(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a cap with an extendable interior flap, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of the cap with extendable interior flap, for forming a hidden compartment;

FIG. 2 is a side view of the cap with extendable interior flap shown in FIG. 1;

FIG. 3 is an opposite side view of the cap with extendable interior flap shown in FIG. 1;

FIG. 4 is a front view of the cap with extendable interior flap shown in FIG. 1;

FIG. 5 is a rear view of the cap with extendable interior flap shown in FIG. 1;

FIG. 6 is a top view of the cap with extendable interior flap shown in FIG. 1;

FIG. 7 is a bottom view of the cap with extendable flap shown in FIG. 1, with the flap in a first position, covering a rear portion of the interior of the cap;

FIG. 8 is another bottom view of the cap shown in FIG. 1, with a rear edge of the flap spaced apart from the rear portion of the interior band of the cap with extendable flap;

FIG. 9 is another bottom view of the cap shown in FIG. 1, with the flap in an intermediate position between the rear portion of the interior band of the cap with extendable flap and the front portion thereof, the deformation of the crown comprising a temporary change in shape caused by a shift in the position of the flap; and,

FIG. 10 is another bottom view of the cap with extendable flap shown in FIG. 1 in a second position, covering a front portion of the interior of the cap with extendable flap.

The broken lines in the drawings represent stitching and form a part of the claimed design.
