borders of FIG. 1 depict boundaries of the claimed design. The broken line boundaries indicate that the product has indeterminate length and width, and that the surface pattern repeats uniformly throughout the length and width of the product. The broken lines form no part of the claimed design.

FIG. 2 is a cross-sectional view of the embossed paper product shown in FIG. 1 taken along the line 2—2; and, FIG. 3 is a cross-sectional view of the embossed paper product shown in FIG. 1 taken along the line 3—3.
