(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for an electrode edge strip of indeterminate length, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of an electrode edge strip of indeterminate length, showing our new design, with locking strip disengaged;

FIG. 2 is a perspective view thereof, with locking strip engaged;

FIG. 3 is an end view thereof, with locking strip disengaged; and,

FIG. 4 is an end view thereof, with locking strip engaged.

The electrode edge strip of indeterminate length is shown broken away in FIGS. 1 and 2 of the drawings to indicate indeterminate length, it being understood that it has a uniform shape and appearance through out its length.
