(57) CLAIM

I claim the ornamental design for an antenna, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of an antenna showing a top, front, and left side thereof;
FIG. 2 is a top view of the antenna;
FIG. 3 is bottom view of the antenna;
FIG. 4 is a front view of the antenna;
FIG. 5 is a rear view of the antenna;
FIG. 6 is a left side view of the antenna; and,
FIG. 7 is a right side view of the antenna.

To the ordinary observer, the antenna comprises a planar metallic volume having a substantially rectangular base portion with a first etched portion extending along a rear side thereof from left to right side about two thirds of the length of the base; a second etched portion creating a void in the left side of the base portion disposed between two fingers, wherein the void is about one half of the length of the base at the left side; and an elongated portion extending from a front left corner of the base portion, the elongated portion having a terminal end comprising a planar expanded volume and a protruding portion coupling the elongated portion to the base portion wherein the protruding portion comprises a planar tab extending outwardly from the front left corner of the base portion. The antenna is flat and generally bonded to a substrate (shown in dashed lines as not being claimed).

The broken lines in FIG. 1 depict environment only and form no part of the claimed design.
