(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a power strip with master/slave switching, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

The sole FIGURE is a partial top perspective view of a power strip with master/slave switching in accordance with one embodiment of my new design, showing a portion of the top of the power strip with a stippled surface treatment representing contrasting surface coloration for a single socket, the remainder of the power strip and its plug being shown in phantom and representing no part of the claimed design.
