[57] CLAIM

The ornamental design for a three dimensional landscaped chess board, as shown.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of a first embodiment of a three dimensional landscaped chess board:

FIG. 2 is a right elevation view thereof; the left elevation view is a mirror image of the right, and therefore is not shown:

FIG. 3 is a top plan view thereof; the bottom view of the three dimensional landscaped chess board contains no ornamental features, and therefore is not shown:

FIG. 4 is a front elevation view thereof; the rear elevation view is a mirror image of the front, and therefore is not shown.

FIG. 5 is a perspective view of a second embodiment of a three dimensional landscaped chess board:

FIG. 6 is a right elevation view thereof; the left elevation view is a mirror image of the right, and therefore is not shown:

FIG. 7 is a front elevation view thereof; the rear elevation view is a mirror image of the front, and therefore is not shown; the top and bottom view thereof are identical to the first embodiment, and therefore are not shown.

FIG. 8 is a perspective view of a third embodiment of a three dimensional landscaped chess board:

FIG. 9 is a right elevation view thereof; the left, front and rear elevation views are a mirror image of the right, and therefore are not shown; the top and bottom views thereof are identical to the first embodiment, and therefore are not shown.

FIG. 10 is a perspective view of a fourth embodiment of a three dimensional landscaped chess board:

FIG. 11 is a right elevation view thereof: the left, front and rear elevation views are a mirror image of the right, and therefore are not shown; the top and bottom views thereof are identical to the first embodiment, and therefore are not shown.

FIG. 12 is a perspective view of a fifth embodiment of a three dimensional landscaped chess board:

FIG. 13 is a right elevation view thereof; the left, front and rear elevation views are a mirror image of the right, and therefore are not shown; the top and bottom views thereof are identical to the first embodiment, and therefore are not shown.

FIG. 14 is a perspective view of a sixth embodiment of a three dimensional landscaped chess board:

FIG. 15 is a right elevation view thereof; the left elevation view is a mirror image of the right, and therefore is not shown:

FIG. 16 is a front elevation view thereof; the rear elevation view is a mirror image of the front, and therefore is not shown; the top and bottom view thereof are identical to the first embodiment, and therefore are not shown.

FIG. 17 is a perspective view of a seventh embodiment of a three dimensional landscaped chess board:

FIG. 18 is a right elevation view thereof; the left, front and rear elevation views are a mirror image of the right, and therefore are not shown; the top and bottom views thereof are identical to the first embodiment, and therefore are not shown.

FIG. 19 is a perspective view of an eighth embodiment of a three dimensional landscaped chess board:

FIG. 20 is a right elevation view thereof; the left elevation view is a mirror image of the right, and therefore is not shown; and,

FIG. 21 is a front elevation view thereof; the rear elevation view is a mirror image of the front, and therefore is not shown; the top and bottom view thereof are identical to the first embodiment, and therefore are not shown.
