(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a reversible hat, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front view of a reversible hat according to my new design;

FIG. 2 is a rear view thereof;

FIG. 3 is a left side view thereof;

FIG. 4 is a right side view thereof;

FIG. 5 is a top view thereof;

FIG. 6 is a bottom view thereof;

FIG. 7 is a front view thereof when reversed;

FIG. 8 is a rear view thereof when reversed;

FIG. 9 is a left side view thereof when reversed;

FIG. 10 is a right side view thereof when reversed;

FIG. 11 is a top view thereof when reversed; and,

FIG. 12 is a bottom view thereof when reversed.

The broken lines in the views are understood to represent portions of the article in which the claimed design is embodied, but which form no part of the claimed design.

The design consists partly of fur. Inconsistencies in how the fur appears in the different views are understood to be caused by the organic nature of the fur itself as well as to the different viewpoints from which the fur is shown, and not deliberate changes to the configuration of the claimed design. The minor variations in the fur when viewed from one angle to the next do not show separate patentably distinct designs.

The fur, while shown only on the edges of the pom-pom, the ring, and the crown trim, is understood to extend across the entirety of these features.
