(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a ceiling panel, as shown and described.

FIG. 1 is a top plan view of a first embodiment of a ceiling panel showing our new design;

FIG. 2 is a perspective view thereof;

FIG. 3 is an edge view thereof;

FIG. 4 is a front elevation view, with the rear elevation view being a mirror image thereof;

FIG. 5 is a view of the ceiling panel shown in FIGS. 1-4. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design;

FIG. 6 is a view similar to FIG. 1. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design;

FIG. 7 is a view of the ceiling panel shown in FIGS. 1-4. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and the like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design. The broken lines showing an alternative parquet ceiling panel pattern;

FIG. 8 is a view similar to FIG. 1. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design. The broken lines showing an alternative parquet ceiling panel pattern;

FIG. 9 is a view of the ceiling panel shown in FIGS. 1-4. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design. The broken lines showing an alternating row ceiling panel pattern;

showing an alternating row ceiling panel pattern similar to FIG. 9 where each adjacent panel within a row is rotated 180 degrees;

FIG. 13 is a top view of a ceiling panel showing a second embodiment of our new design;

FIG. 14 is a perspective view thereof;

FIG. 15 is an edge view thereof;

FIG. 16 is a front elevation view, with the rear elevation view being a mirror image thereof;

FIG. 17 is a view of the ceiling panel shown in FIGS. 13-16. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design;

FIG. 18 is a view similar to FIG. 13. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design;

FIG. 19 is a view of the ceiling panel shown in FIGS. 13-16. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design. The broken lines showing an alternative ceiling panel pattern;

FIG. 22 is a view similar to FIG. 13. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design. The broken lines showing an alternating row and ceiling panel pattern;

FIG. 23 is a view of the ceiling panel shown in FIGS. 13-16. The broken lines showing suspension hardware and like ceiling panels for the purpose of illustrating the environment only and forming no part of the claimed design. The broken lines showing an alternating row ceiling panel pattern similar to FIG. 21 where each adjacent panel within a row is rotated 180 degrees; and,
