(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for an independent for sign, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

A first embodiment of the claimed independent for sign, being made from flat, thin sheet material, is used in combination with one political campaign sign, for viewing from one direction, to indicate the political independence of the exhibitor of the political campaign sign, and the support of the exhibitor for the political candidate whose name and office sought are displayed on the political campaign sign.

A second embodiment of the claimed independent for sign, being made from flat, thin sheet material, is used in combination with two political campaign signs, for viewing from two directions, to indicate the political independence of the exhibitor of the political campaign signs, and the support of the exhibitor for the political candidate whose name and office sought are displayed on the political campaign signs.

FIG. 1 is a front elevational view of first and second embodiments of an independent for sign showing my new design, the rear elevational view of the second embodiment being identical to the view shown in this figure.

FIG. 2 is a rear elevational view of the first embodiment of an independent for sign showing my new design.

FIG. 3 is a top plan view of the first and second embodiments of an independent for sign showing my new design, the bottom plan view of the first and second embodiments being identical to the view shown in this figure.

FIG. 4 is a right side elevational view of the first and second embodiments of an independent for sign showing my new design, the left side elevational view of the first and second embodiments being identical to the view shown in this figure.

FIG. 5 is a front elevational view of the first embodiment of an independent for sign showing my new design used in combination with one political campaign sign, the front elevational view of the second embodiment of an independent for sign showing my new design used in combination with two political campaign signs being identical to the view shown in this figure, the rear elevational view of the second embodiment of an independent for sign showing my new design used in a combination with two political campaign signs being identical to the view shown in this figure.

FIG. 6 is a rear elevational view of the first embodiment of an independent for sign showing my new design used in combination with one political campaign sign.

FIG. 8 is a right side view of the first embodiment of an independent for sign showing my new design used in combination with one political campaign sign, the left elevational view being a mirror image of the view shown in this figure.

FIG. 9 is a top plan view of the second embodiment of an independent for sign showing my new design used in combination with two political campaign signs, the bottom plan view being identical to the view shown in this figure; and,

FIG. 10 is a right side elevational view of the second embodiment of an independent for sign showing my new design used in combination with two political campaign signs, the left side elevational view being identical to the view shown in this figure.
