[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a magnetic resonance imaging apparatus, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view looking from the front of the magnetic resonance imaging apparatus showing our new design;

FIG. 2 is a front elevational view, the rear elevational view being identical to the front elevational view; and,

FIG. 3 is a right side elevational view, the left side elevational view being identical to the right side elevational view. The top and bottom surfaces are flat and devoid of ornamentation.

Broken line detail is provided in the figures to show the environment in which the claimed design is associated and is itself not part of the claimed design.
