[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a vitreous panel for a storm door or the like, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front elevation of a vitreous panel for a storm door or the like, in which angular hatching is employed to indicate transparency of unornamented areas of the panel, and

FIG. 2 is an enlarged detail of an ornamental figure which is a component of the design and is repeated adjacent the corners of the panel embodying the design. The rear view of the panel is identical with that illustrated in FIG. 1, the panel being of conventional thickness.
