(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a computer having release handles, as shown and described.

FIG. 1 is a front plan view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrating the handles in a closed or secured position;

FIG. 2 is a partial front plan view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrated in FIG. 1, further illustrating one of the handles in a lower left portion of the computer;

FIG. 3 is a partial perspective view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrated in FIG. 1, further illustrating the handles in a partially open or partially released position;

FIG. 4 is a partial perspective view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrated in FIG. 3, further illustrating one of the handles in a lower left portion of the computer;

FIG. 5 is a front plan view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrated in FIG. 1, further illustrating the handles in an open or released position;

FIG. 7 is a partial left side elevational view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrated in FIG. 5, the left side being substantially the same as the illustrated right side;

FIG. 8 is a partial top side elevational view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrated in FIG. 5;

FIG. 9 is a partial top side elevational view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrated in FIG. 8, further illustrating one of the handles in a lower left portion of the computer; and,

FIG. 10 is a partial bottom side elevational view of the design for the computer having release handles illustrated in FIG. 5.

In these drawings, the solid lines illustrate the claimed ornamental design, whereas the broken lines illustrative environmental features that form no part of the claimed ornamental design.
