(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a fishing reel portion, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a first perspective view of a fishing reel with a fishing reel portion in accordance with my new design;

FIG. 2 is a second perspective view of the fishing reel with the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIG. 1;

FIG. 3 is a first side elevational view of the fishing reel with the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIG. 1;

FIG. 4 is a second side elevational view of the fishing reel with the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIG. 1;

FIG. 5 is a top plan view of the fishing reel illustrated in FIG. 1, with the fishing reel portion being hidden;

FIG. 6 is a bottom plan view of the fishing reel with the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIG. 1;

FIG. 7 is a front elevational view of the fishing reel illustrated in FIG. 1, with the fishing reel portion being hidden;

FIG. 8 is a rear elevational view of the fishing reel illustrated in FIG. 1, with the fishing reel portion being hidden;

FIG. 9 is a first enlarged, partial perspective view of the fishing reel with the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIG. 1;

FIG. 10 is a second enlarged, partial perspective with the fishing reel portion being hidden plan view of the fishing reel with the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIG. 1;

FIG. 11 is a first side elevational view, similar to FIG. 3, of an alternative fishing reel portion identical to FIGS. 1 to 10, but where a top edge boundary of the fishing reel portion is shown in broken lines; and,

FIG. 12 is a second side elevational view, similar to FIG. 4, of the alternative fishing reel of FIG. 11, which is identical to FIGS. 1 to 10, but where a top edge boundary of the fishing reel portion is shown in broken lines.

The broken line illustration of the environmental structure (the remaining structure of the fishing reel) in the drawings is not part of the claimed design.

In the alternative fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, the top boundary does not form part of the claimed design. In other words, with respect to the alternate design of the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, it should be understood that the claimed design extends to the top boundary but does not include the top boundary shown in broken lines.

The broken line illustration of the environmental structure (the remaining structure of the fishing reel) in the drawings is not part of the claimed design.

In the alternative fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, the top boundary does not form part of the claimed design. In other words, with respect to the alternate design of the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, it should be understood that the claimed design extends to the top boundary but does not include the top boundary shown in broken lines.

In the alternative fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, the top boundary does not form part of the claimed design. In other words, with respect to the alternate design of the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, it should be understood that the claimed design extends to the top boundary but does not include the top boundary shown in broken lines.

In the alternative fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, the top boundary does not form part of the claimed design. In other words, with respect to the alternate design of the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, it should be understood that the claimed design extends to the top boundary but does not include the top boundary shown in broken lines.

In the alternative fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, the top boundary does not form part of the claimed design. In other words, with respect to the alternate design of the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, it should be understood that the claimed design extends to the top boundary but does not include the top boundary shown in broken lines.

In the alternative fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, the top boundary does not form part of the claimed design. In other words, with respect to the alternate design of the fishing reel portion illustrated in FIGS. 11 and 12, it should be understood that the claimed design extends to the top boundary but does not include the top boundary shown in broken lines.
