[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a skeletal spinal bone-shaped telephone set, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of a skeletal spinal bone-shaped telephone set showing my new design with the handset and base unit having respectively the shape of first and second human spine cervical segments, and with the units separated for clarity of illustration;

FIG. 2 is a top plan view thereof with the handset cradled upon the base unit;

FIG. 3 is a right side elevational view thereof;

FIG. 4 is a bottom plan view thereof;

FIG. 5 is a left side elevational view thereof; and

FIGS. 6 and 7 are respectively front and rear elevational views thereof.

The cord is shown in fragmentary form connected by broken lines in FIGS. 1-5 for facility of illustration.
