[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a draw latch, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a top plan view of a draw latch showing our new design;

FIG. 2 is a left side elevational view thereof, the right side being a mirror image of that shown;

FIG. 3 is a front elevational view thereof;

FIG. 4 is a rear elevational view thereof;

FIG. 5 is a top plan view thereof, with the latch shown in an open position;

FIG. 6 is a left side elevational view thereof, with the latch shown in an open position;

FIG. 7 is a top plan view of a second embodiment thereof, shown in an open position, the only difference from the first embodiment residing in the inclusion of a spring member and support;

FIG. 8 is a left side elevational view of a third embodiment thereof, the only difference from the first embodiment residing in the configuration of the anchor mount;

FIG. 9 is a left side elevational view of a fourth embodiment thereof, the only difference from the second embodiment residing in the configuration of the anchor mount;

FIG. 10 is a top plan view of a fifth embodiment of a draw latch showing our new design;

FIG. 11 is a left side elevational view thereof, the right side being a mirror image of that shown;

FIG. 12 is a front elevational view thereof;

FIG. 13 is a rear elevational view thereof;

FIG. 14 is a top plan view thereof, with the latch shown in an open position;

FIG. 15 is a left side elevational view thereof, with the latch shown in an open position;

FIG. 16 is a top plan view of a sixth embodiment thereof, shown in an open position, the only difference from that of the fifth embodiment residing in the inclusion of a spring member and support;

FIG. 17 is a left side elevational view of a seventh embodiment thereof, the only difference from that of the fifth embodiment residing in the configuration of the anchor mount; and,

FIG. 18 is a left side elevational view of an eighth embodiment thereof, the only difference from the sixth embodiment residing in the configuration of the anchor mount.

The broken-line disclosure of a portion of a surface in the views is for illustrative purposes only and forms no part of the claimed design.
