(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a brush handle, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of the brush handle showing my new design according to a first embodiment;
FIG. 2 is a top elevational view of the first embodiment;
FIG. 3 is a left side elevational view of the first embodiment, the right side elevational view of the first embodiment being the same as the left side elevational view of the first embodiment;

FIG. 4 is a bottom elevational view of the first embodiment;
FIG. 5 is an enlarged view of the first embodiment taken in the direction of line 5-5 in FIG. 4;

FIG. 6 is an enlarged view of the first embodiment taken in the direction of line 6-6 in FIG. 4;

FIG. 7 is an end plan view of the first embodiment;
FIG. 8 is a left side elevational view of the brush handle of the first embodiment shown in an alternate environment;

FIG. 9 is a left side elevational view of the brush handle of the first embodiment shown in an alternate environment;

FIG. 10 is a left side elevational view of the brush handle of the first embodiment shown in an alternate environment;

FIG. 11 is a left side elevational view of the brush handle of the first embodiment shown in an alternate environment;

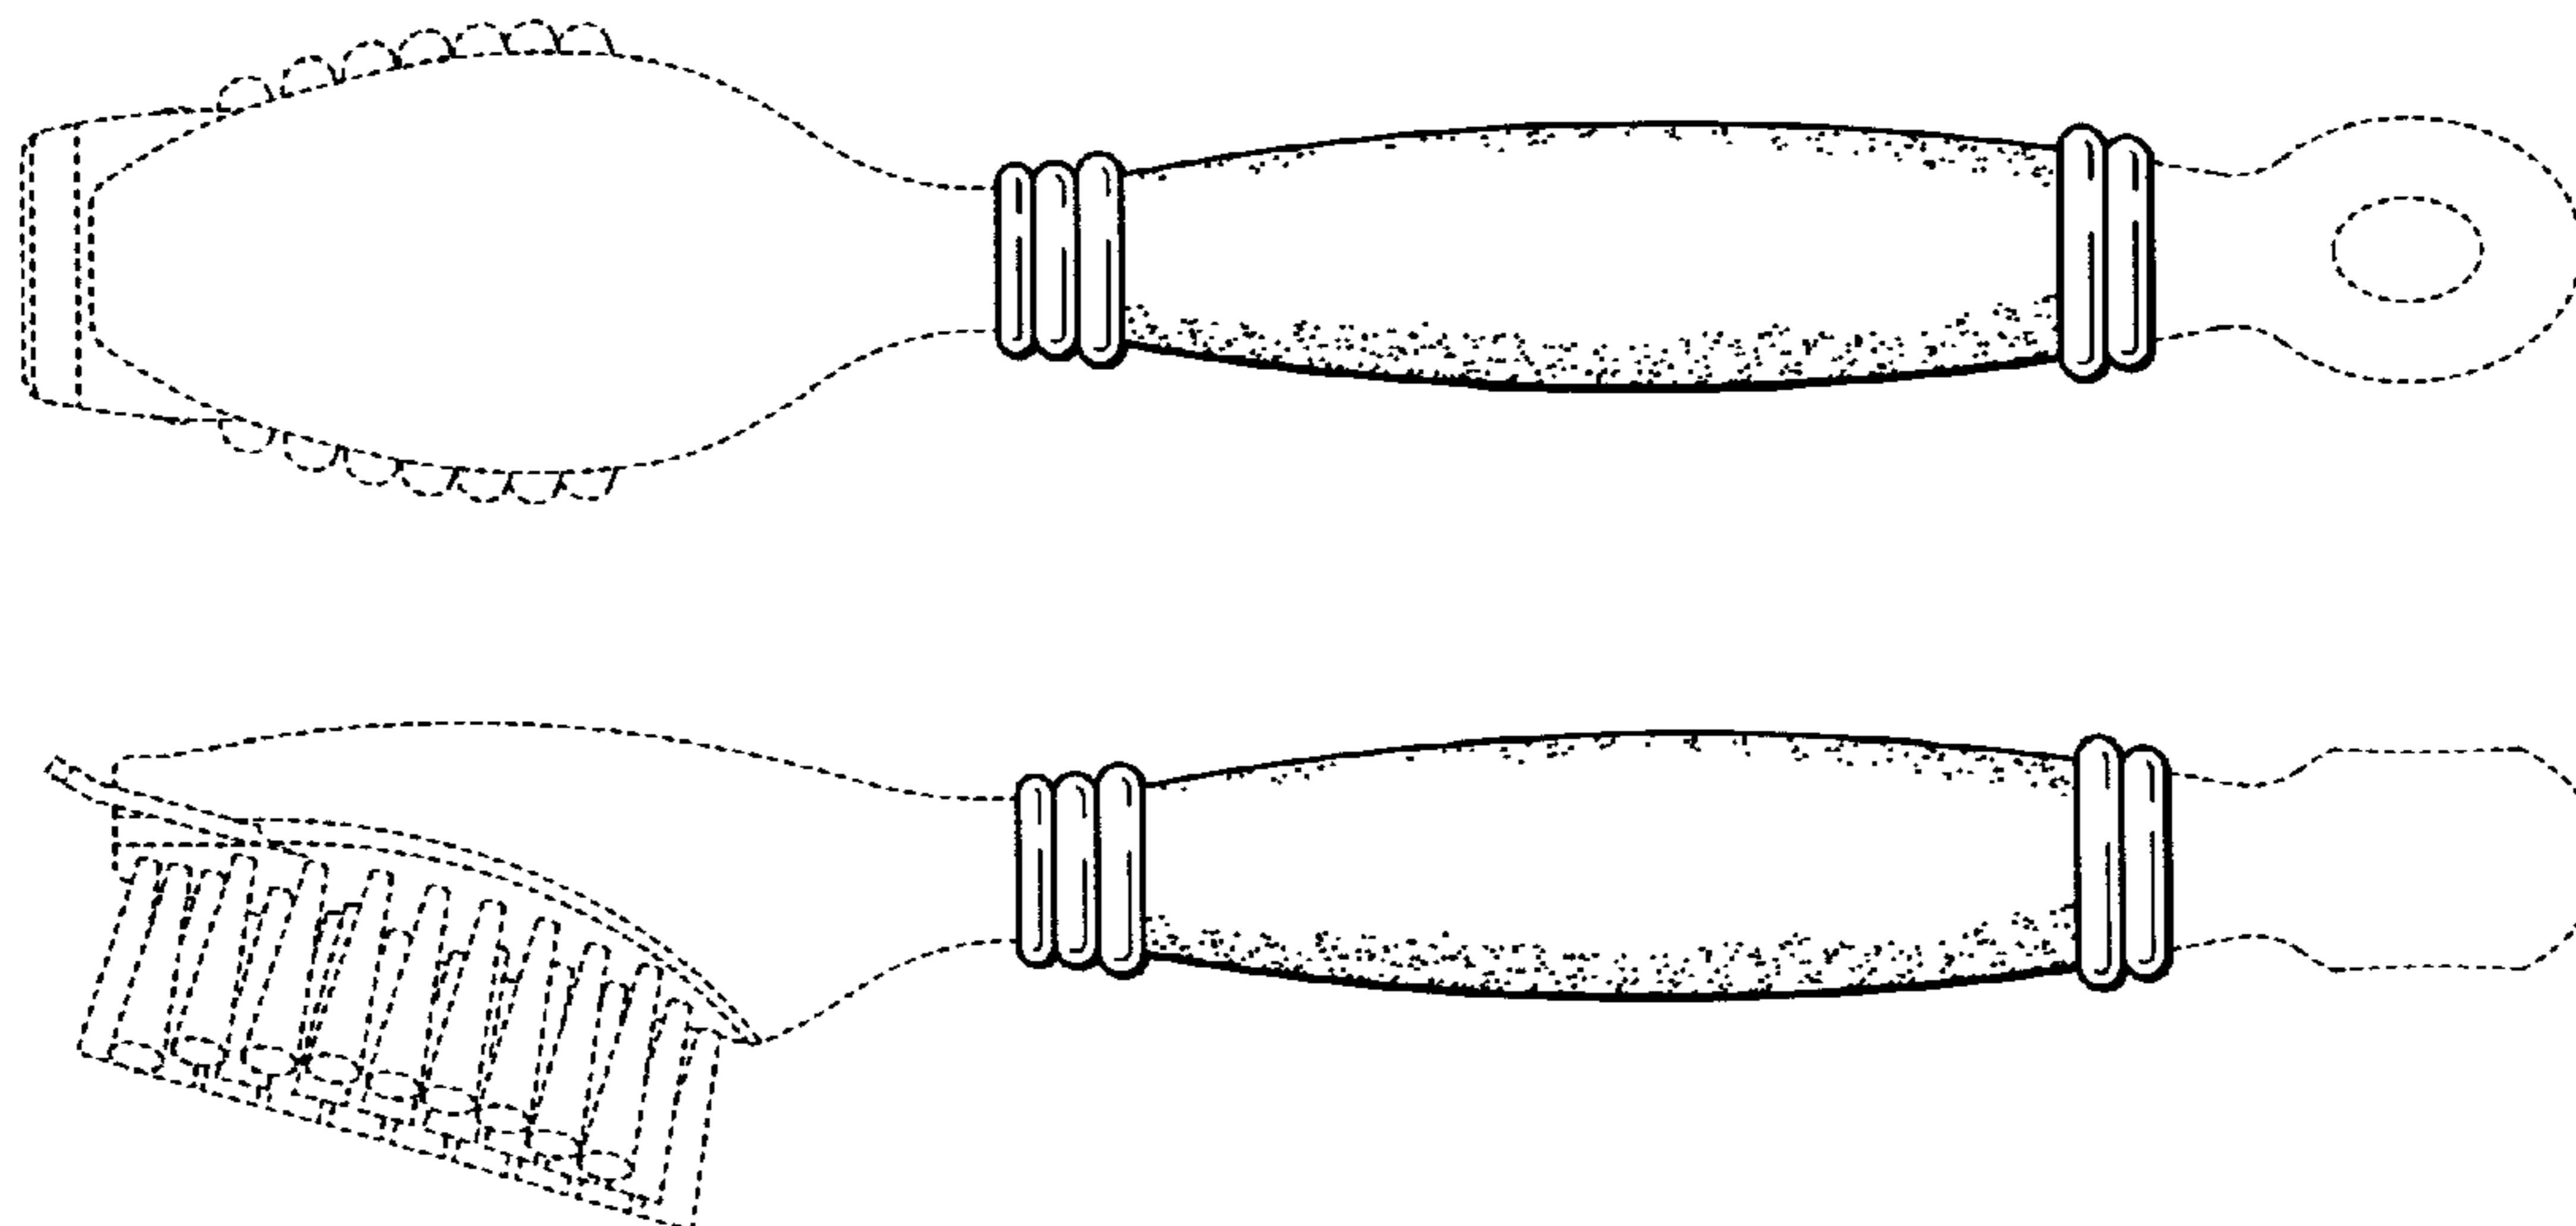

FIG. 12 is a left side elevational view of the brush handle of the first embodiment shown in an alternate environment;

FIG. 13 is a left side elevational view of a second embodiment of the brush handle shown in FIGS. 1-7, the only difference being that no particular length is being claimed; and,

FIG. 14 is a left side elevational view of a third embodiment of the brush handle shown in FIGS. 1-7, the only difference being that no particular width is being claimed.

The broken lines showing environmental structure in FIGS. 1-4 form no part of the claimed design. The stippling shown on the handle is understood to continue throughout the areas indicated.
