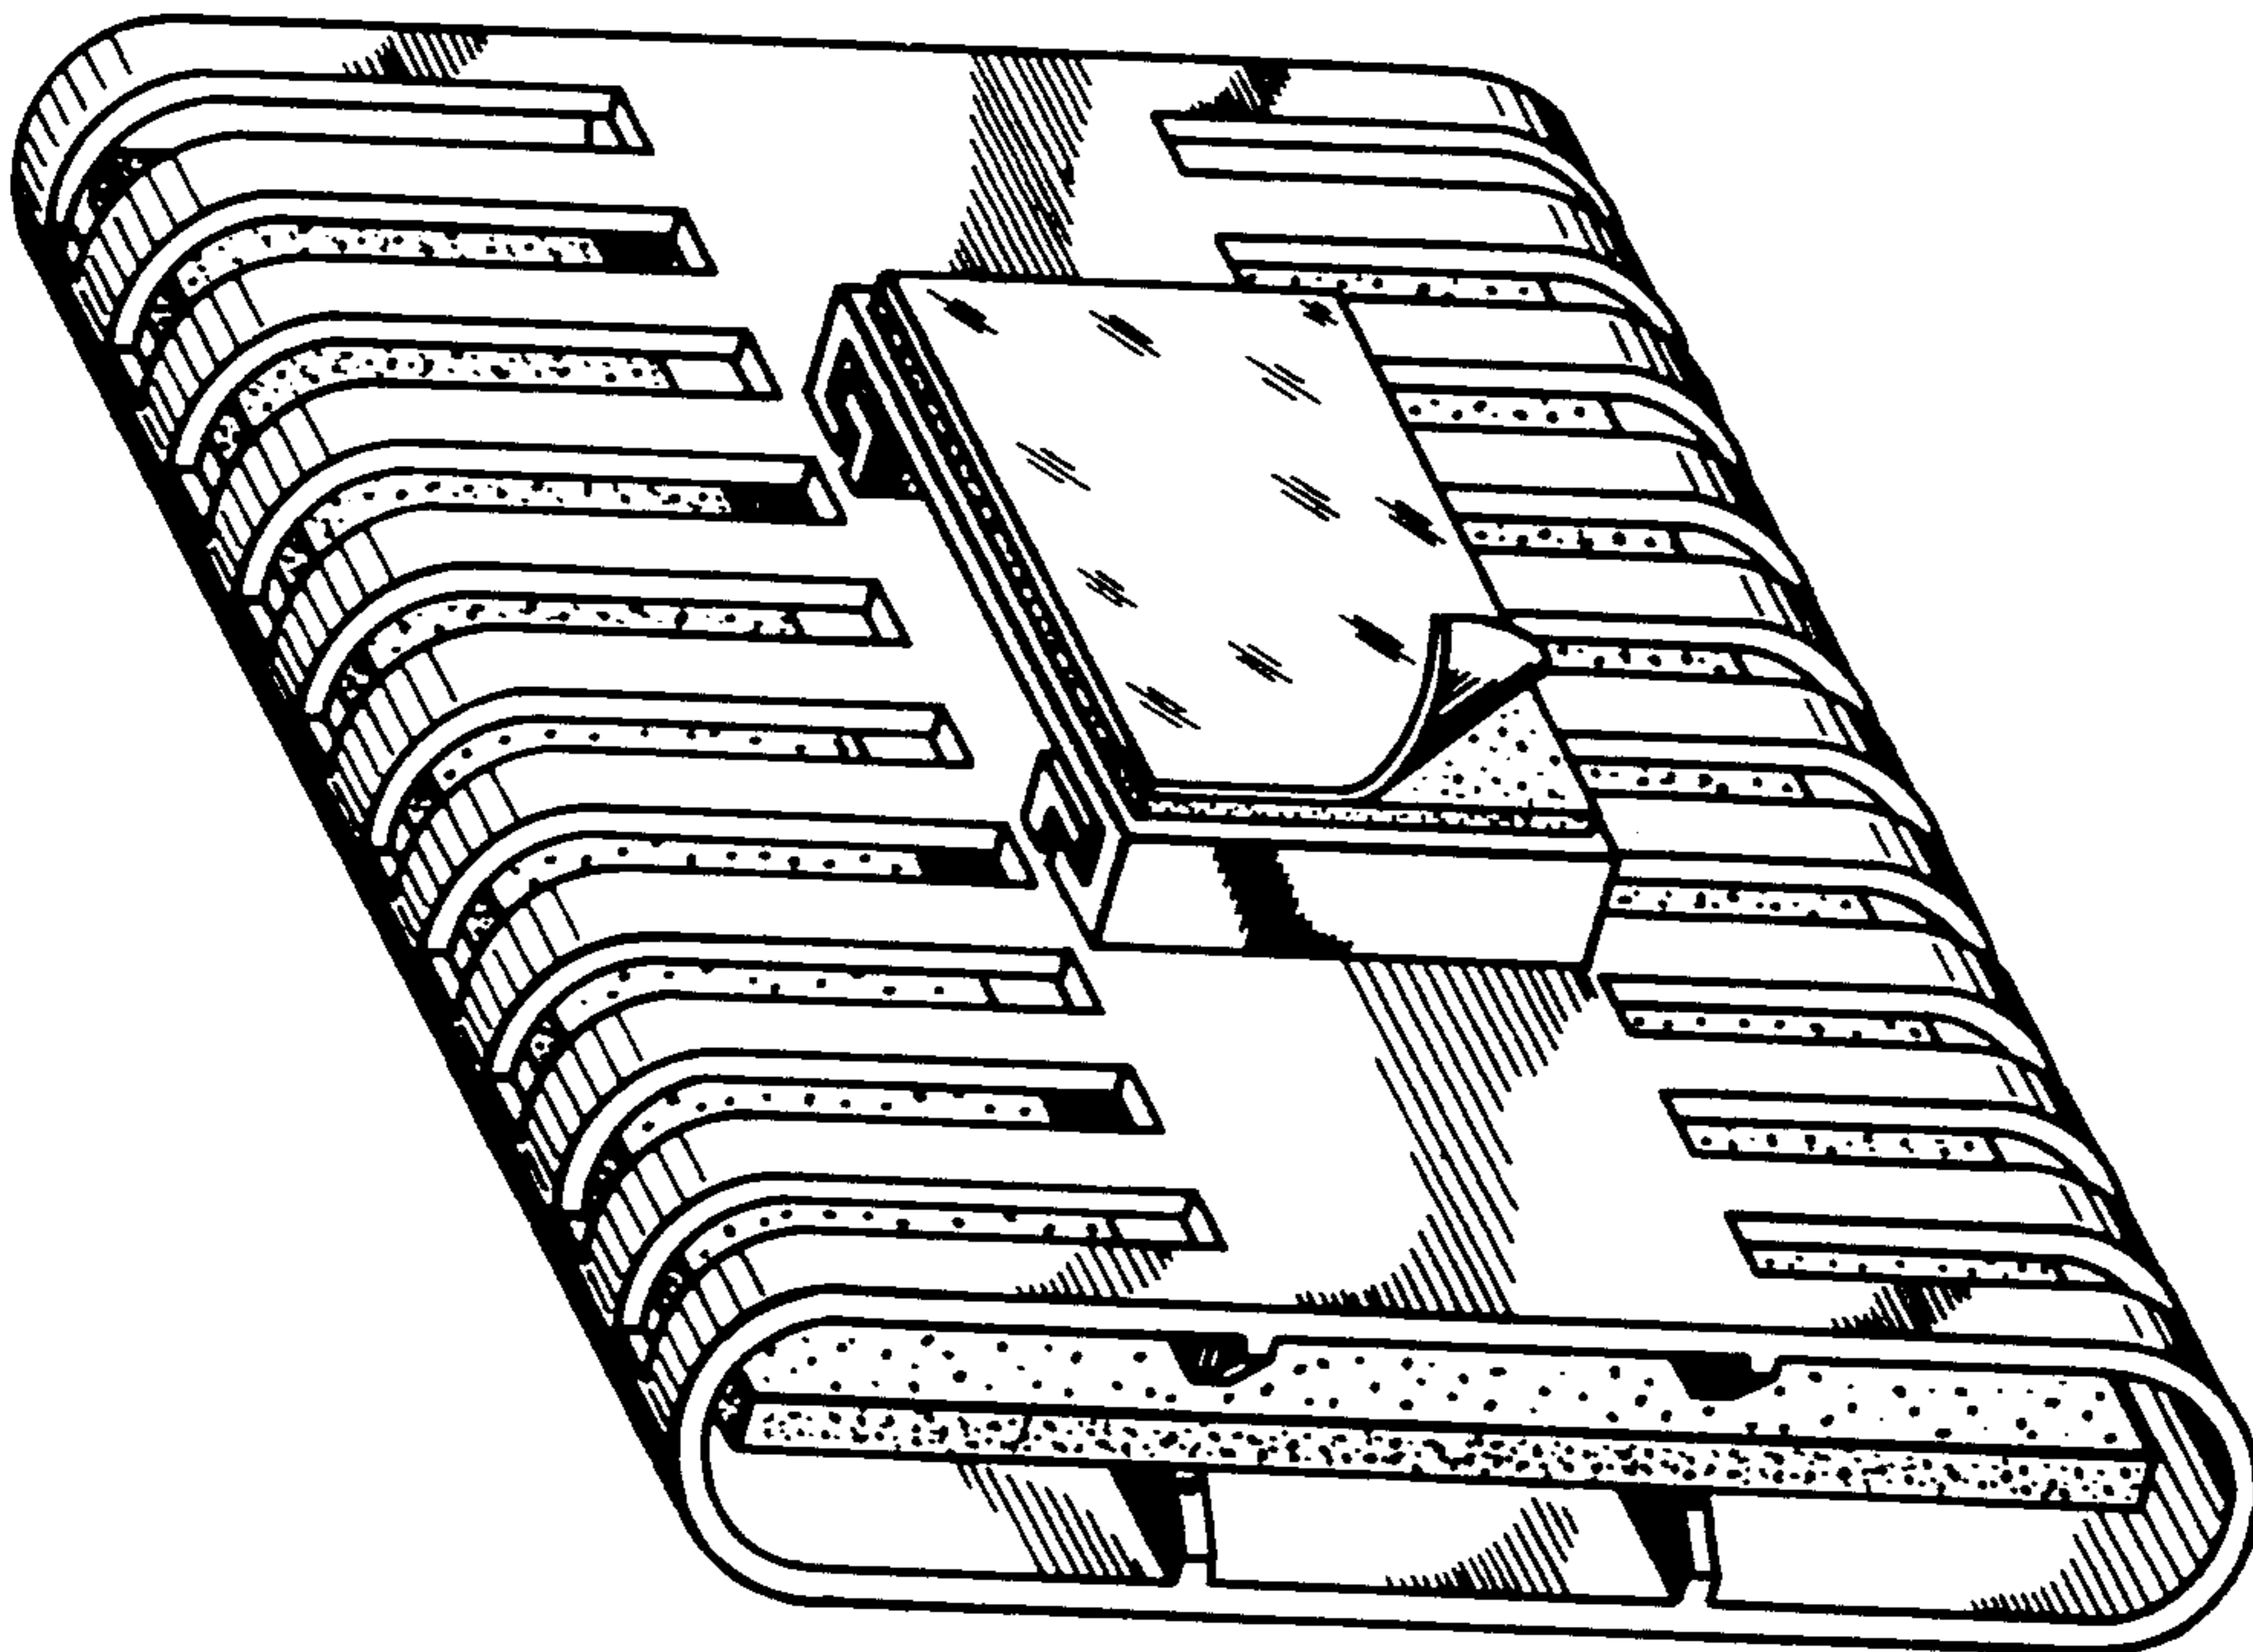

