[57] CLAIM

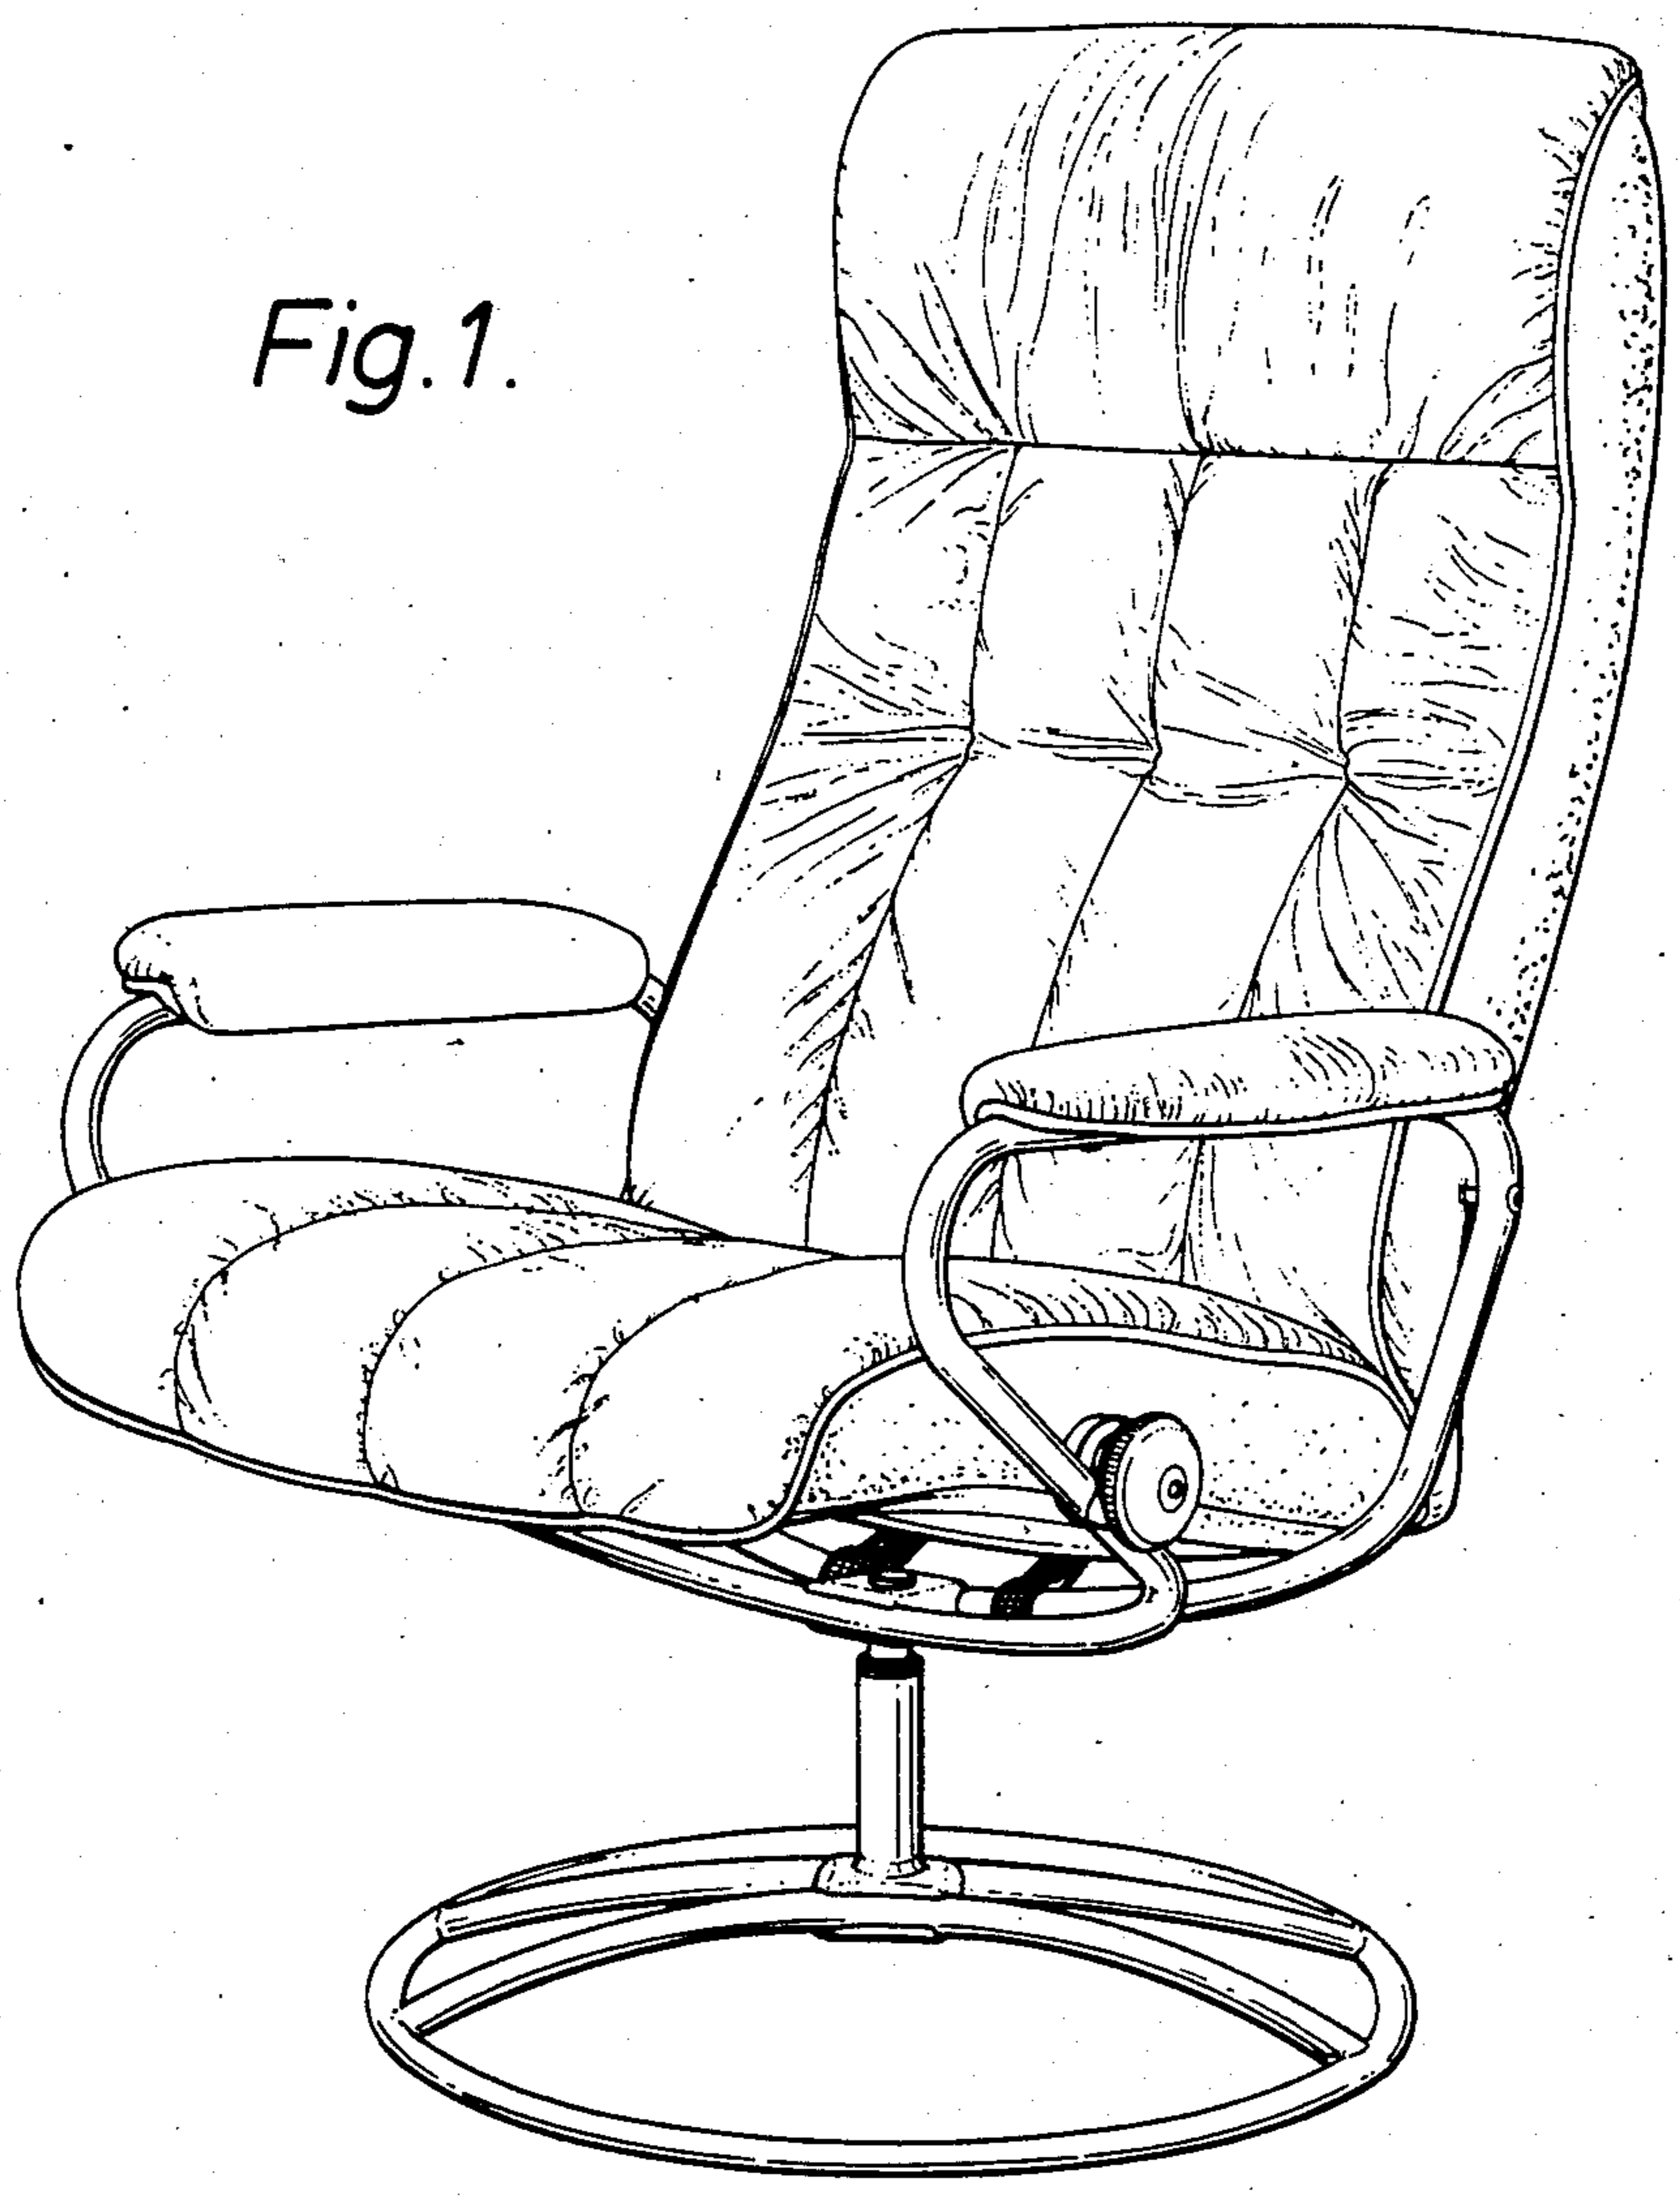

The ornamental design of an adjustable chair, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front perspective view of an adjustable chair embodying our new design; FIG. 2 is a rear perspective view; FIG. 3 is a bottom plan view; and FIG. 4 is a perspective view wherein the chair has been adjusted to an alternate position. The invention is characterized by the combination of the specific configurations of the seat and back rest supports in association with relatively thin arm rest members all as best seen in FIGS. 1 and 2.
