(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a rosary, as shown and described.

1 Claim, 3 Drawing Sheets

FIG. 1 is a front elevation view of a first embodiment of a rosary showing my new design, the opposite side being a mirror image thereof;

FIG. 2 is a cross-sectional view of a bead as taken along line 2—2 in FIG. 1;

FIG. 3 is a cross-sectional view of a bead as taken along line 3—3 in FIG. 1;

FIG. 4 is an enlarged partial front elevational view of a second embodiment of a rosary showing my new design, the rosary is partially drawn for ease of illustration, the opposite side is a mirror image;

FIG. 5 is a partial front elevational view of a third embodiment of a rosary showing my new design, the rosary is partially drawn for ease of illustration, the opposite side is a mirror image;

FIG. 6 is a cross sectional view of a bead taken along line 6—6 of FIG. 5;

FIG. 7 is a partial front elevational view of a fourth embodiment of a rosary showing my new design, the rosary is partially drawn for ease of illustration, the opposite side is a mirror image;

FIG. 8 is a partial front elevational view of a fifth embodiment of a rosary showing my new design, the rosary is partially drawn for ease of illustration, the opposite side is a mirror image;

FIG. 9 is a top plan view of a cross bead of the rosary;

FIG. 10 is a bottom plan view of a cross bead of the rosary; and,

FIG. 11 is a side elevation view of a cross bead of the rosary, the opposite side being a mirror image thereof.

The broken line disclosure of the chain in FIGS. 1, 4, 5, 7, and 8 is for illustrative purposes only and forms no part of the claimed invention.