Fig. 1

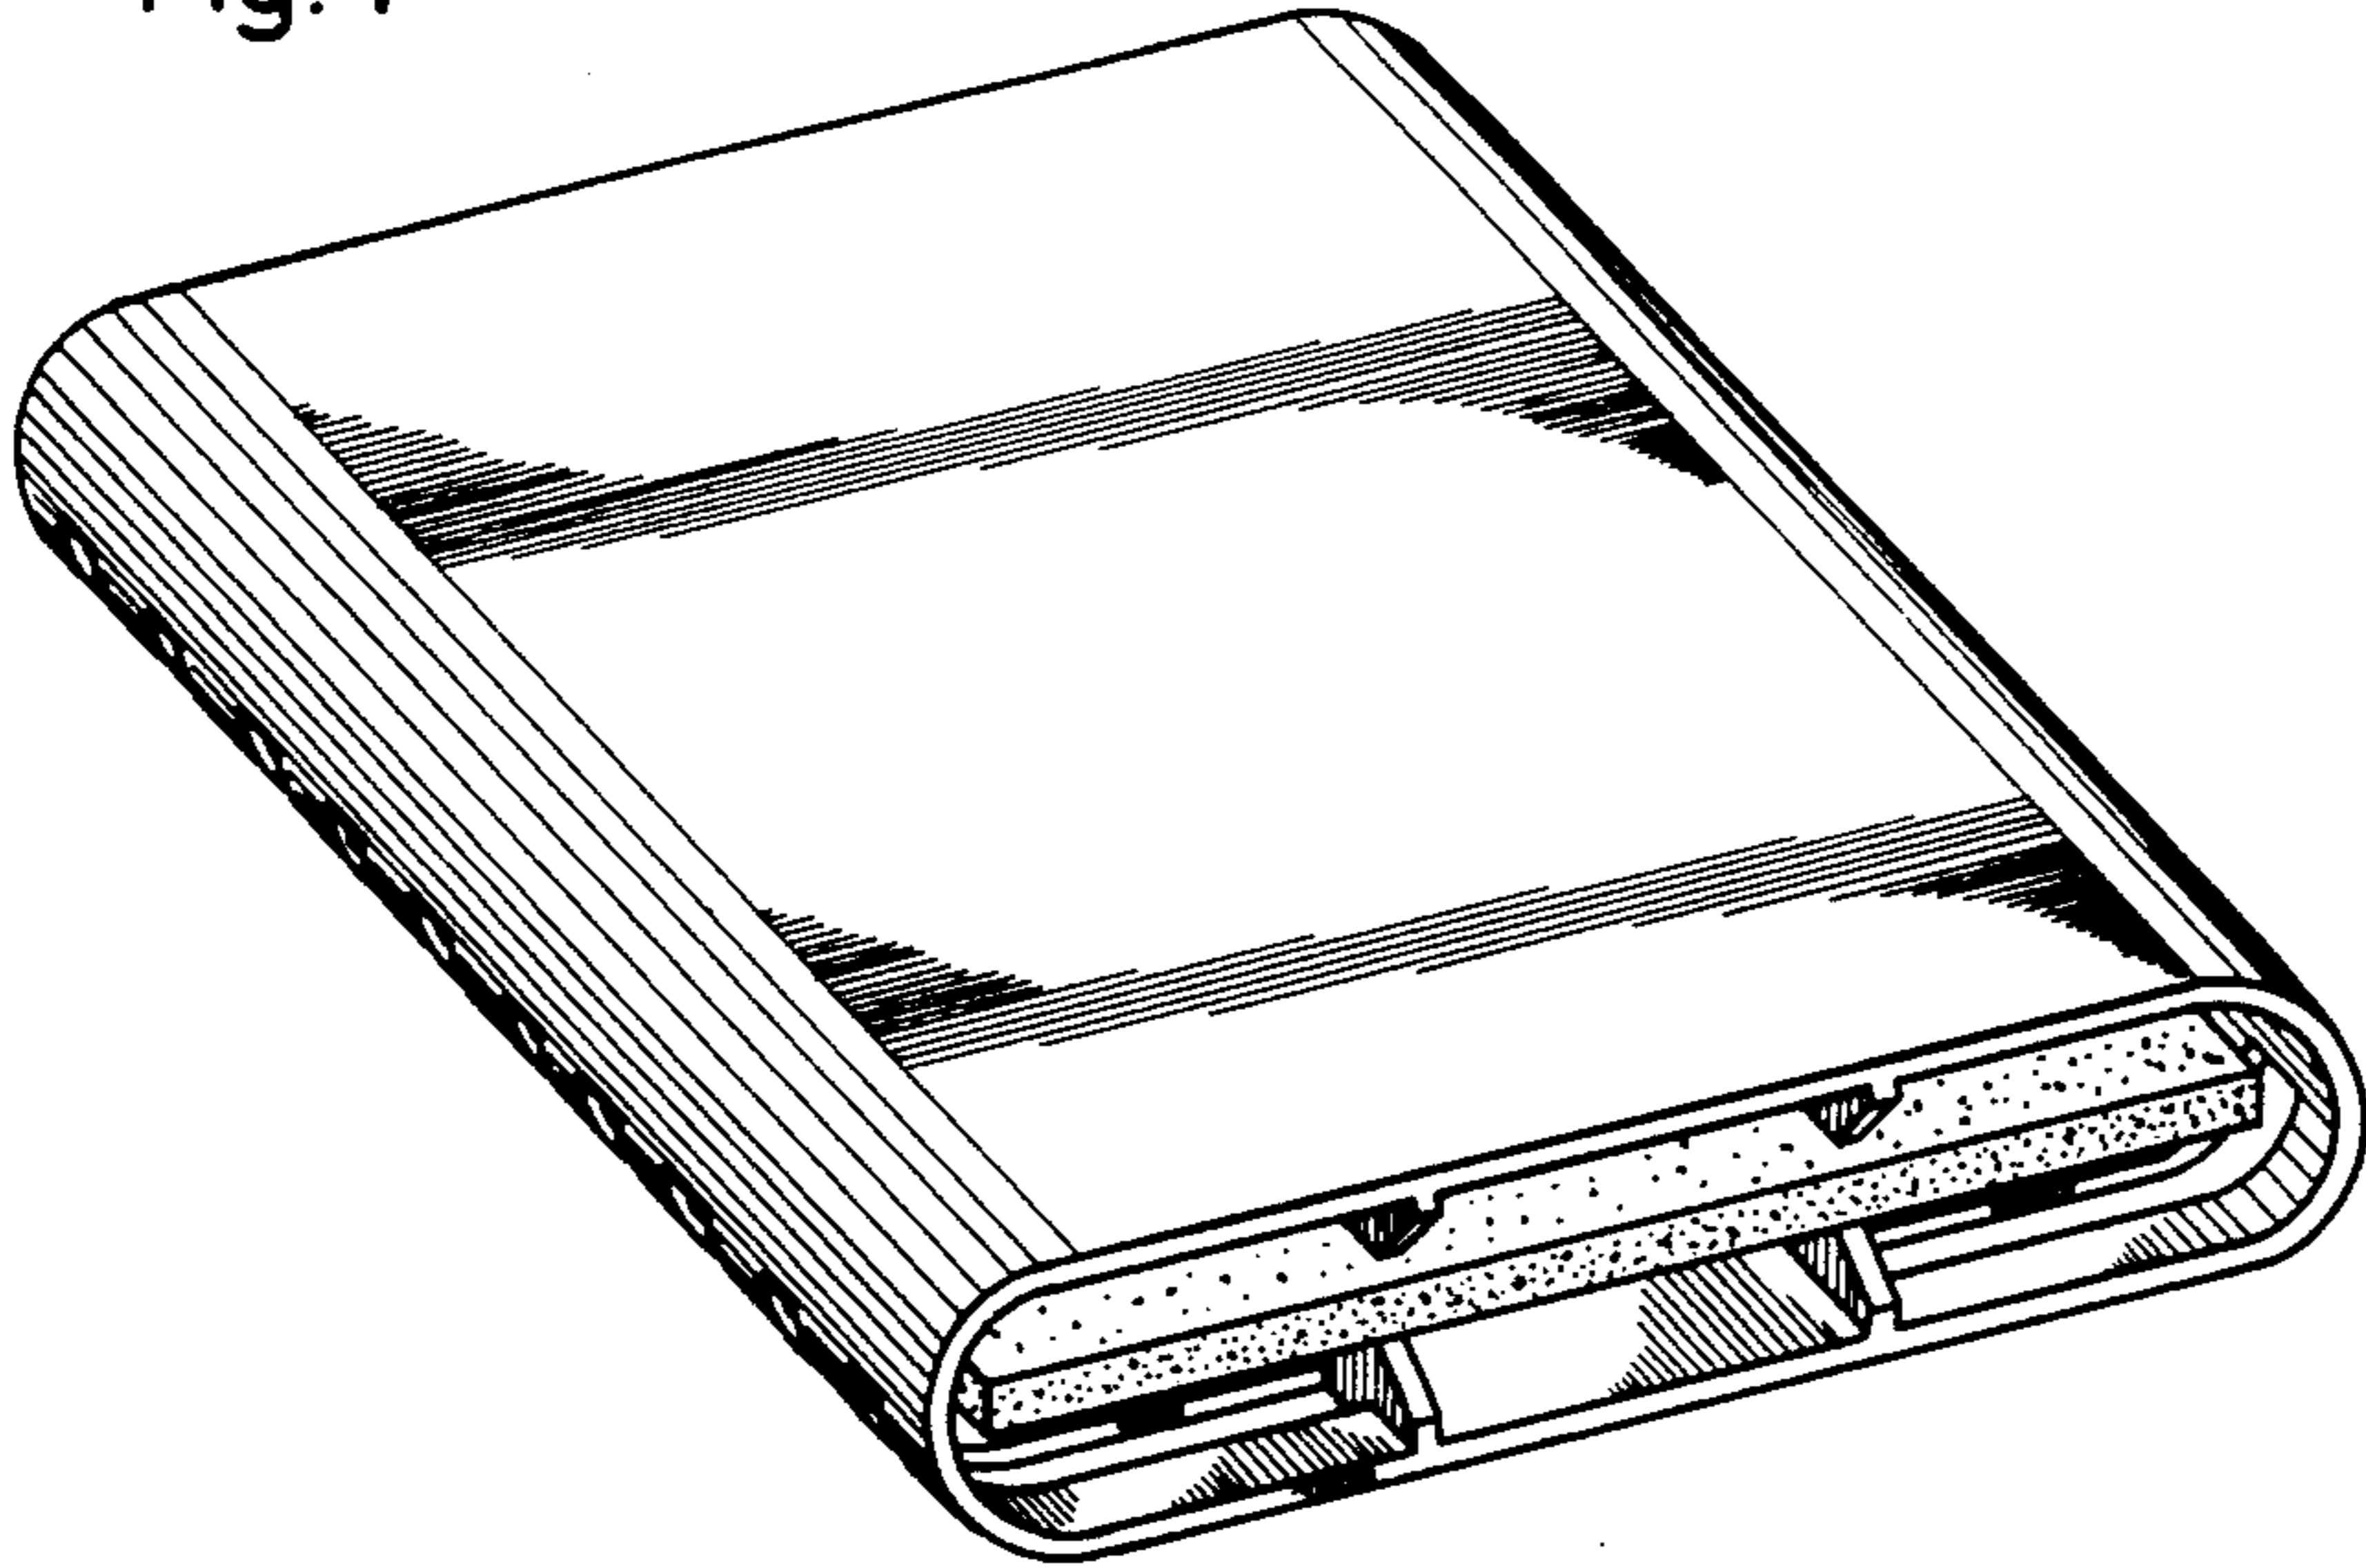

