[57] CLAIM
The ornamental design for a resuscitator for newborn animals, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION
FIG. 1 is a side elevation view of a resuscitator for newborn animals showing my new design;
FIG. 2 is a left-hand end view thereof; and
FIG. 3 is a right-hand end view thereof.
Except for the appearance of the hexagonal nut in FIG.
1, the appearance of the elevation view of the design as shown in FIG. 1 is the same when viewed from any angle about the longitudinal axis thereof. The plate between the bellows and the central member is plain on both sides; the surface of the right end of the central member adjacent the hexagonal nut is plain; and the surface of the left-hand end of the right-hand member is plain.
