(57) CLAIM

What is claimed is the ornamental design for a duct assembly with connecting stations, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front elevation of the duct assembly with connecting stations of Applicants' invention.

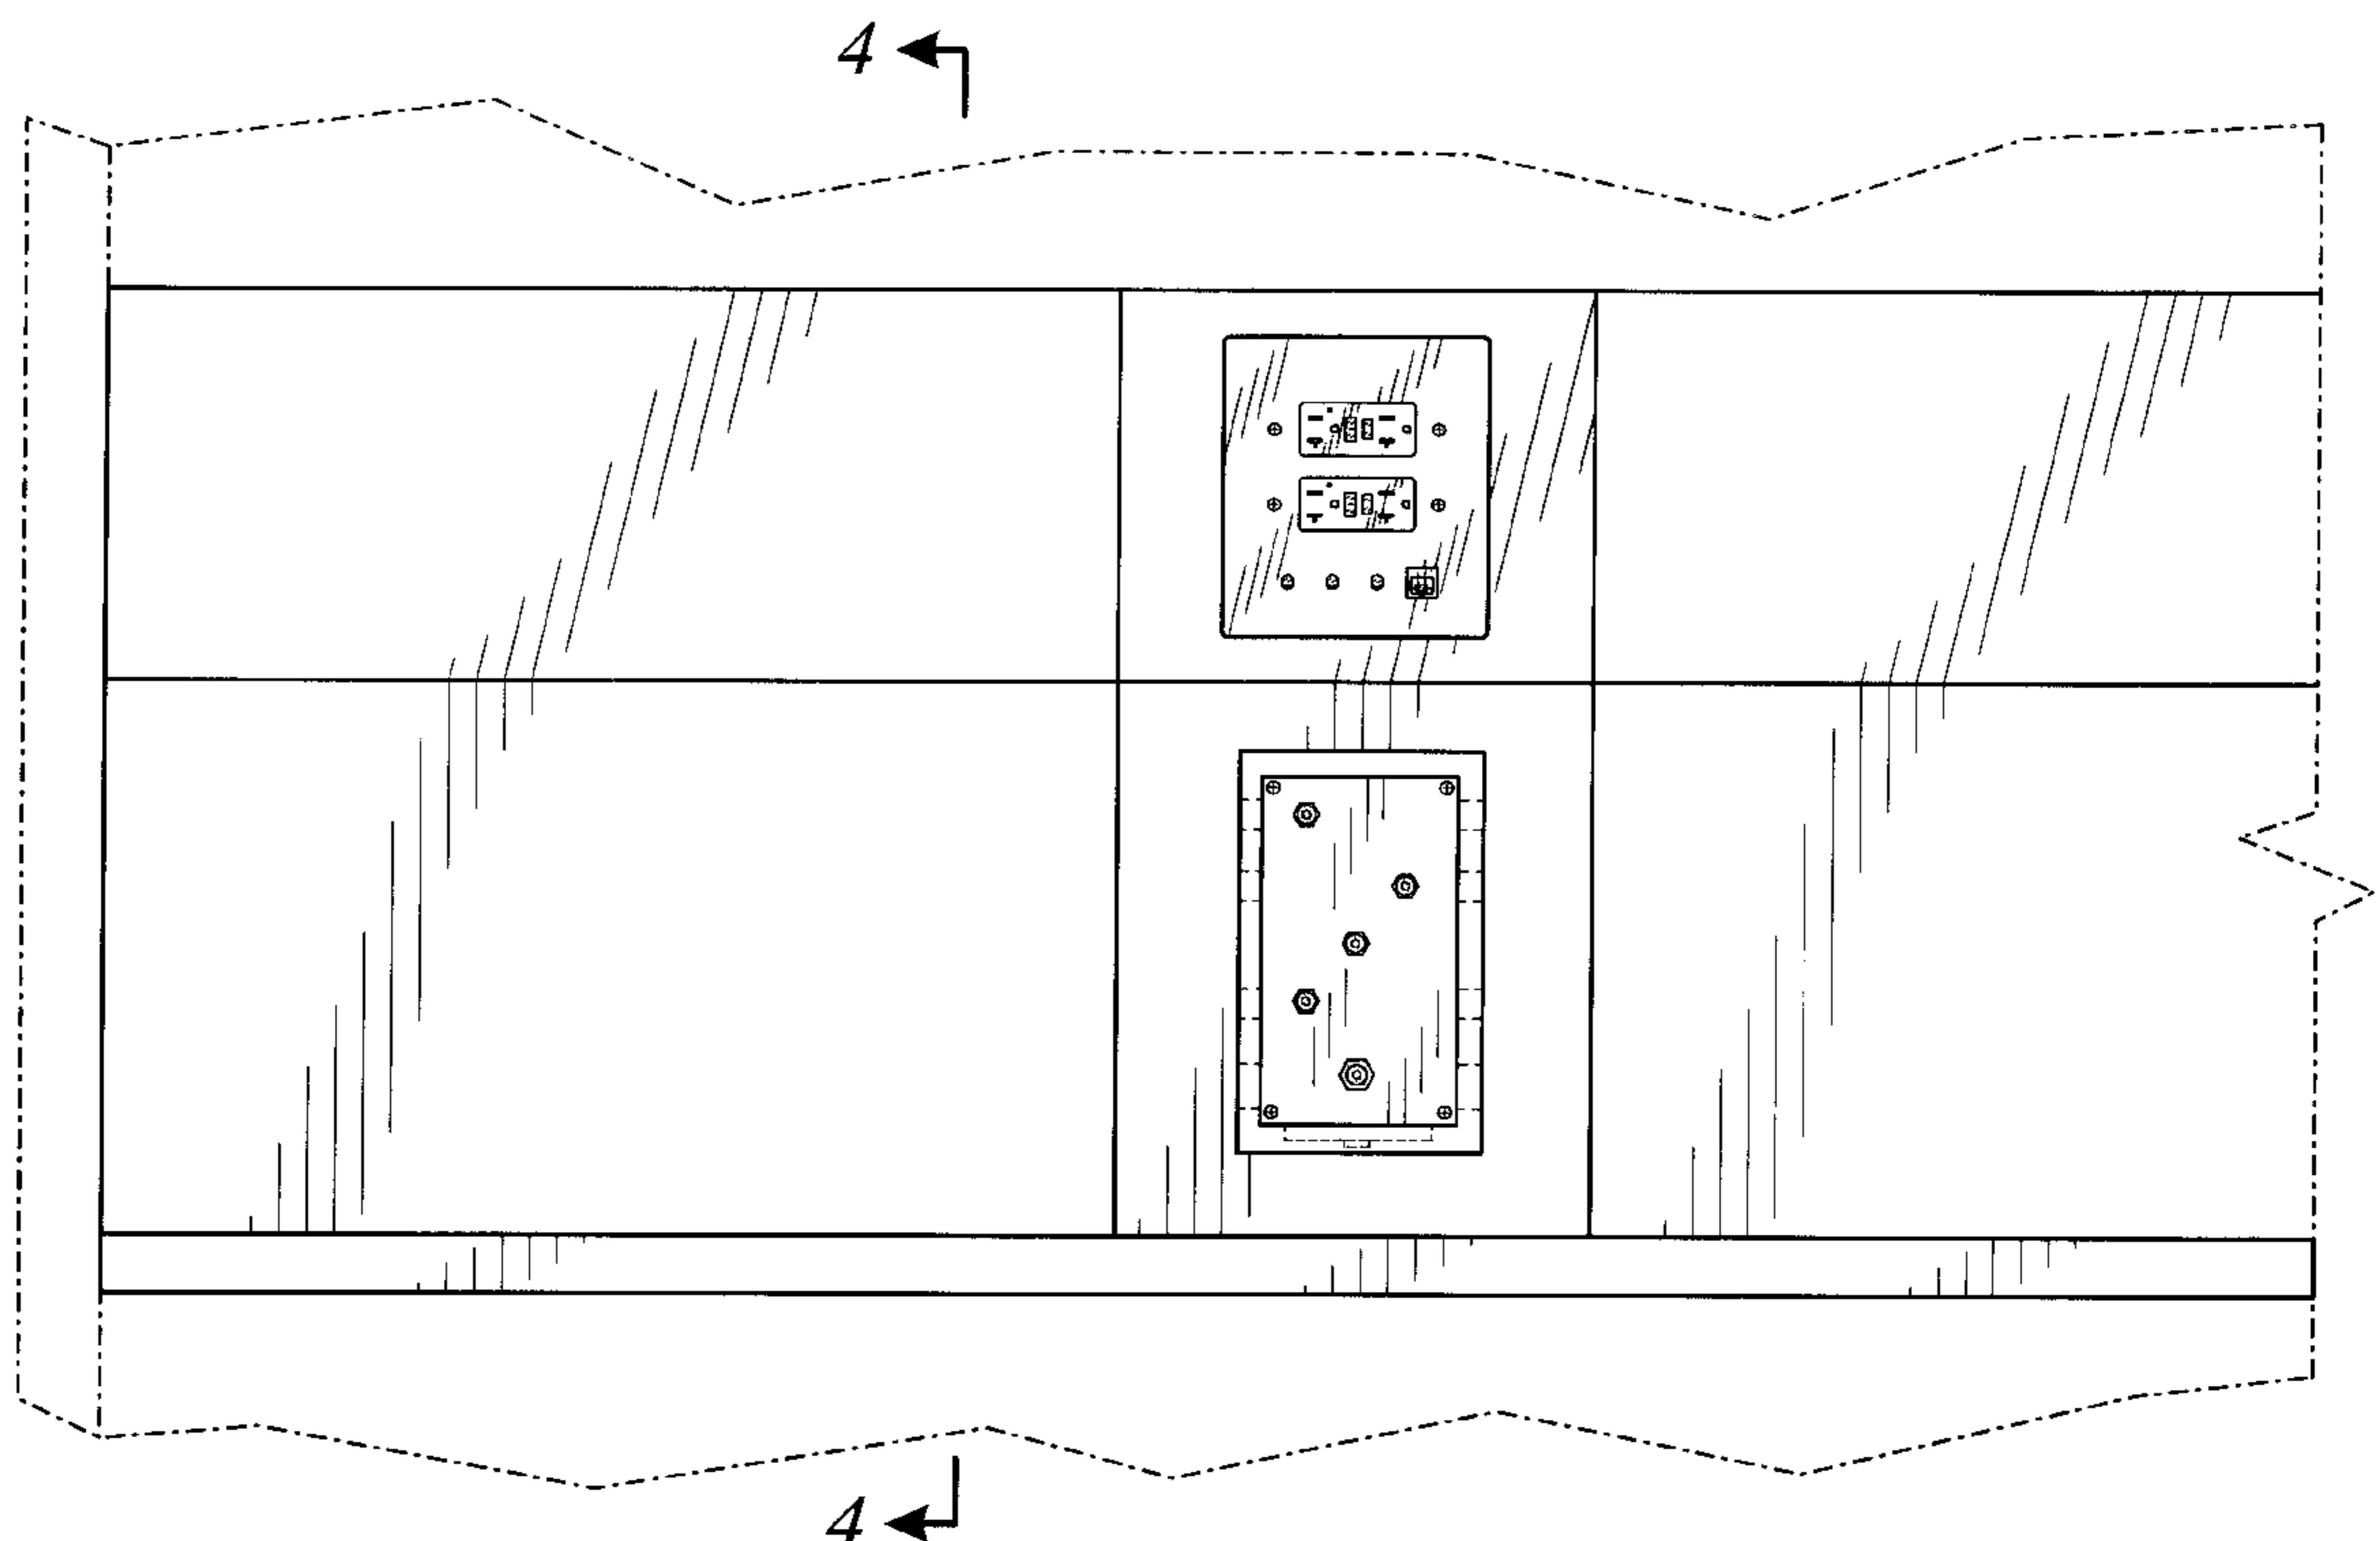

FIG. 2 is a top view of the duct assembly with connecting stations of Applicants' invention.

