[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a free standing computer and phone station, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of a free standing computer and phone station, showing our new design, and in particular the front thereof configured for utilization by a seated computer user;

FIG. 2 is a perspective view of the computer and phone station of FIG. 1, showing our new design, and in particular, the rear thereof configured for utilization by a standing computer user;

FIG. 3 is a rear elevation view of the free standing computer and phone station of FIGS. 1 and 2;

FIG. 4 is a front elevation view of the free standing computer and phone station of FIGS. 1 and 2;

FIG. 5 is a side elevation view of the free standing computer and phone station of FIGS. 1 and 2 taken from the right hand side of FIG. 3 showing one phone set thereof used by a standing caller;

FIG. 6 is a side elevation view of the free standing computer and phone station of FIGS. 1 and 2 taken from the left hand side of FIG. 3 showing the other phone set thereof also used by a standing caller;

FIG. 7 is a top plan view of the free standing computer and phone station of FIGS. 1 and 2;

FIG. 8 is a bottom plan view of the free standing computer and phone station of FIGS. 1 and 2;

FIG. 9 is a fragmentary front elevational view of a second embodiment of that shown in FIGS. 1-8, the only difference being in the shape of the upper cap;

FIG. 10 is a fragmentary right side elevational view of the second embodiment shown in FIG. 9; and,

FIG. 11 is a fragmentary perspective view of the second embodiment shown in FIG. 9, the two sides of the upper cap not shown being the same in appearance as the two sides shown.
