(57) CLAIM

The design of a motion sensor light for a recreational vehicle, as shown.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of the motion sensor light for a recreational vehicle;

FIG. 2 is a front elevational view of the motion sensor light for a recreational vehicle in accordance with the present invention;

FIG. 3 is a top plan view of the motion sensor light for a recreational vehicle;

FIG. 4 is a bottom plan view of the motion sensor light for a recreational vehicle;

FIG. 5 is a rear elevational view of the motion sensor light for a recreational vehicle in accordance with the present invention;

FIG. 6 is a side elevational view of the motion sensor light for a recreational vehicle, with an opposite side elevational view being substantially a mirror image thereof; and,

FIG. 7 is a front elevational view of a recreational vehicle in dotted lines showing the motion sensor thereon and a light pattern generates therefrom.

The broken lines in the drawings represent unclaimed environmental subject matter.
