(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for visor with hair, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

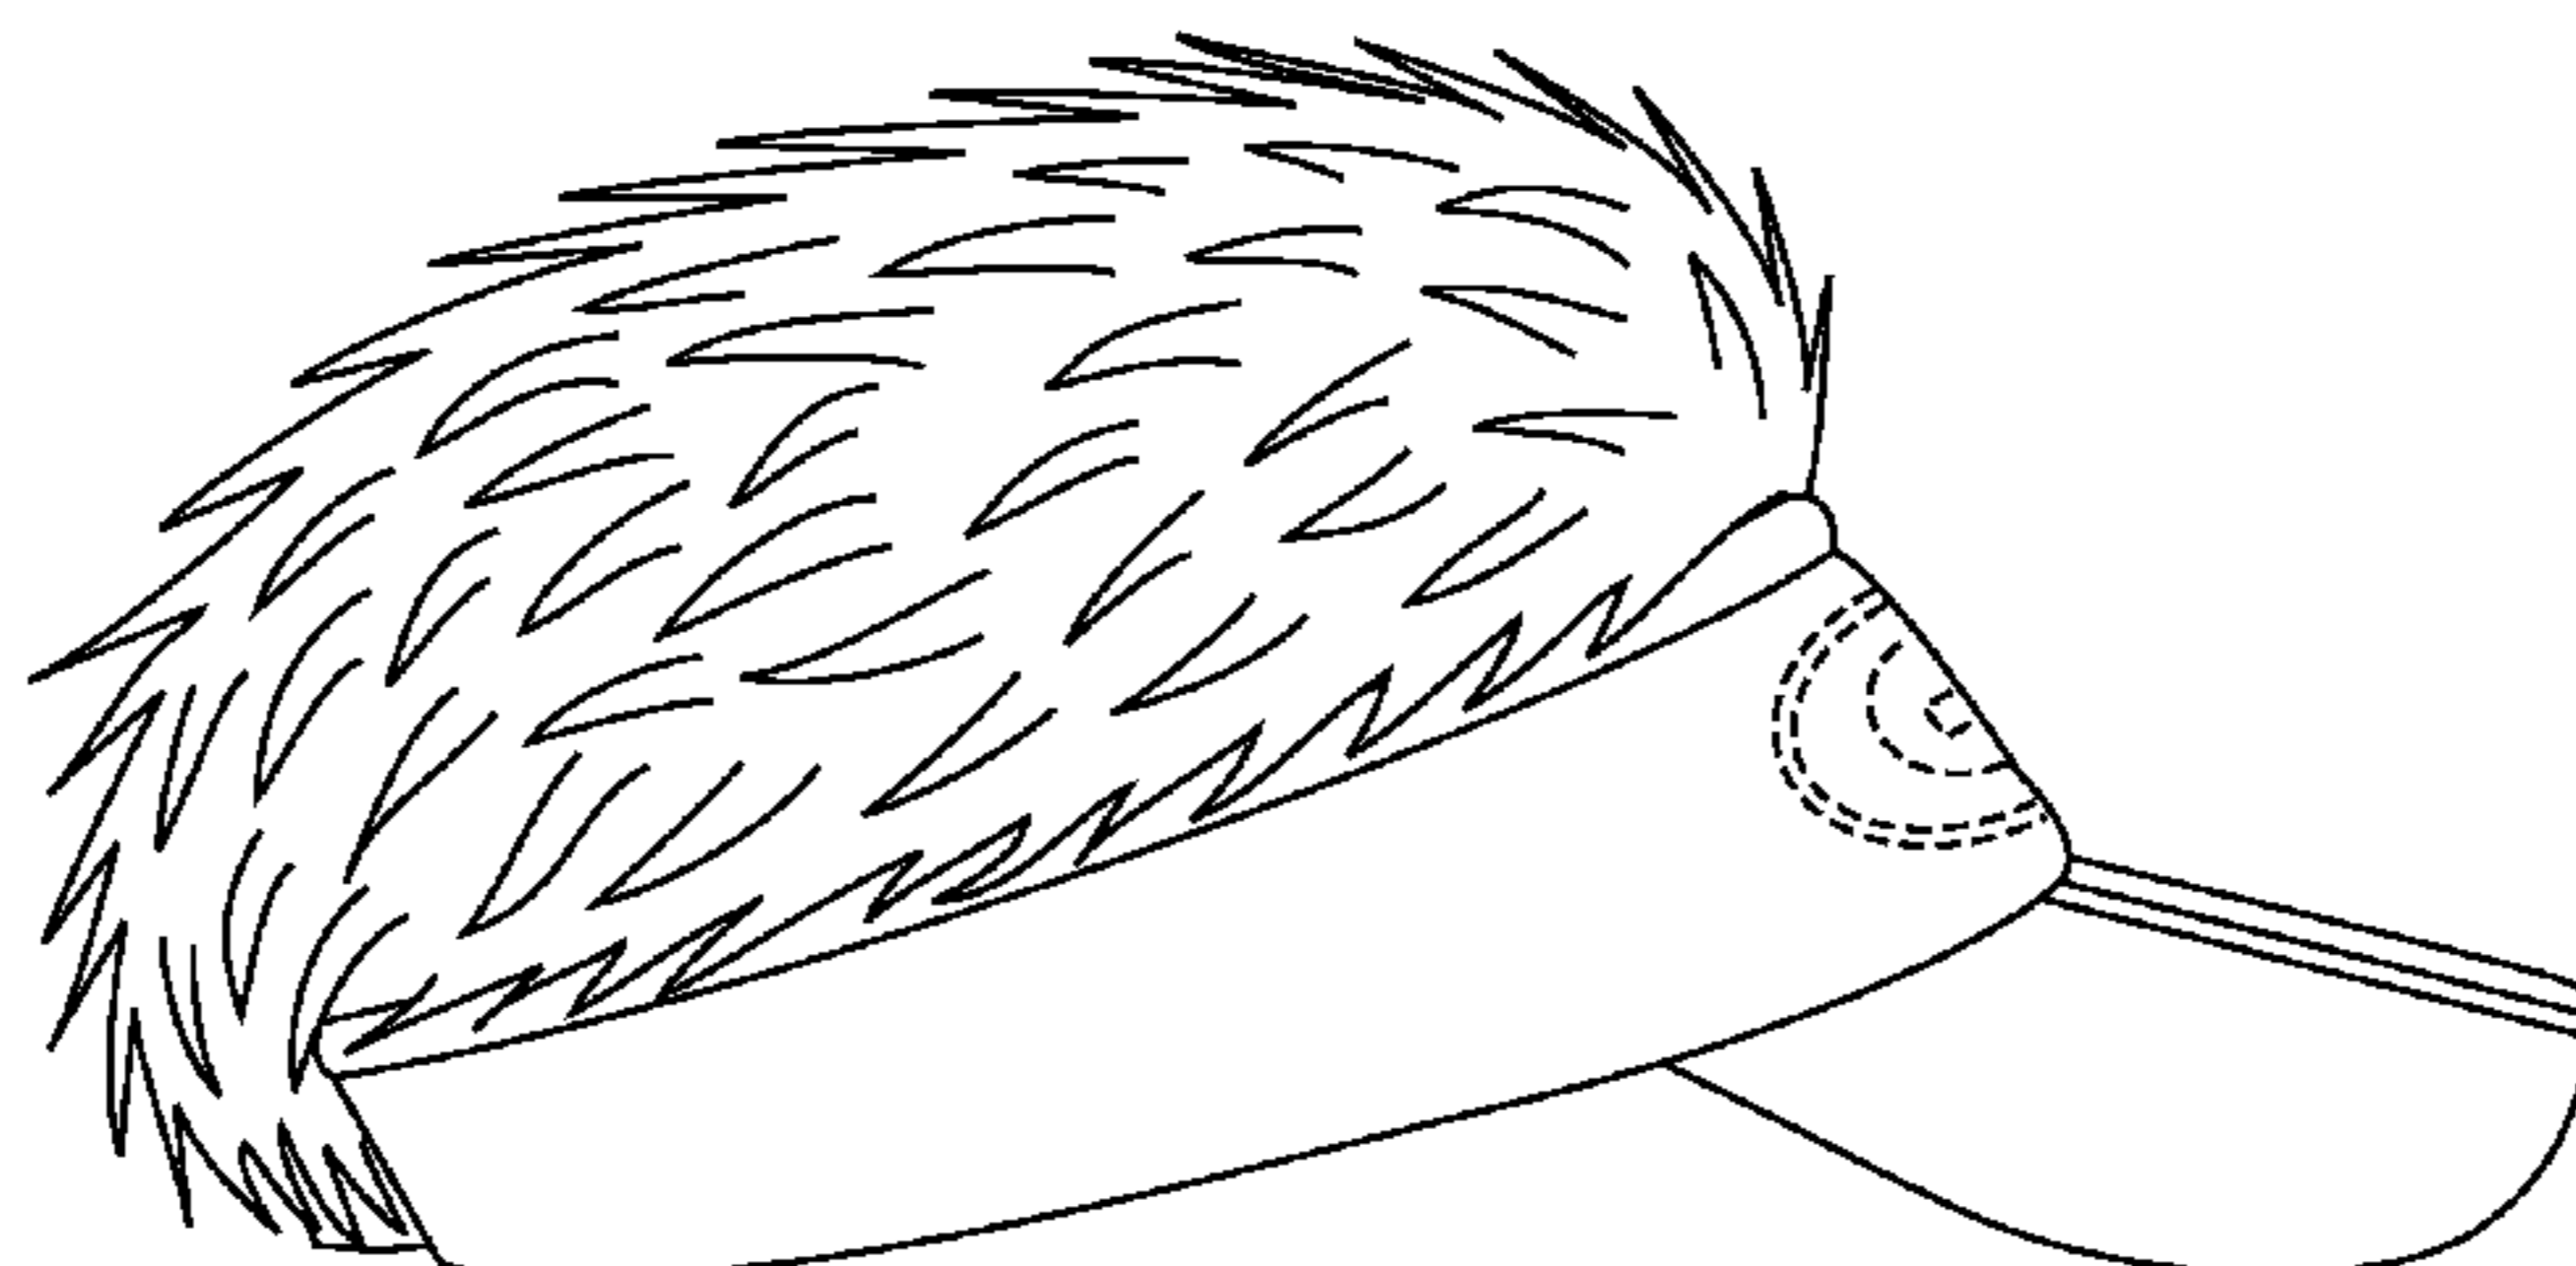

FIG. 1 is a rear view of a visor with hair according to the present invention;
FIG. 2 is a front view thereof;
FIG. 3 is a left side view thereof;
FIG. 4 is a right side view thereof;
FIG. 5 is a top view thereof;
FIG. 6 is a bottom view thereof; and,
FIG. 7 is a perspective view thereof, showing the claimed design being worn.

The broken lines in the drawings in FIGS. 2–5 and 7 showing the head and neck of a person, the indicia on the front of the claimed design, and the broken lines that run underneath along the front edge of the bill of the visor in FIGS. 1, 6 and 7 represent environmental matter and form no part of the claimed design.

The crown of the claimed design is covered with hair that forms individual peaks. Minor inconsistencies between the appearance and pattern of the peaks in the different views are understood to be caused by the variations in the organic nature of hair and the different viewpoints from which the views are shown and do not render the views of the claimed design patentably distinct.

The broken-line shape in FIG. 6 defines the bounds of the claimed design, and forms no part thereof.
