(57) CLAIM

I claim the ornamental design for a venting motorcycle jacket, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front elevational view of a jacket showing a removable outer shell attached to a jacket body in an assembled configuration of my new design;

FIG. 2 is a rear elevational view of the jacket showing the removable outer shell attached to the jacket body in the assembled configuration of my new design;

FIG. 3 is a side elevational view of the jacket showing the removable outer shell attached to the jacket body in the assembled configuration of my new design;

FIG. 4 is a side elevational view of the jacket, opposite that of FIG. 3, showing the removable outer shell attached to the jacket body in the assembled configuration of my new design;

FIG. 5 is an exploded front elevational view showing the removable outer shell detached from the jacket body in a disassembled configuration, exposing the open mesh of the jacket body of my new design;

FIG. 6 is a side elevational view of the jacket without the outer shell to expose the open mesh of the jacket body of my new design;

FIG. 7 is a rear elevational view of the jacket without the outer shell to expose the open mesh of the jacket body of my new design; and,

FIG. 8 is an exploded rear elevational view showing the removable outer shell detached from the jacket body in a disassembled configuration, exposing the open mesh of the jacket body of my new design.

The broken line illustration symbolizing stitching and other features, as well as the remainder of the broken lines on the surface of the jacket, illustrate portions of the design that form no part of the claim. The partial mesh samples shown along the torso segment and sleeves indicate a continuous open mesh pattern between the partial mesh samples actually illustrated.