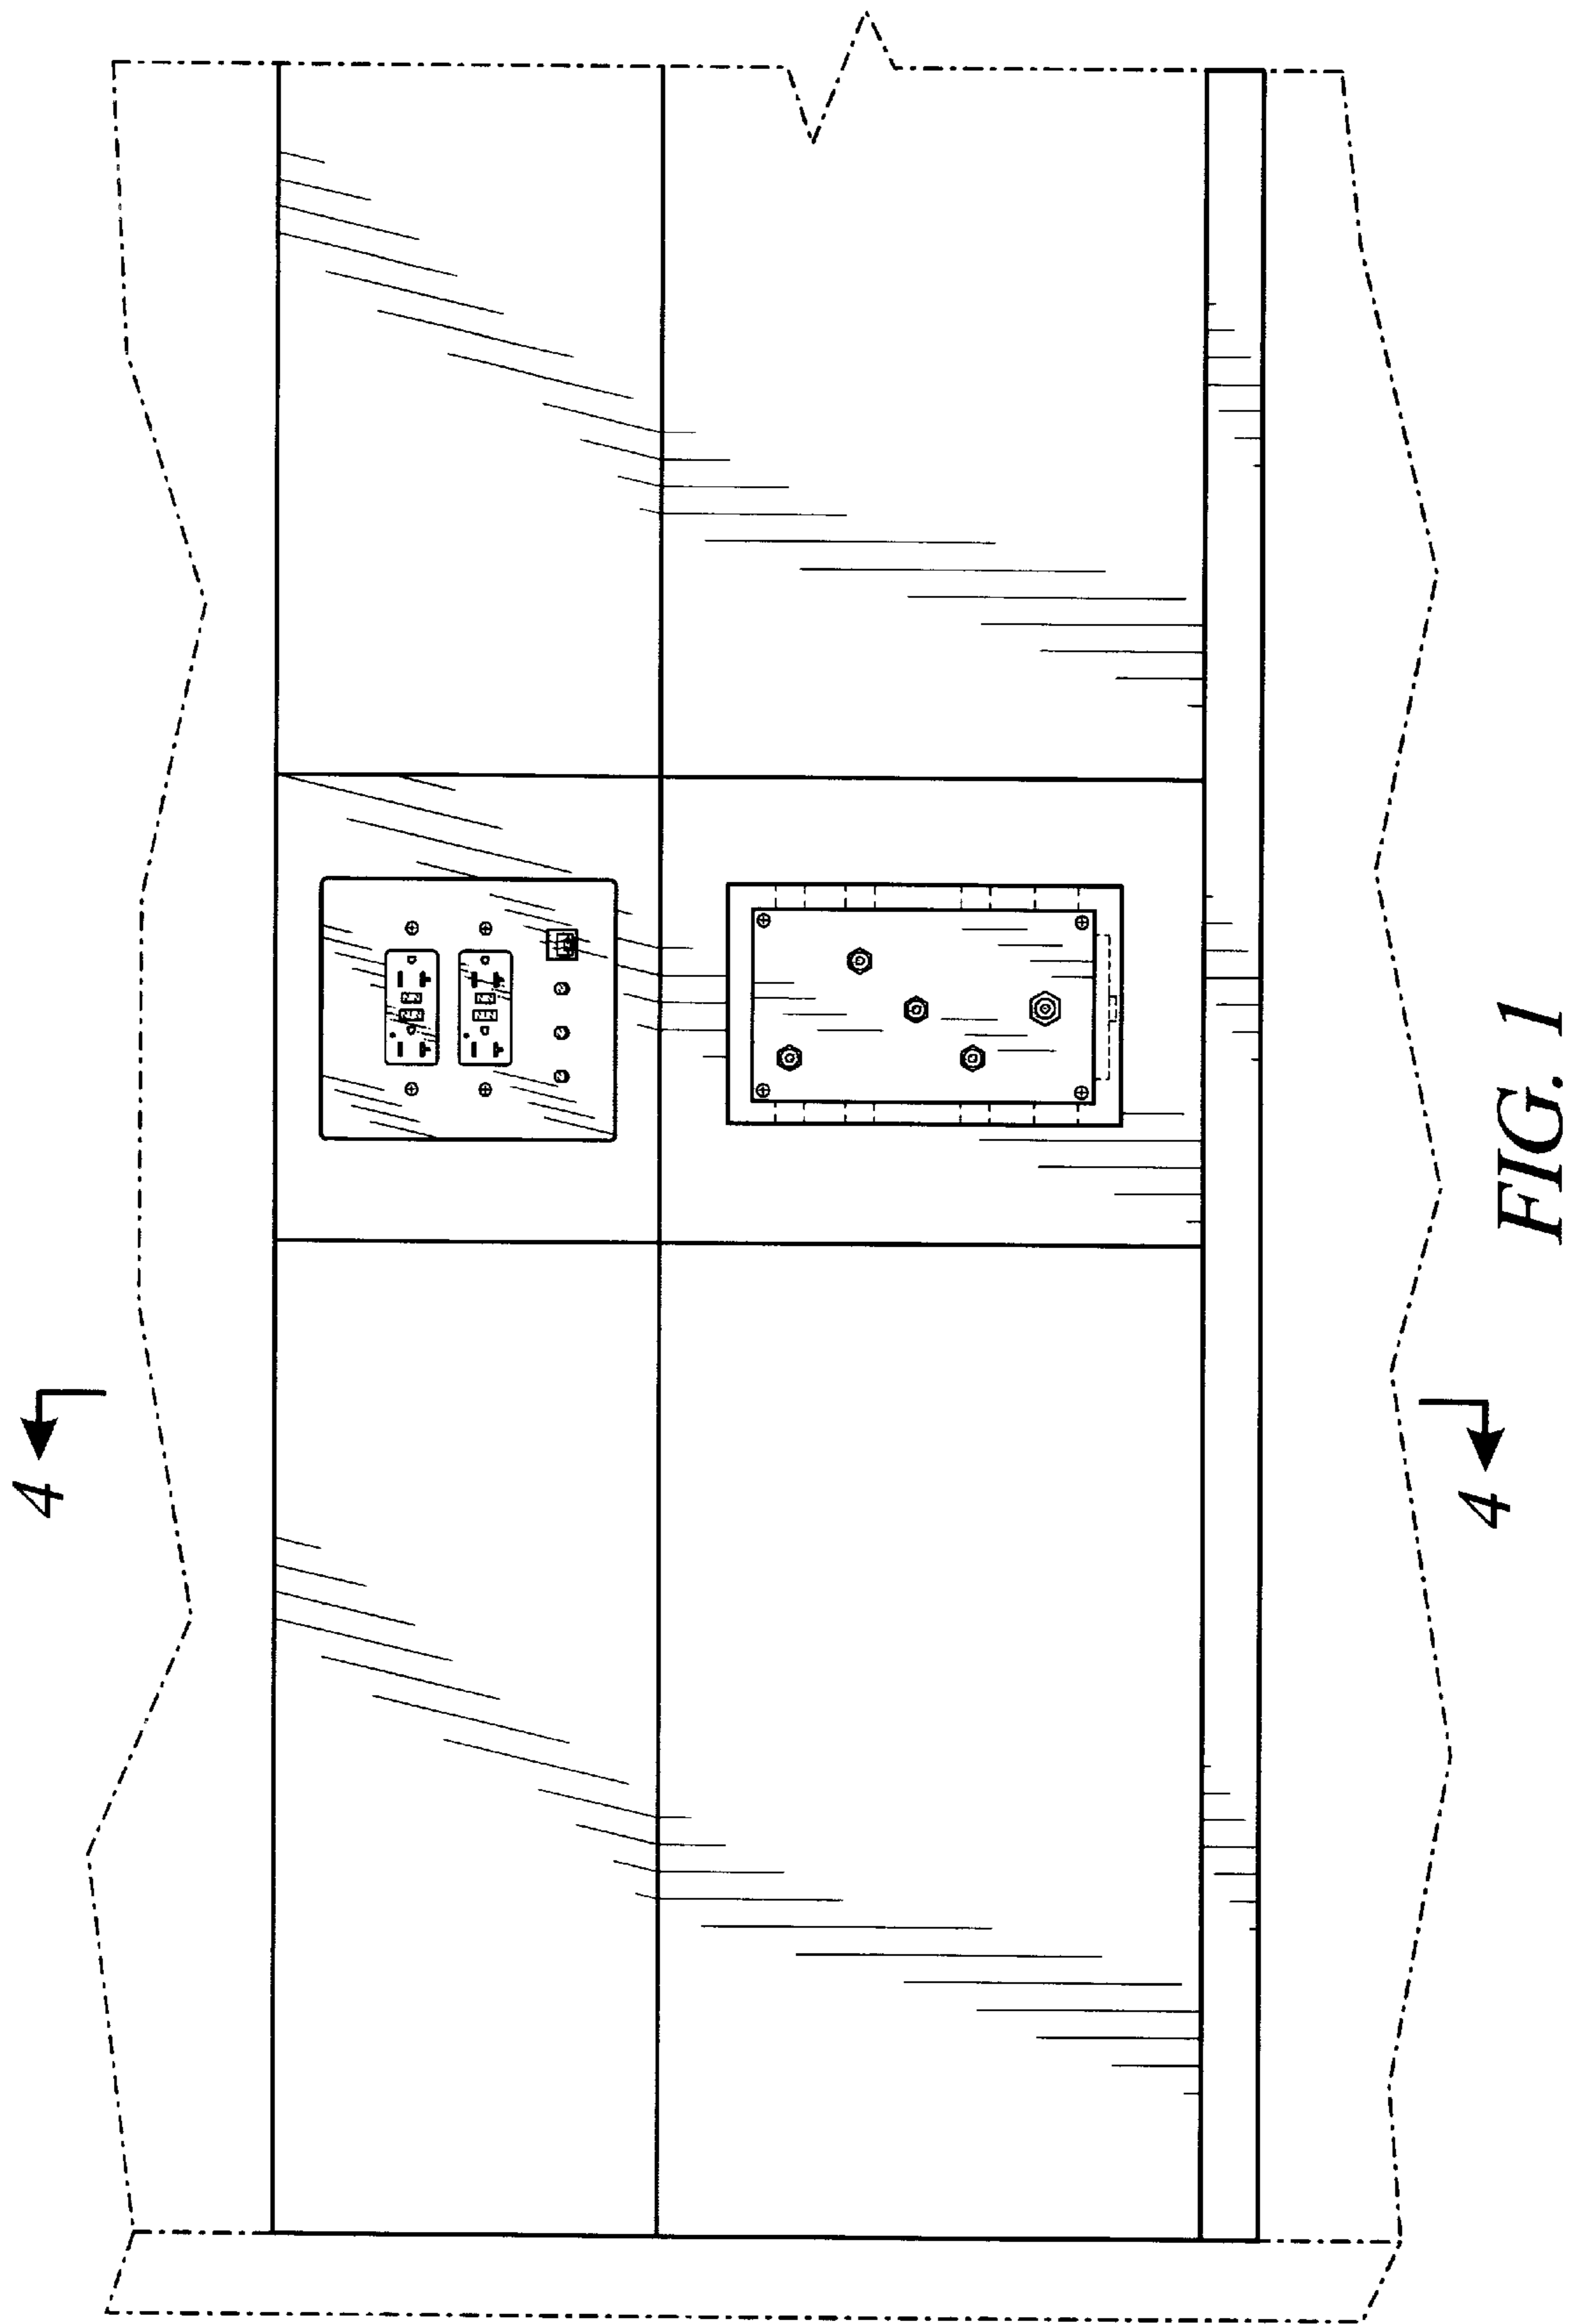

FIG. 3 is a bottom view of the duct assembly with connecting stations of Applicants' invention; and,

FIG. 4 is a sectioned elevation view, taken along line 4—4 of FIG. 1, of the duct assembly with connecting stations of Applicants' invention. FIG. 4 is provided merely to better show the outer profile of the invention, the interior plumbing not being part of the invention.

There is no rear view or end view shown, the same being unornamented and not visible in normal use of the invention. The dashed lines are provided to show surrounding background and are not a part of the design.
