(57) CLAIM

We claim the ornamental design for stripping for industrial curtains, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front elevation view of stripping for industrial curtains of the present invention.

FIG. 2 is an end view of the stripping for industrial curtains taken from the bottom of FIG. 1, the end view from the top of FIG. 1 being the mirror image thereof.

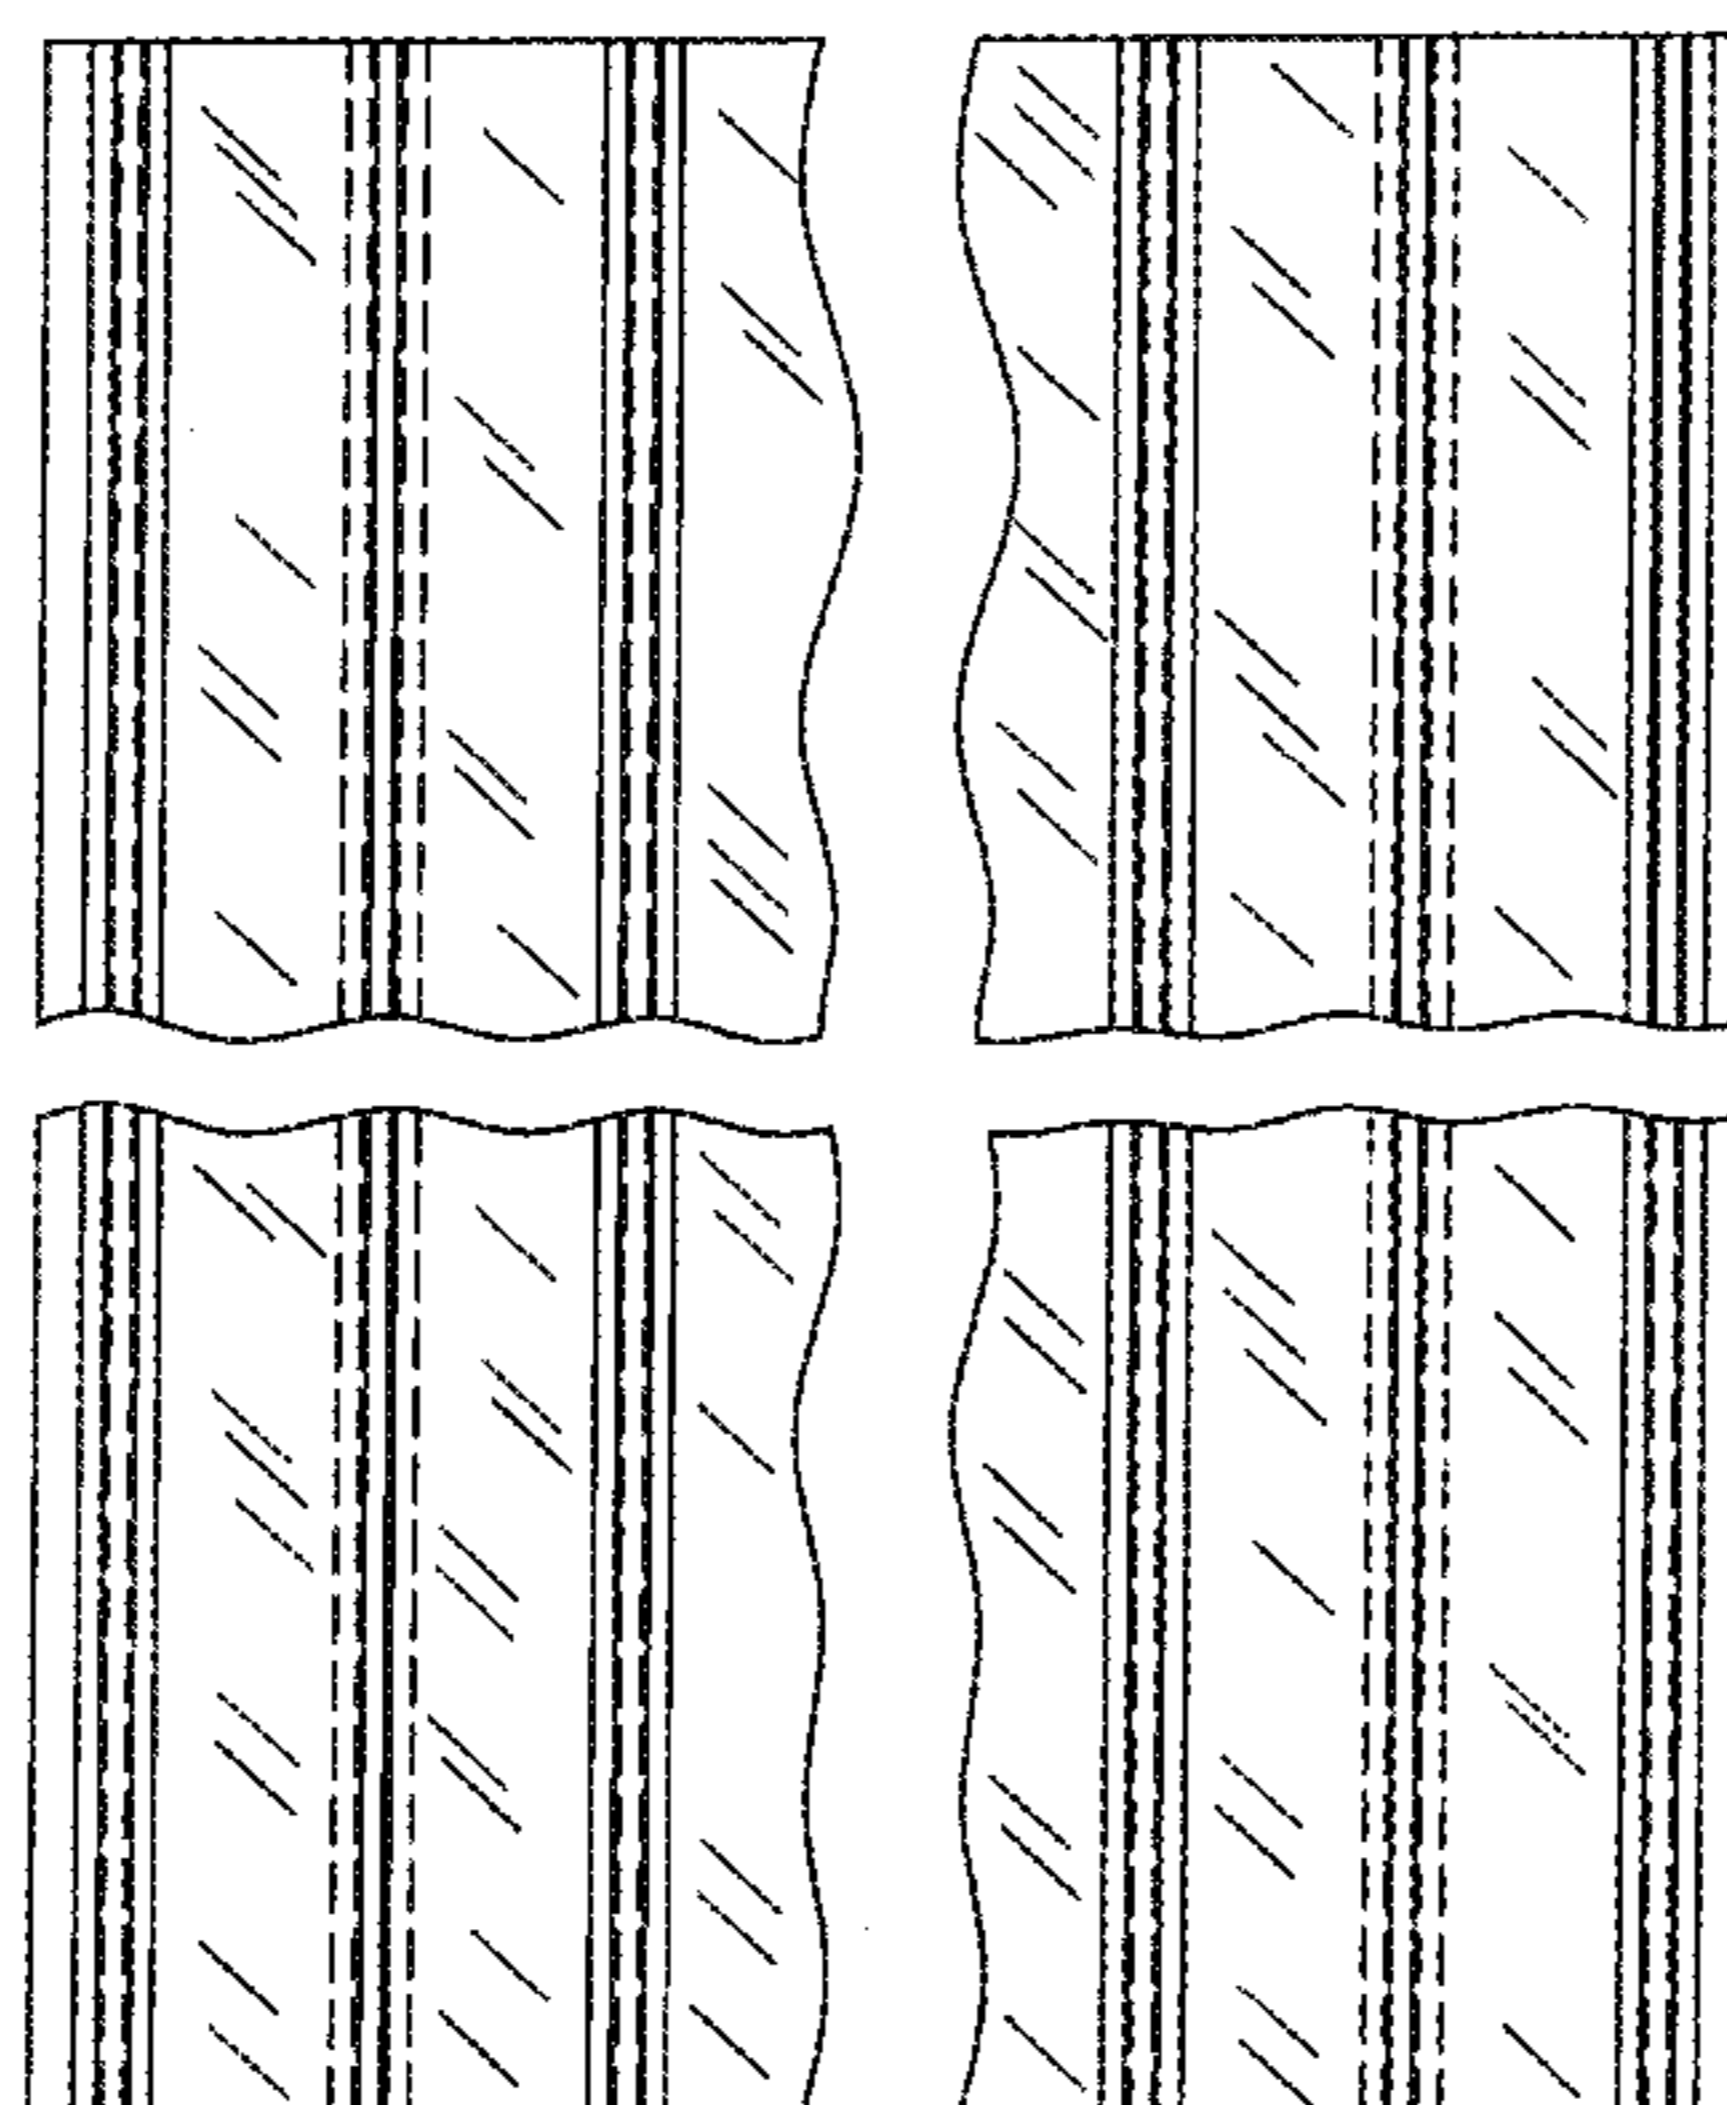

FIG. 3 is a back elevation view of the stripping for industrial curtains taken from the opposite side of FIG. 1.

FIG. 4 is a side elevation view of the stripping for industrial curtains taken from the left side of FIG. 3, the side elevation view from the right side being the mirror image thereof; and, FIG. 5 is a perspective view of the stripping for industrial curtains shown in the previous Figures.

The broken lines in the FIGS. 1 and 3 depict features of the design that are on the reverse side of the curtain, seen through the transparent material of the curtain.

The broken away symbols in the drawings indicate the appearance of any portion of the article between the break lines forms no part of the claimed design.
