(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a holder for an information marker, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of the holder for an information marker showing our new design, the hanger body being shown in dotted lines for purposes of illustrating the environment and forming no part of the claimed design;

FIG. 2 is a rear view thereof, the front view being the same but oriented in the opposite direction as if the hanger were rotated 180° about its vertical axis;

FIG. 3 is a left side elevation view thereof looking directly at the holder for an information marker, with the holder for an information marker being hidden by the hanger body in the right side elevation, top and bottom views;

FIG. 4 is a rear view thereof with an information marker shown attached to the holder of the invention, the information marker shown in dotted lines for purposes of illustrating use of the holder and forming no part of the claimed design;

FIG. 5 is a perspective view of an alternative embodiment of a holder for an information marker showing our new design, the hanger body being shown in dotted lines for purposes of illustrating the environment and forming no part of the claimed design;

FIG. 6 is a rear view thereof, the front view being the same but oriented in the opposite direction as if the hanger were rotated 180° about its vertical axis;

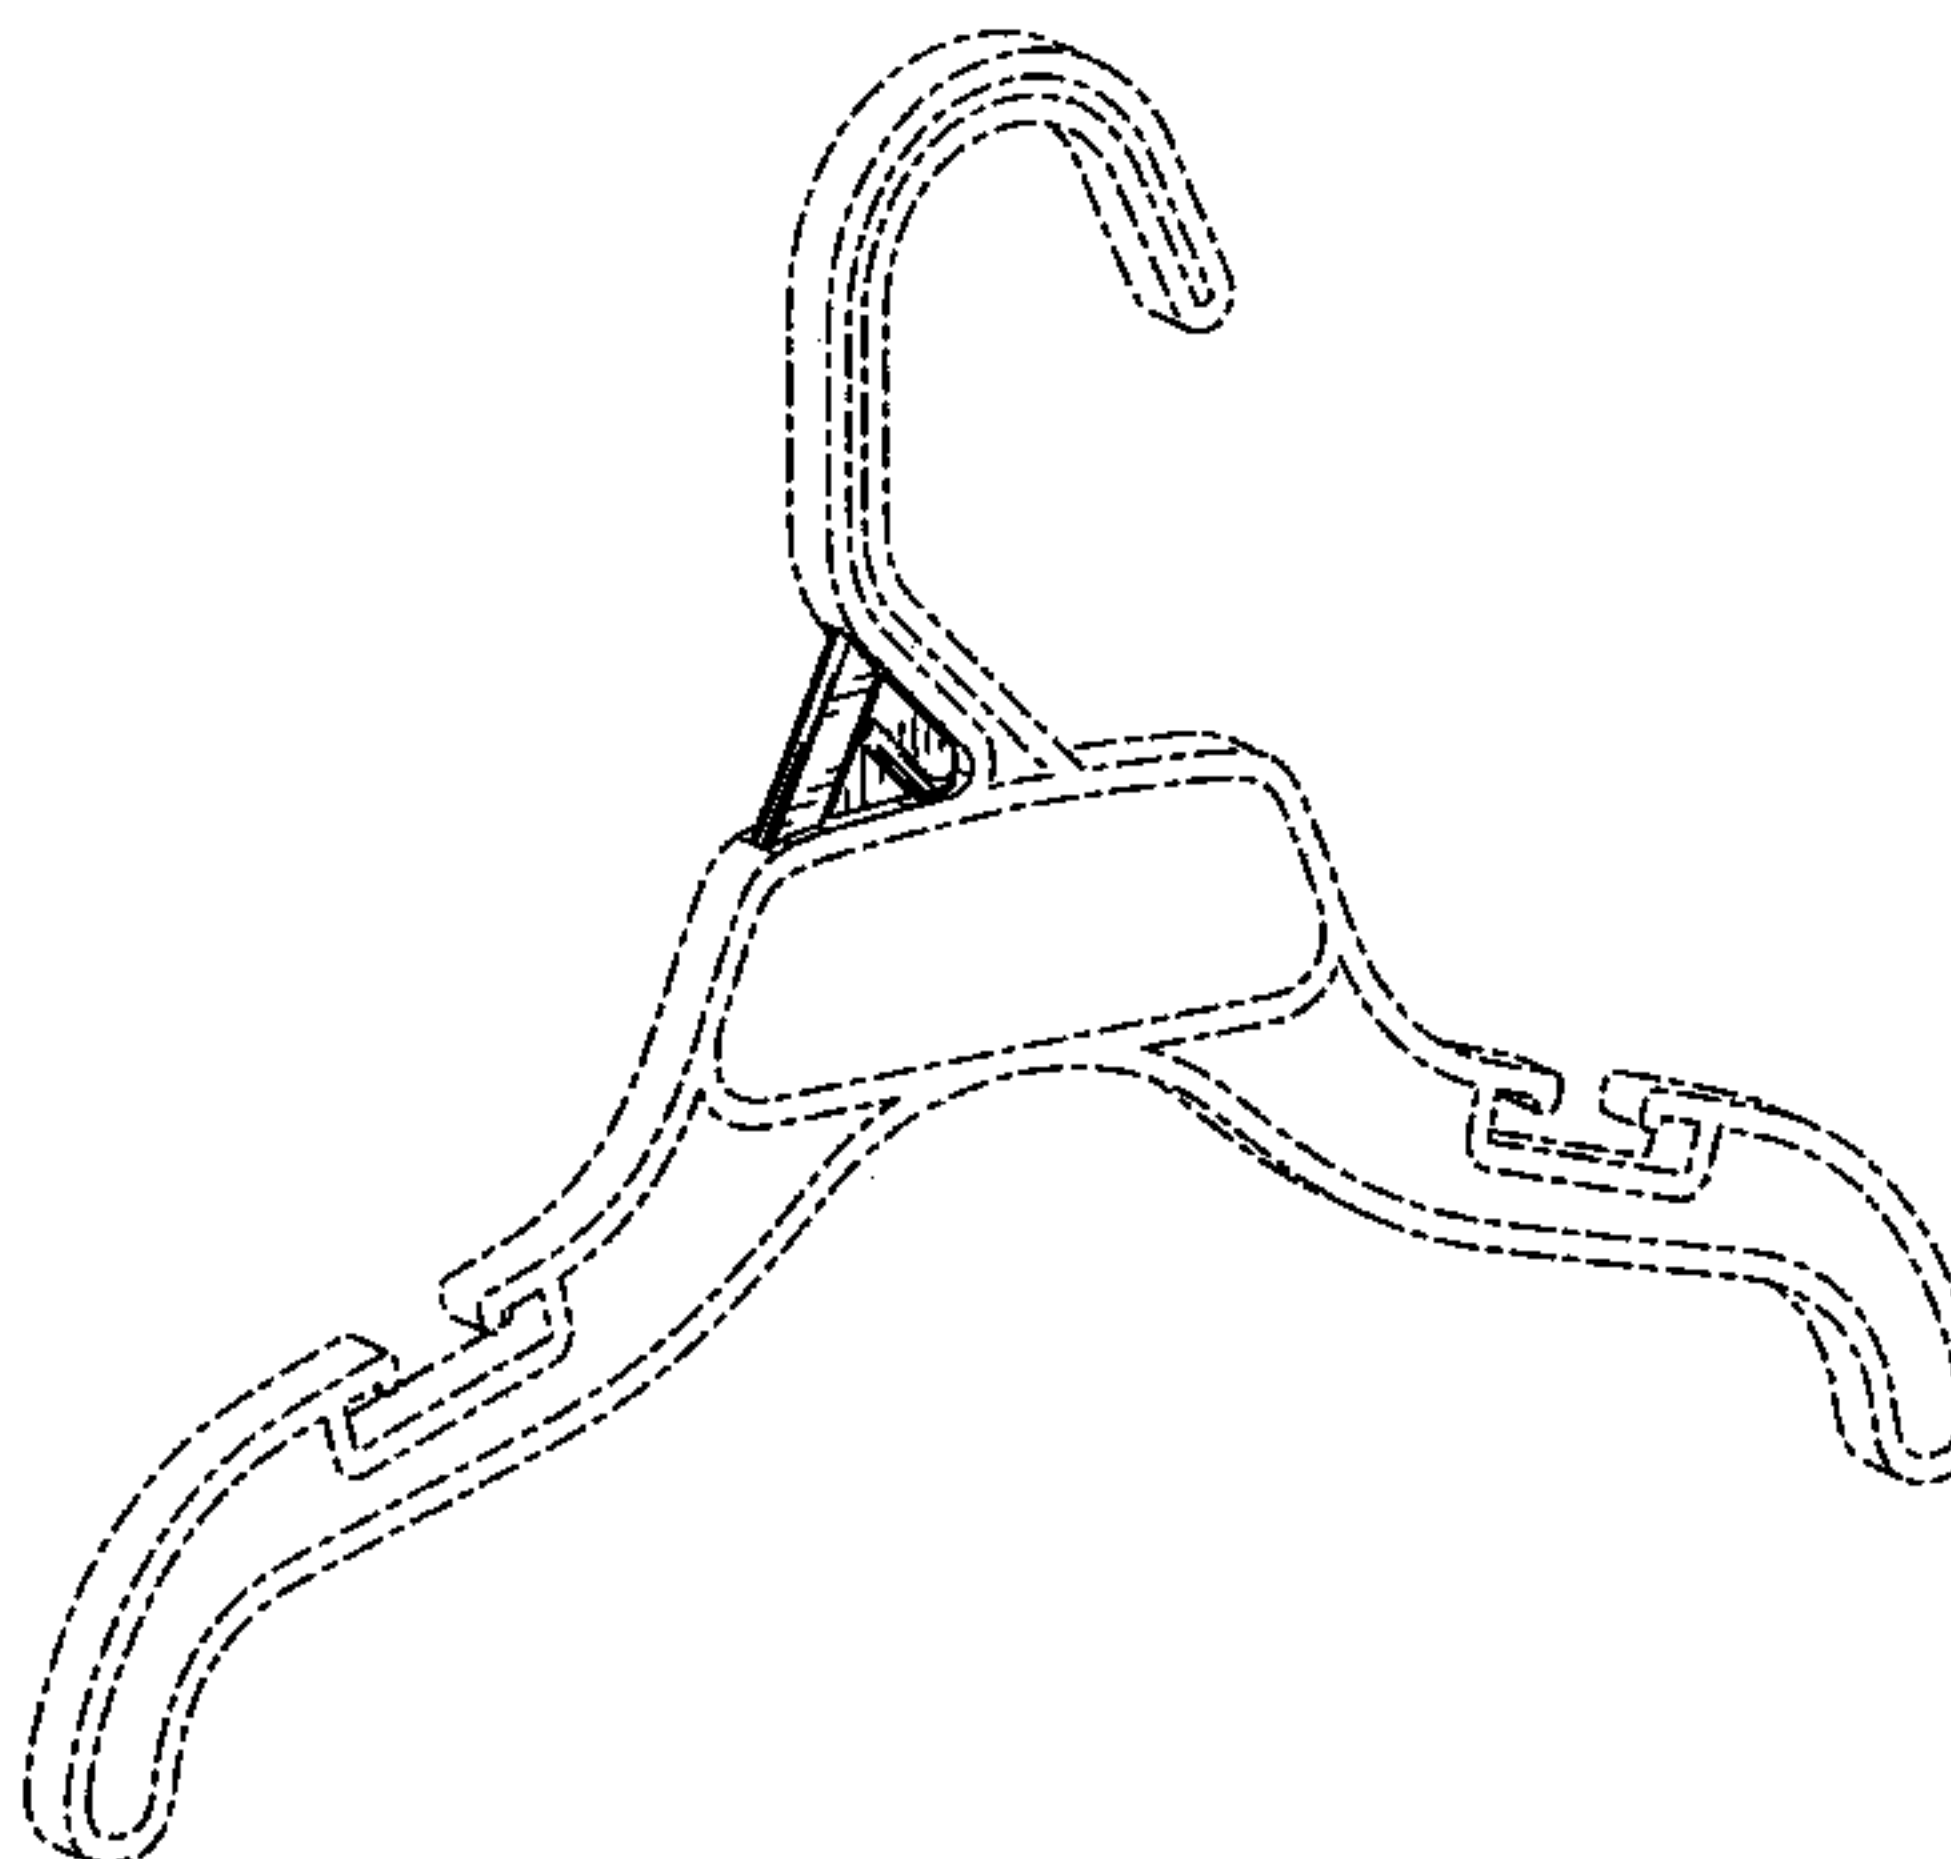

FIG. 7 is a left side elevation view thereof looking directly at the holder for an information marker, with the holder for an information marker being hidden by the hanger body in the right side elevation, top and bottom views;

FIG. 8 is a perspective view of an alternative embodiment of a holder for an information marker showing our new design, the hanger body being shown in dotted lines for purposes of illustrating the environment and forming no part of the claimed design;

FIG. 9 is a rear view thereof, the front view being the same but oriented in the opposite direction as if the hanger were rotated 180° about its vertical axis; and,

FIG. 10 is a left side elevation view thereof looking directly at the holder for an information marker, with the holder for an information marker being hidden by the hanger body in the right side elevation, top and bottom views.
