[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a rosary, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front elevational view of a rosary showing my new design, a cross at the bottom being represented by dashed lines and not claimed as part of the design; the continuous bead configuration being indicated by dot-dash line in portions for convenience of illustration; FIG. 2 is an enlarged partial front view of the rosary of FIG. 1;

FIG. 3 is a top plan view of the central bead of FIG. 2; FIG. 4 is a rear elevational view of the bead of FIG. 3; FIG. 5 is a side view of the bead of FIG. 4, looking from the left of FIG. 4, the opposite side view being substantially identical;

FIG. 6 is a sectional view of the bead of FIG. 4 taken along the line 6—6;

FIG. 7 is a rear elevational view of the next to bottom bead of FIG. 2;

FIG. 8 is a top plan view of the bead of FIG. 7, the bottom view being substantially identical;

FIG. 9 is a side view of the bead of FIG. 7 the opposite side view being substantially identical, dot-dash lines indicating that bead panels may contain small designs of a religious nature, which designs are not part of the ornamental design in this application and are illustrative of environment only.
