(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a graphic user interface for a display screen, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a first appearance state;

FIG. 2 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a second appearance state;

FIG. 3 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a third appearance state;

FIG. 4 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a fourth appearance state;

FIG. 5 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a fifth appearance state;

FIG. 6 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a sixth appearance state;

FIG. 7 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a seventh appearance state;

FIG. 8 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in an eighth appearance state;

FIG. 9 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a ninth appearance state;

FIG. 10 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a tenth appearance state;

FIG. 11 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in an eleventh appearance state;

FIG. 12 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a twelfth appearance state;

FIG. 13 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a thirteenth appearance state;

FIG. 14 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a fourteenth appearance state; and,

FIG. 15 is a front view of the graphic user interface for a display screen in a fifteenth appearance state.

The appearance of the transitional image sequentially transitions between the images shown in FIGS. 1-15. The process or period in which one image transitions to another image forms no part of the claimed design.

The broken line showing of portions of the graphical user interface and the broken line showing of the display screen illustrate unclaimed environment and form no part of the claimed design.
