[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a peg of a stringed instrument, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a top right perspective view of a peg for a stringed instrument according to a first embodiment of the present invention;

FIG. 2 is a view taken from the bottom and the left of the peg for a stringed instrument of FIG. 1;

FIG. 3 is a plan view of the first embodiment;

FIG. 4 is a bottom view of the first embodiment;

FIG. 5 is a front view of the first embodiment;

FIG. 6 is a rear view of the first embodiment;

FIG. 7 is a right side view of the peg for a stringed instrument according to the first embodiment;

FIG. 8 is a left side view of the peg for a stringed instrument according to the first embodiment;

FIG. 9 is a top right perspective view of a peg for a stringed instrument according to a second embodiment of the present invention, the second embodiment differing primarily from the first embodiment in the fact that the heart-shaped knob is at least partially translucent;

FIG. 10 is a bottom left perspective view of the second embodiment according to the present invention;

FIG. 11 is a plan view of the second embodiment;

FIG. 12 is a bottom view according to the second embodiment;

FIG. 13 is a front view of the second embodiment;

FIG. 14 is a rear view of the second embodiment;

FIG. 15 is a right side view of the second embodiment; and,

FIG. 16 is a left side view of the second embodiment.

The two embodiments according to the design of the present invention differ primarily in that in the first embodiment the heart-like shaped knob is not translucent, wherein in the second embodiment the heart-like shaped knob is at least partially translucent.