Fig. 2

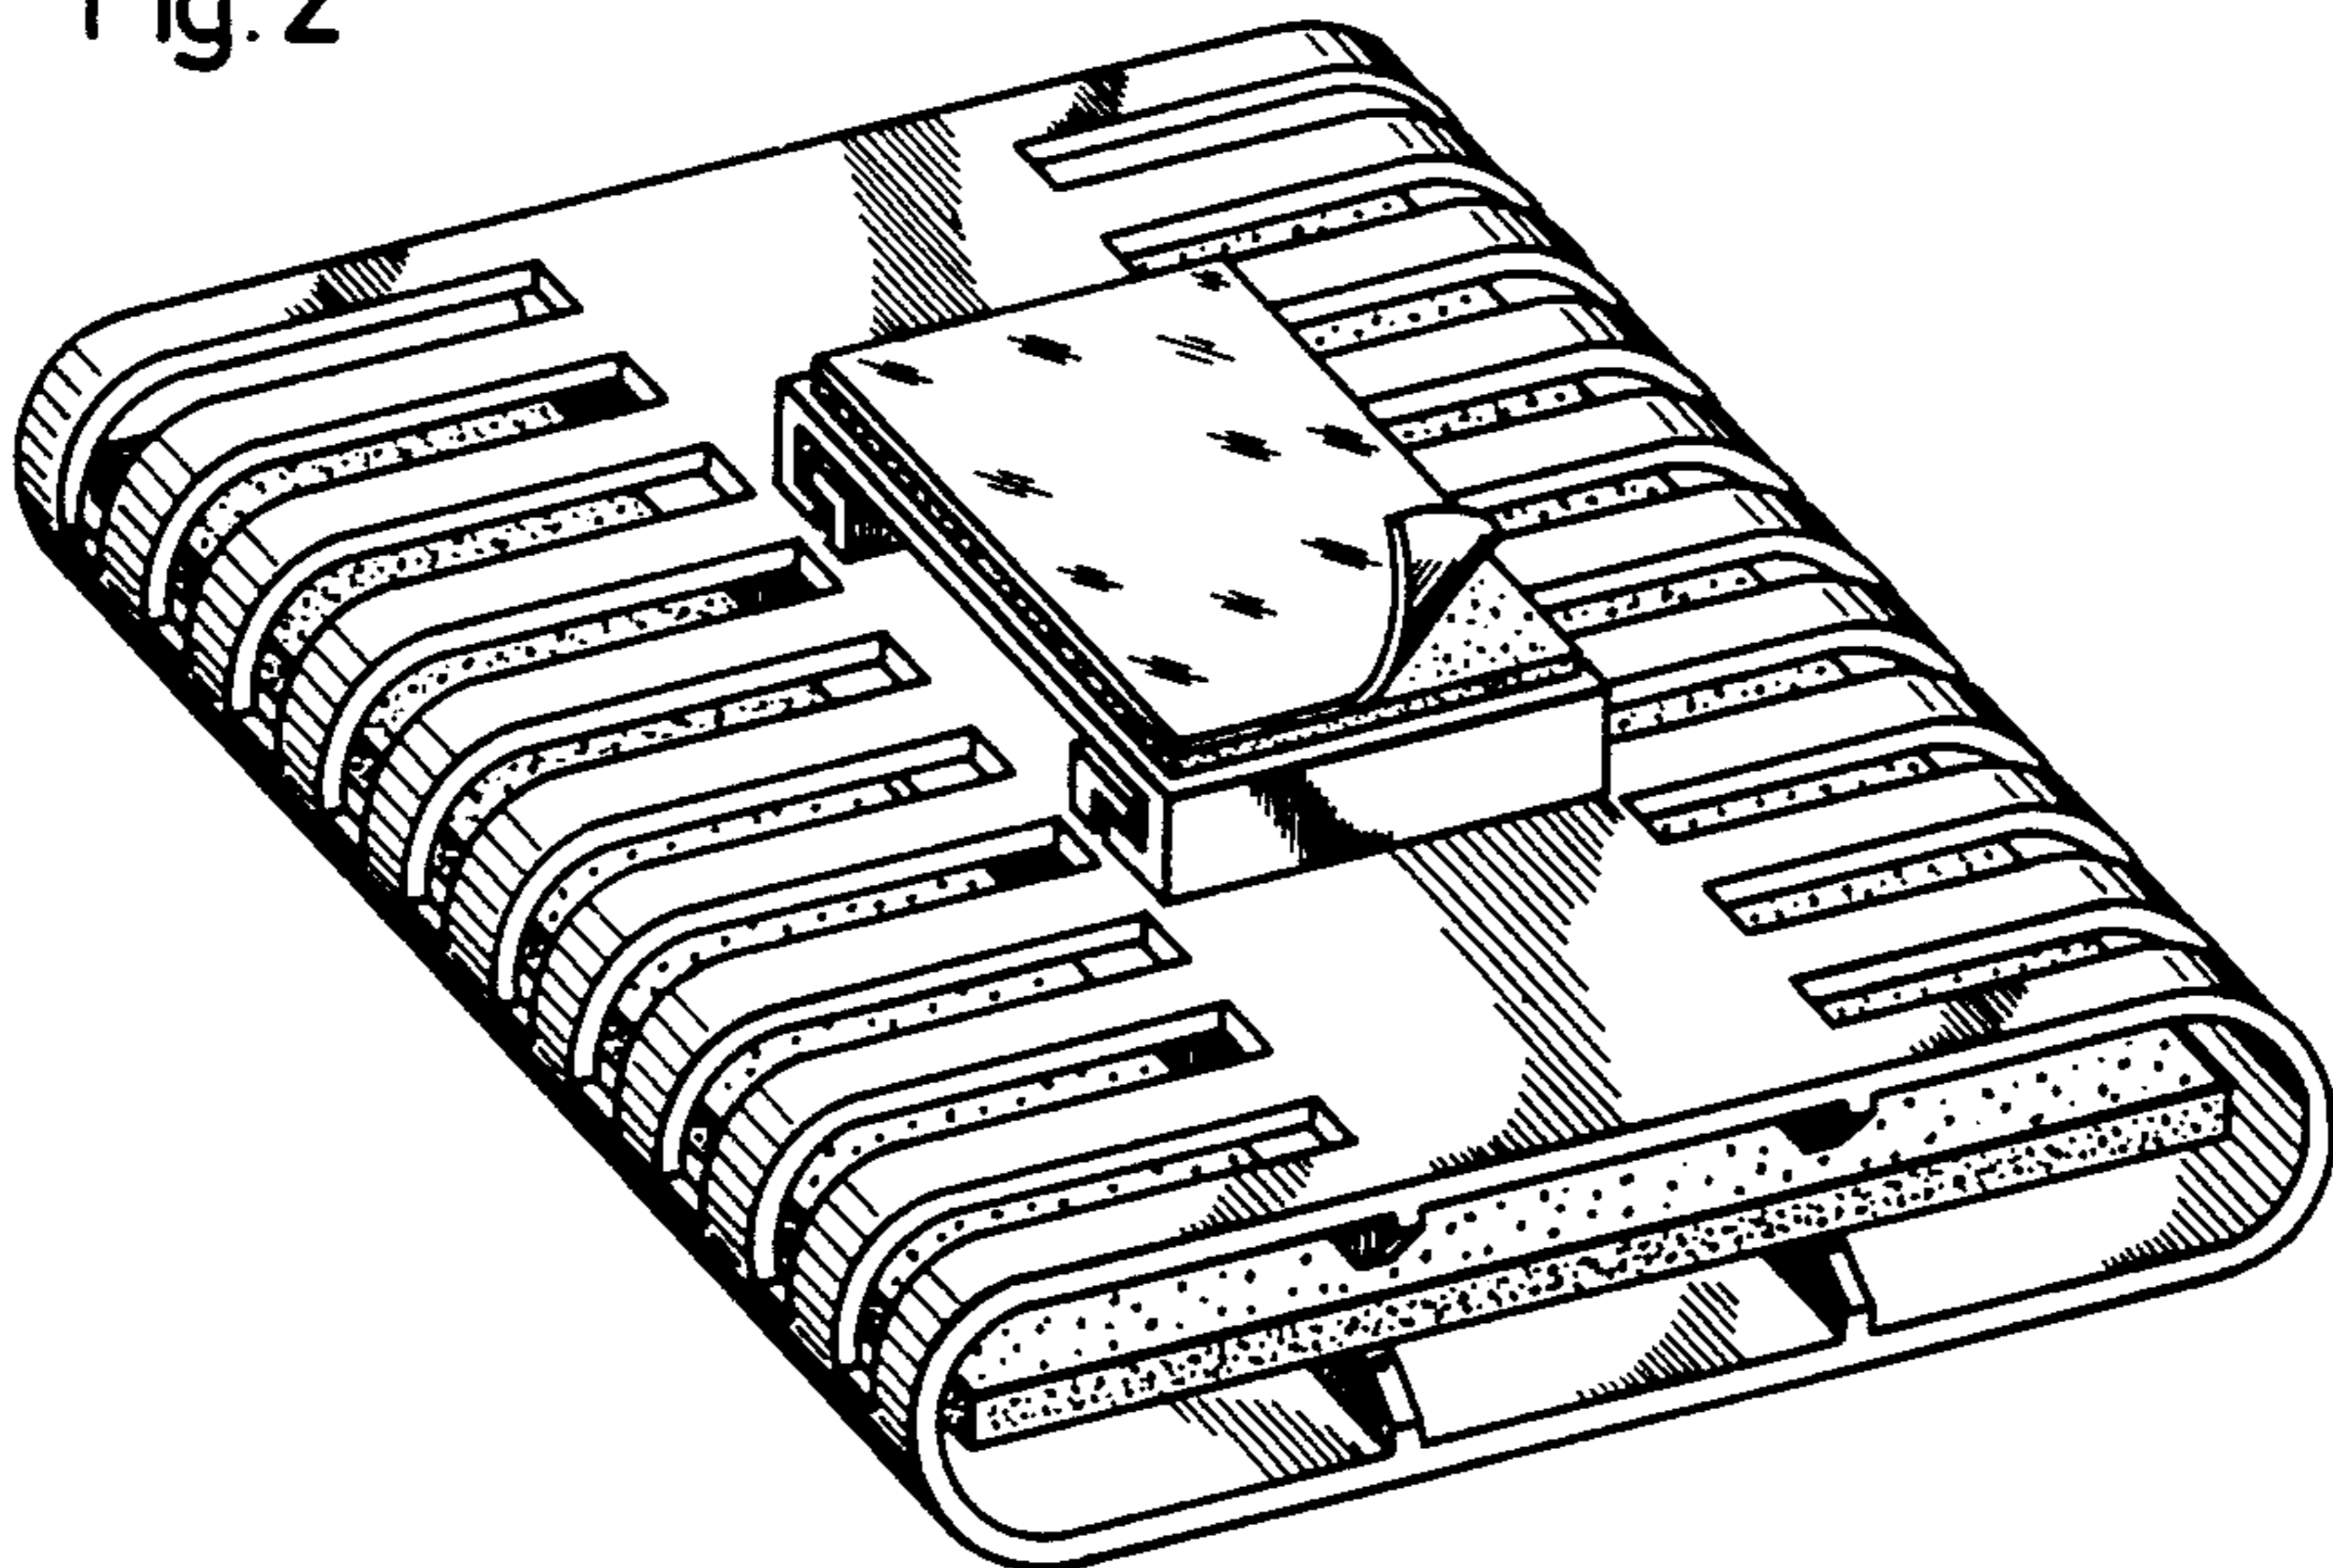

