(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a handle, as shown.

DESCRIPTION

The present design relates to a handle of a streamlined design.

The handle has a grip portion of a slight arcuate profile to facilitate the easy holding of the grip portion with hand. The grip portion has an octagonal cross section, which is different from the cross sections of the conventional handles. The handle of the present design is provided with an overall esthetic effect to gain simplicity and marketability.
