CLAIM

The ornamental design for surface pattern for paper product and package, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a top plan view of surface pattern for paper product and package showing our new design;

FIG. 2 is a top plan view thereof, shown broken away;

FIG. 3 is a top plan view thereof, showing another broken away configuration;

FIG. 4 is a top plan view thereof, showing another broken away configuration;

FIG. 5 is a top plan view thereof, showing a different angular orientation to the broken lines;

FIG. 6 is a top plan view of a second embodiment of our new design;

FIG. 7 is a top plan view thereof, shown broken away;

FIG. 8 is a top plan view thereof, showing another broken away configuration;

FIG. 9 is a top plan view thereof, showing another broken away configuration;

FIG. 10 is a top plan view thereof, showing a different angular orientation to the broken lines;

FIG. 11 is a top plan view of a third embodiment of our new design;

FIG. 12 is a top plan view thereof, shown broken away;

FIG. 13 is a top plan view thereof, showing another broken away configuration;

FIG. 14 is a top plan view thereof, showing another broken away configuration;

FIG. 15 is a top plan view thereof, showing a different angular orientation to the broken lines;

FIG. 16 is a top plan view of a fourth embodiment of our new design;

FIG. 17 is a top plan view thereof, shown broken away;

FIG. 18 is a top plan view thereof, showing another broken away configuration;

FIG. 19 is a top plan view thereof, showing another broken away configuration; and,

FIG. 20 is a top plan view thereof, showing a different angular orientation to the broken lines.

In the drawings, the broken lines represent the boundaries of the claimed pattern as well as the boundaries of the portion of a paper product to which the pattern is applied. The broken lines form no part of the claimed design.

In FIGS. 2, 7, 12, and 17, the paper product is shown broken away to indicate that the paper product has indeterminate length.

In FIGS. 3, 8, 13, and 18, the paper product is shown broken away to indicate that the paper product has indeterminate width.

In FIGS. 4, 9, 14, and 19, the paper product is shown broken away to indicate that the paper product has indeterminate length and width.