Fig. 3

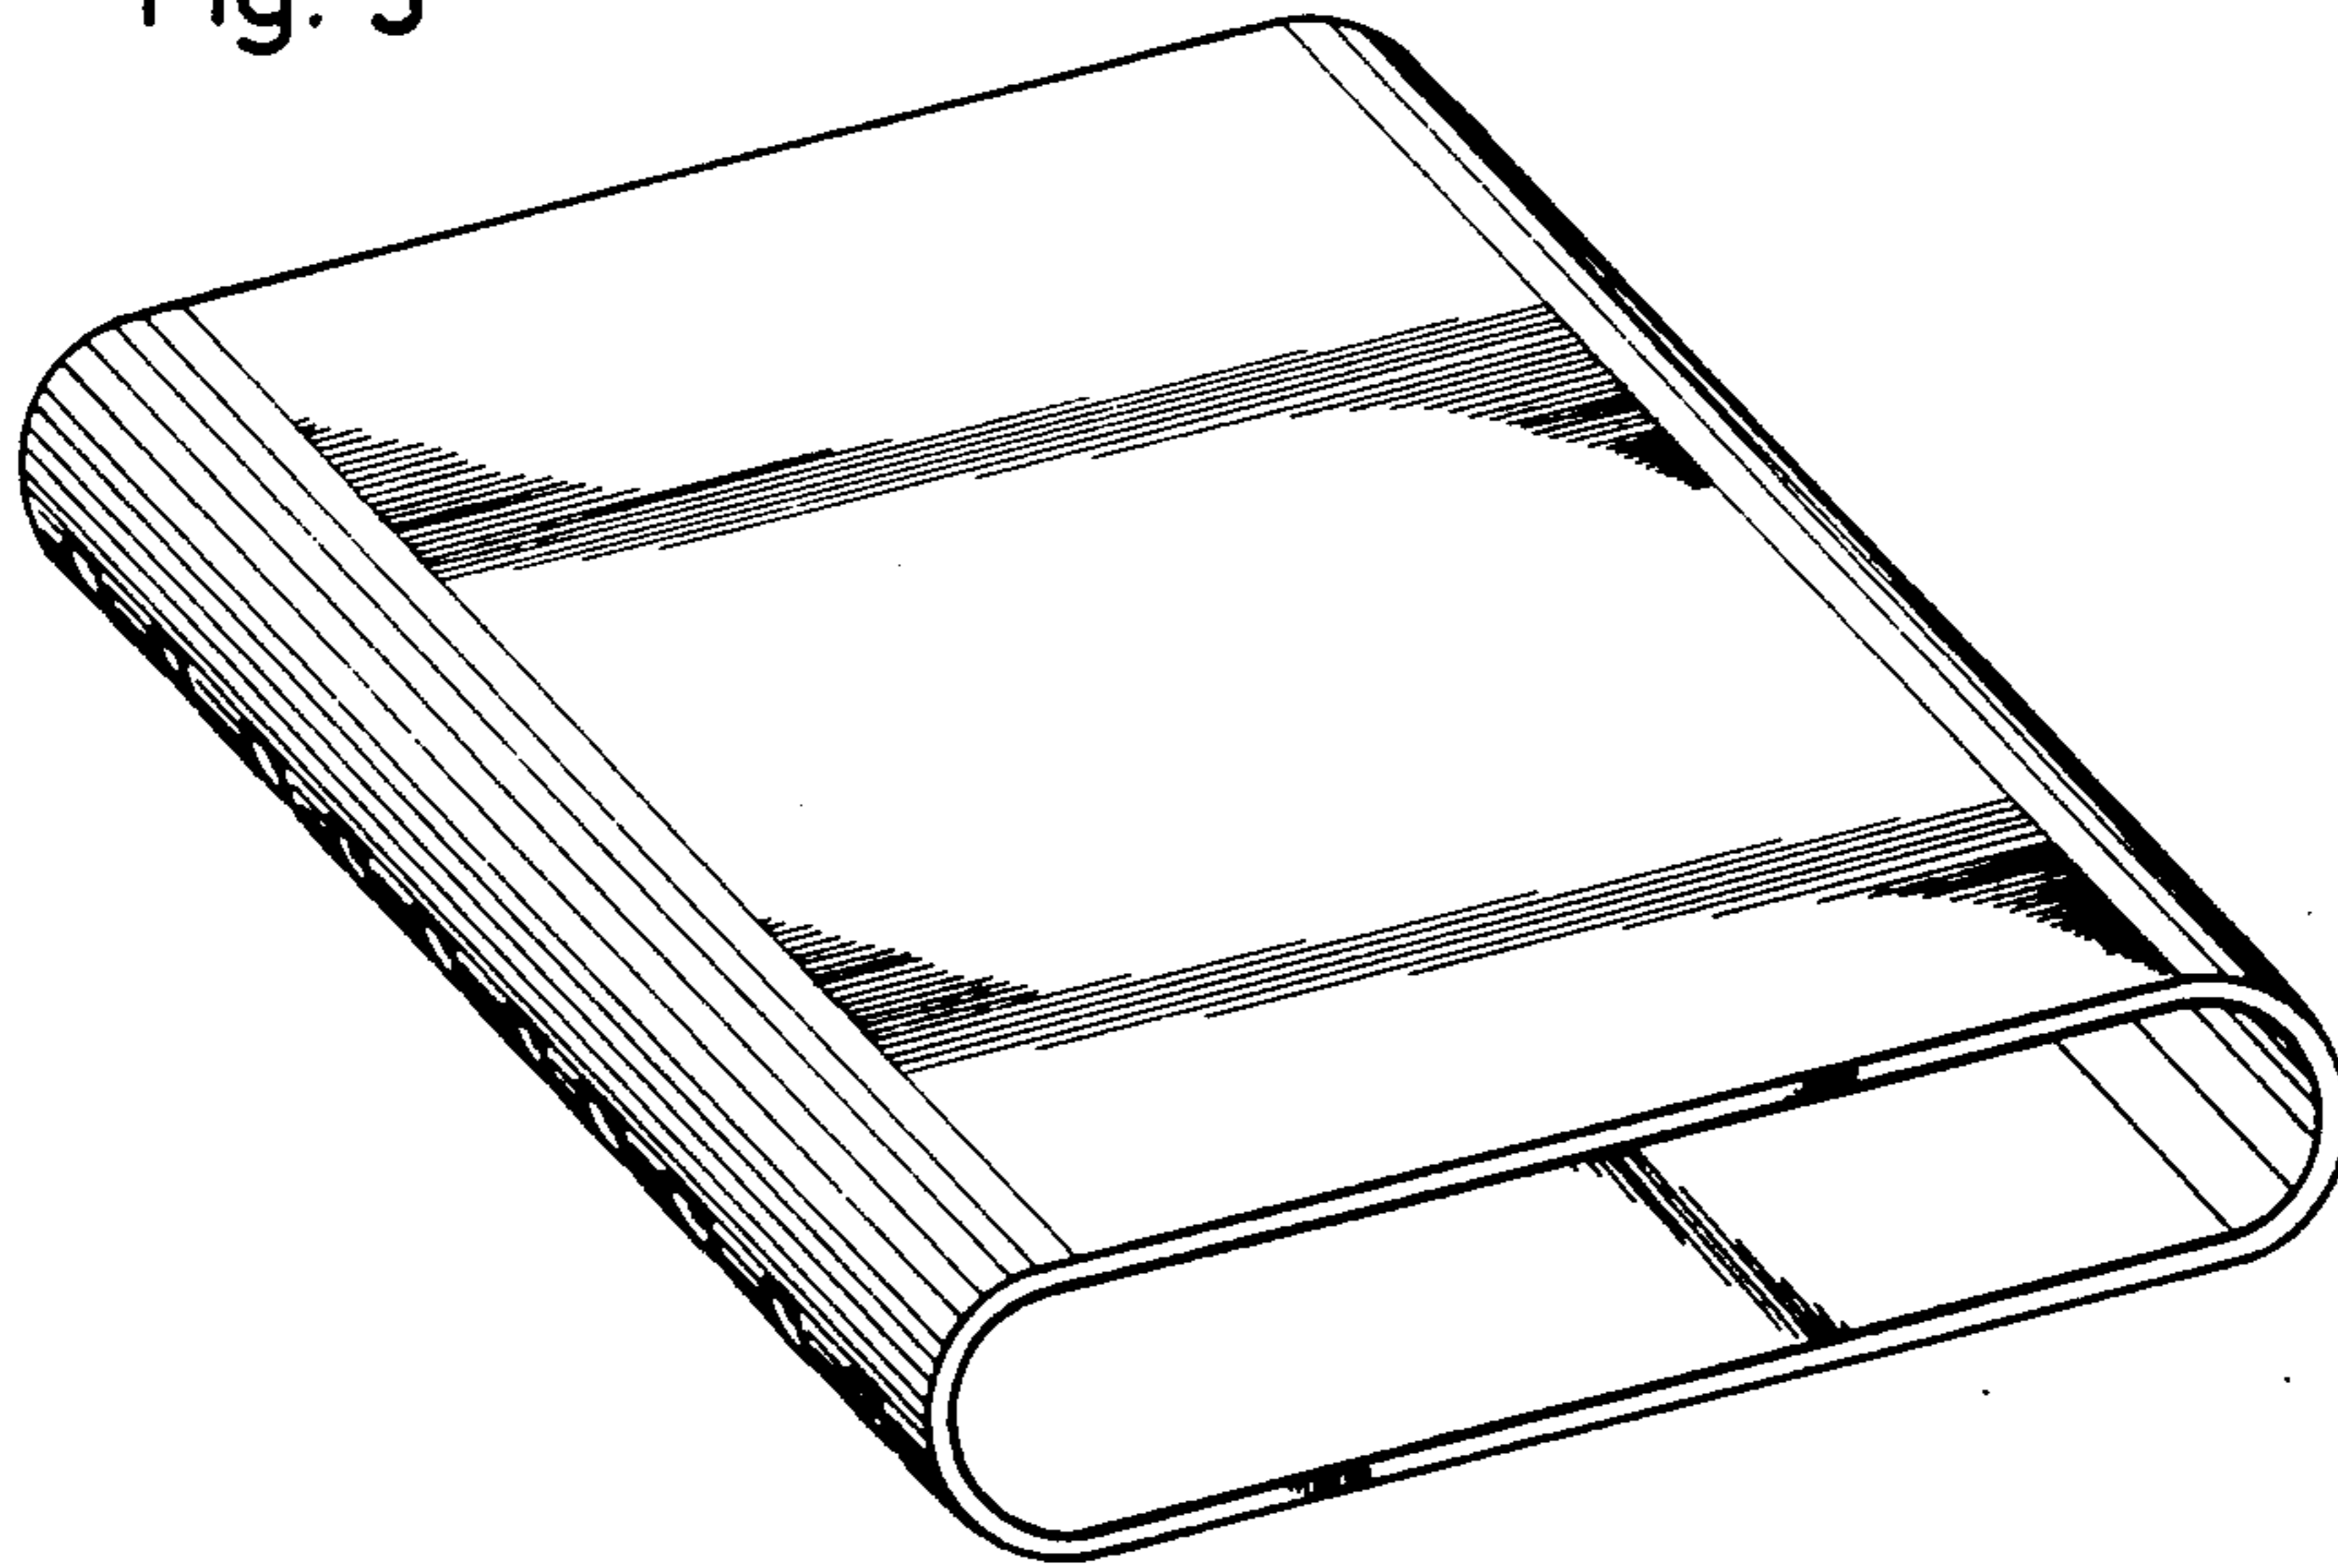

Fig. 4

