[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for the partition unit, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front elevational view of a partition unit embodying my new design, the rear being substantially a mirror image thereof.

FIG. 2 is a side elevational view taken from the right of FIG. 1.

FIG. 3 is a front elevational view of a second embodiment of the design of FIG. 1, wherein the only differences are the inclusion of two partition units, and an end cap on the left end; the rear being substantially a mirror image thereof.

FIG. 4 is a side elevational view taken from the left of FIG. 3.

FIG. 6 is a bottom plan view of FIG. 3.

FIG. 7 is a perspective view of a third embodiment of the design of FIG. 1, wherein the only differences are the inclusion of plural partition units, an end cap on the left end, a corner post in the center, and the omission of feet; the third embodiment being shown broken away to indicate indeterminate length.

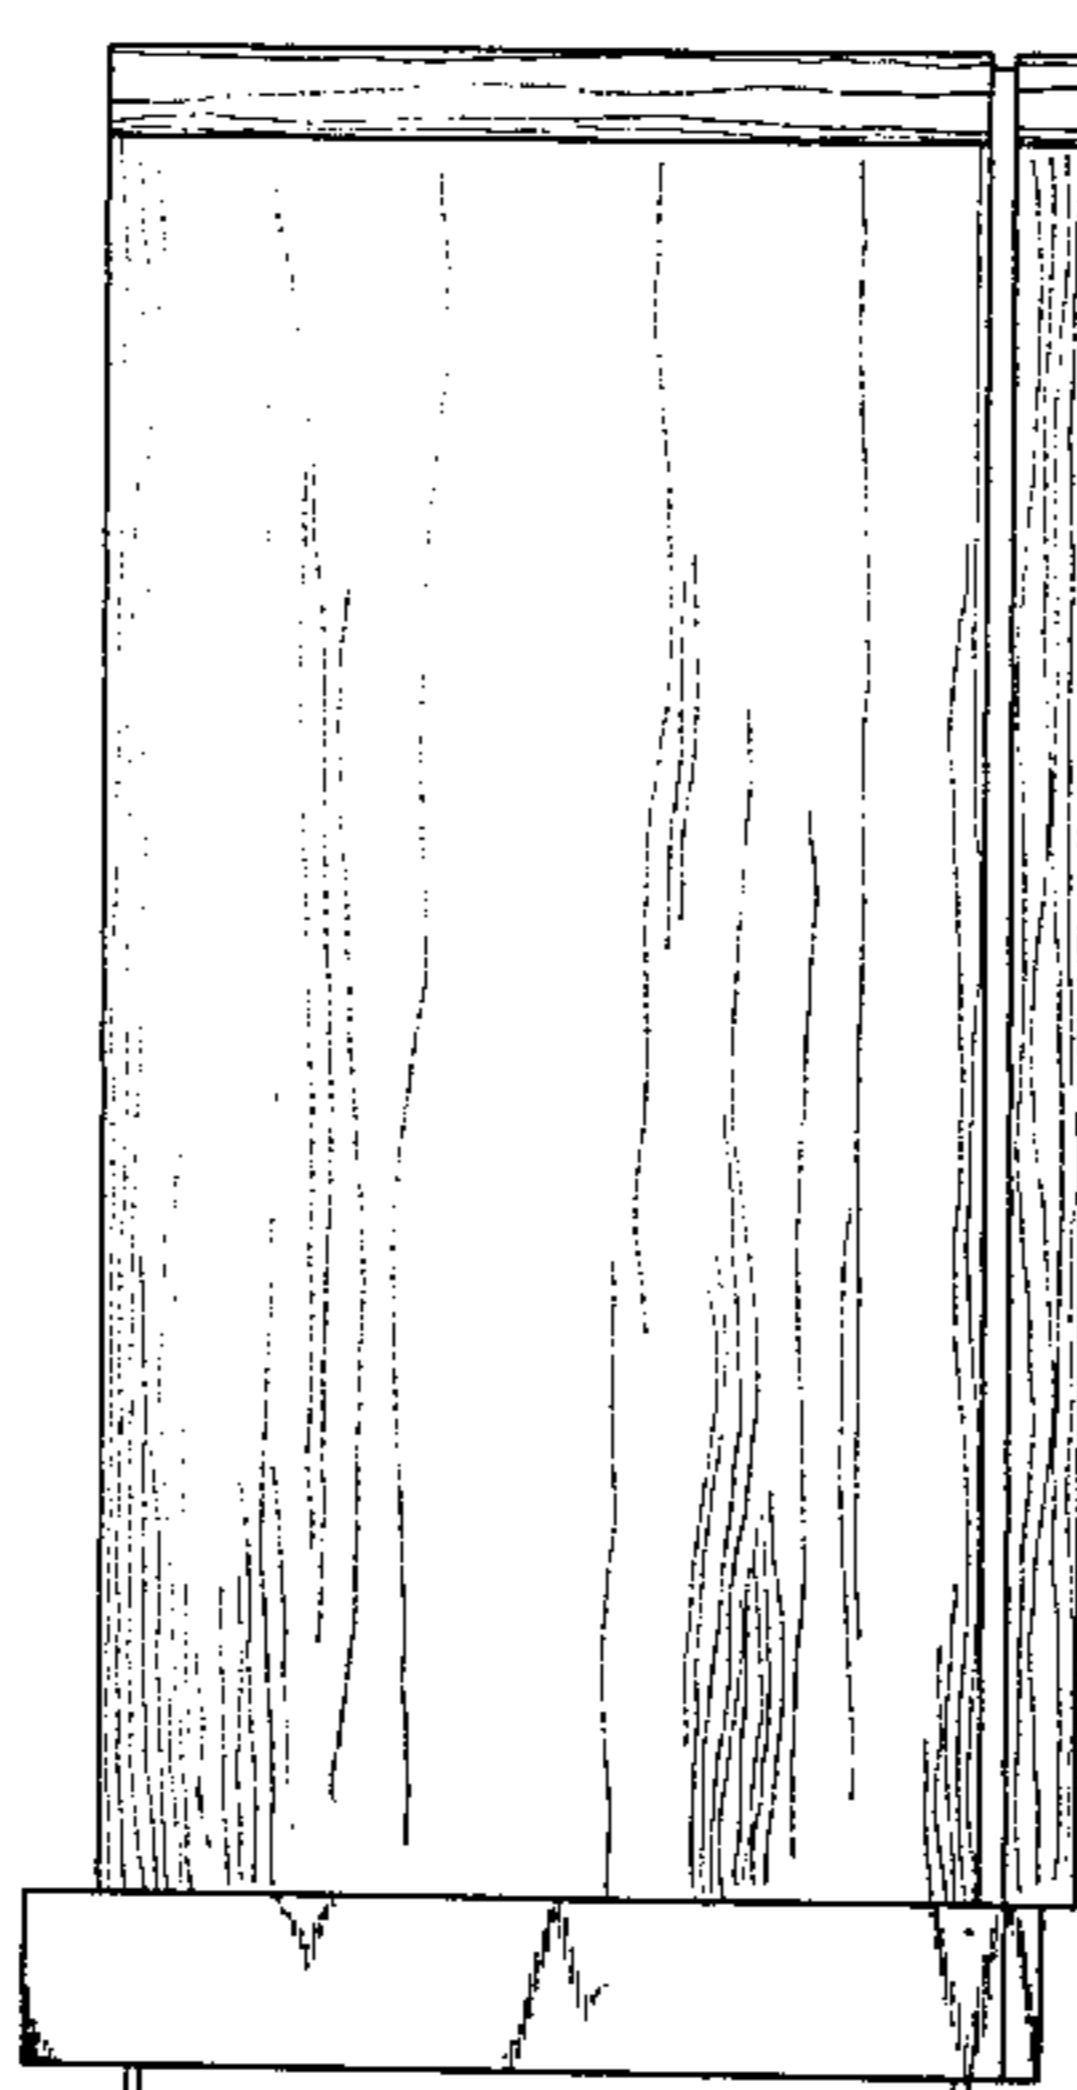

FIG. 8 is an enlarged fragmentary perspective view of the corner post of FIG. 7.

FIG. 9 is a fragmentary, top plan view of FIG. 8.

FIG. 10 is a front elevational view of a fourth embodiment of the design of FIG. 1, wherein the only differences are the inclusion of two partition units, an end cap on the left end, and the use of an upholstered surface; the rear being substantially a mirror image thereof.

FIG. 11 is a side elevational view taken from the left of FIG. 10.

FIG. 12 is an enlarged fragmentary perspective view of the end cap of FIG. 10.
