The characteristic feature of novelty and/or non-obviousness lies in the uniqueness of the design, which while it may appear to be applied to a doll, is in fact an ornamental design applied to a useful containment object, such as a purse, jewelry box, gift box, lunch box and/or multi-purpose container. It is not obvious that the skirt opens to reveal any of the aforementioned useful containment objects. The characteristic feature of novelty and/or non-obviousness lies also in the fact that the design stands alone, without the aid of exterior supports.
