(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for an electronic device, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front perspective view of an electronic device showing our new design;

FIG. 2 is a rear perspective thereof;

FIG. 3 is a front view thereof;

FIG. 4 is a rear view thereof;

FIG. 5 is a left side view thereof;

FIG. 6 is right side view thereof;

FIG. 7 is a top plan view thereof;

FIG. 8 is a bottom plan view thereof;

FIG. 9 is an enlarged elevational view of a representative corner of the electronic device;

FIG. 10 is an alternative front perspective view of the electronic device shown in FIG. 1;

FIG. 11 is a rear perspective thereof;

FIG. 12 is a front view thereof;

FIG. 13 is a rear view thereof;

FIG. 14 is a left side view thereof;

FIG. 15 is right side view thereof;

FIG. 16 is a top plan view thereof;

FIG. 17 is a bottom plan view thereof; and,

FIG. 18 is an enlarged elevational view of a representative corner of the electronic device.

The front and rear surfaces of the electronic device shown in FIGS. 1–18 of the present invention show different stippling to indicate contrasting tone, contrasting color, contrasting materials, and contrasting surface treatment.

In one embodiment, the surfaces of the electronic device shown in FIGS. 1–18 show different stippling to indicate contrasting tone, wherein the light stippling represents one color and the dark stippling represents a contrasting color.

In another embodiment, not shown because the figures would be the same as FIGS. 1–18, is the same except the stippling represents contrasting materials, wherein the light stippling represents steel and the dark stippling represents aluminum.

In a further embodiment, not shown because the figures would be the same as FIGS. 1–18, is the same except the stippling represents different textures, wherein the light stippling represents a glossy or shiny surface treatment and the dark stippling represents a matte or flat surface treatment.

The broken lines show portions of the electronic device which form no part of the claimed design.
