(57) CLAIM

We claim the ornamental design for a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is the front elevation view of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 2 is the right side elevation view of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 3 is the left side elevation view of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 4 is the rear elevation view of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 5 is the top view of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 6 is the bottom view of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 7 is the perspective view of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 8 is the front elevation view, as worn, of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 9 is the right side elevation view, as worn, of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

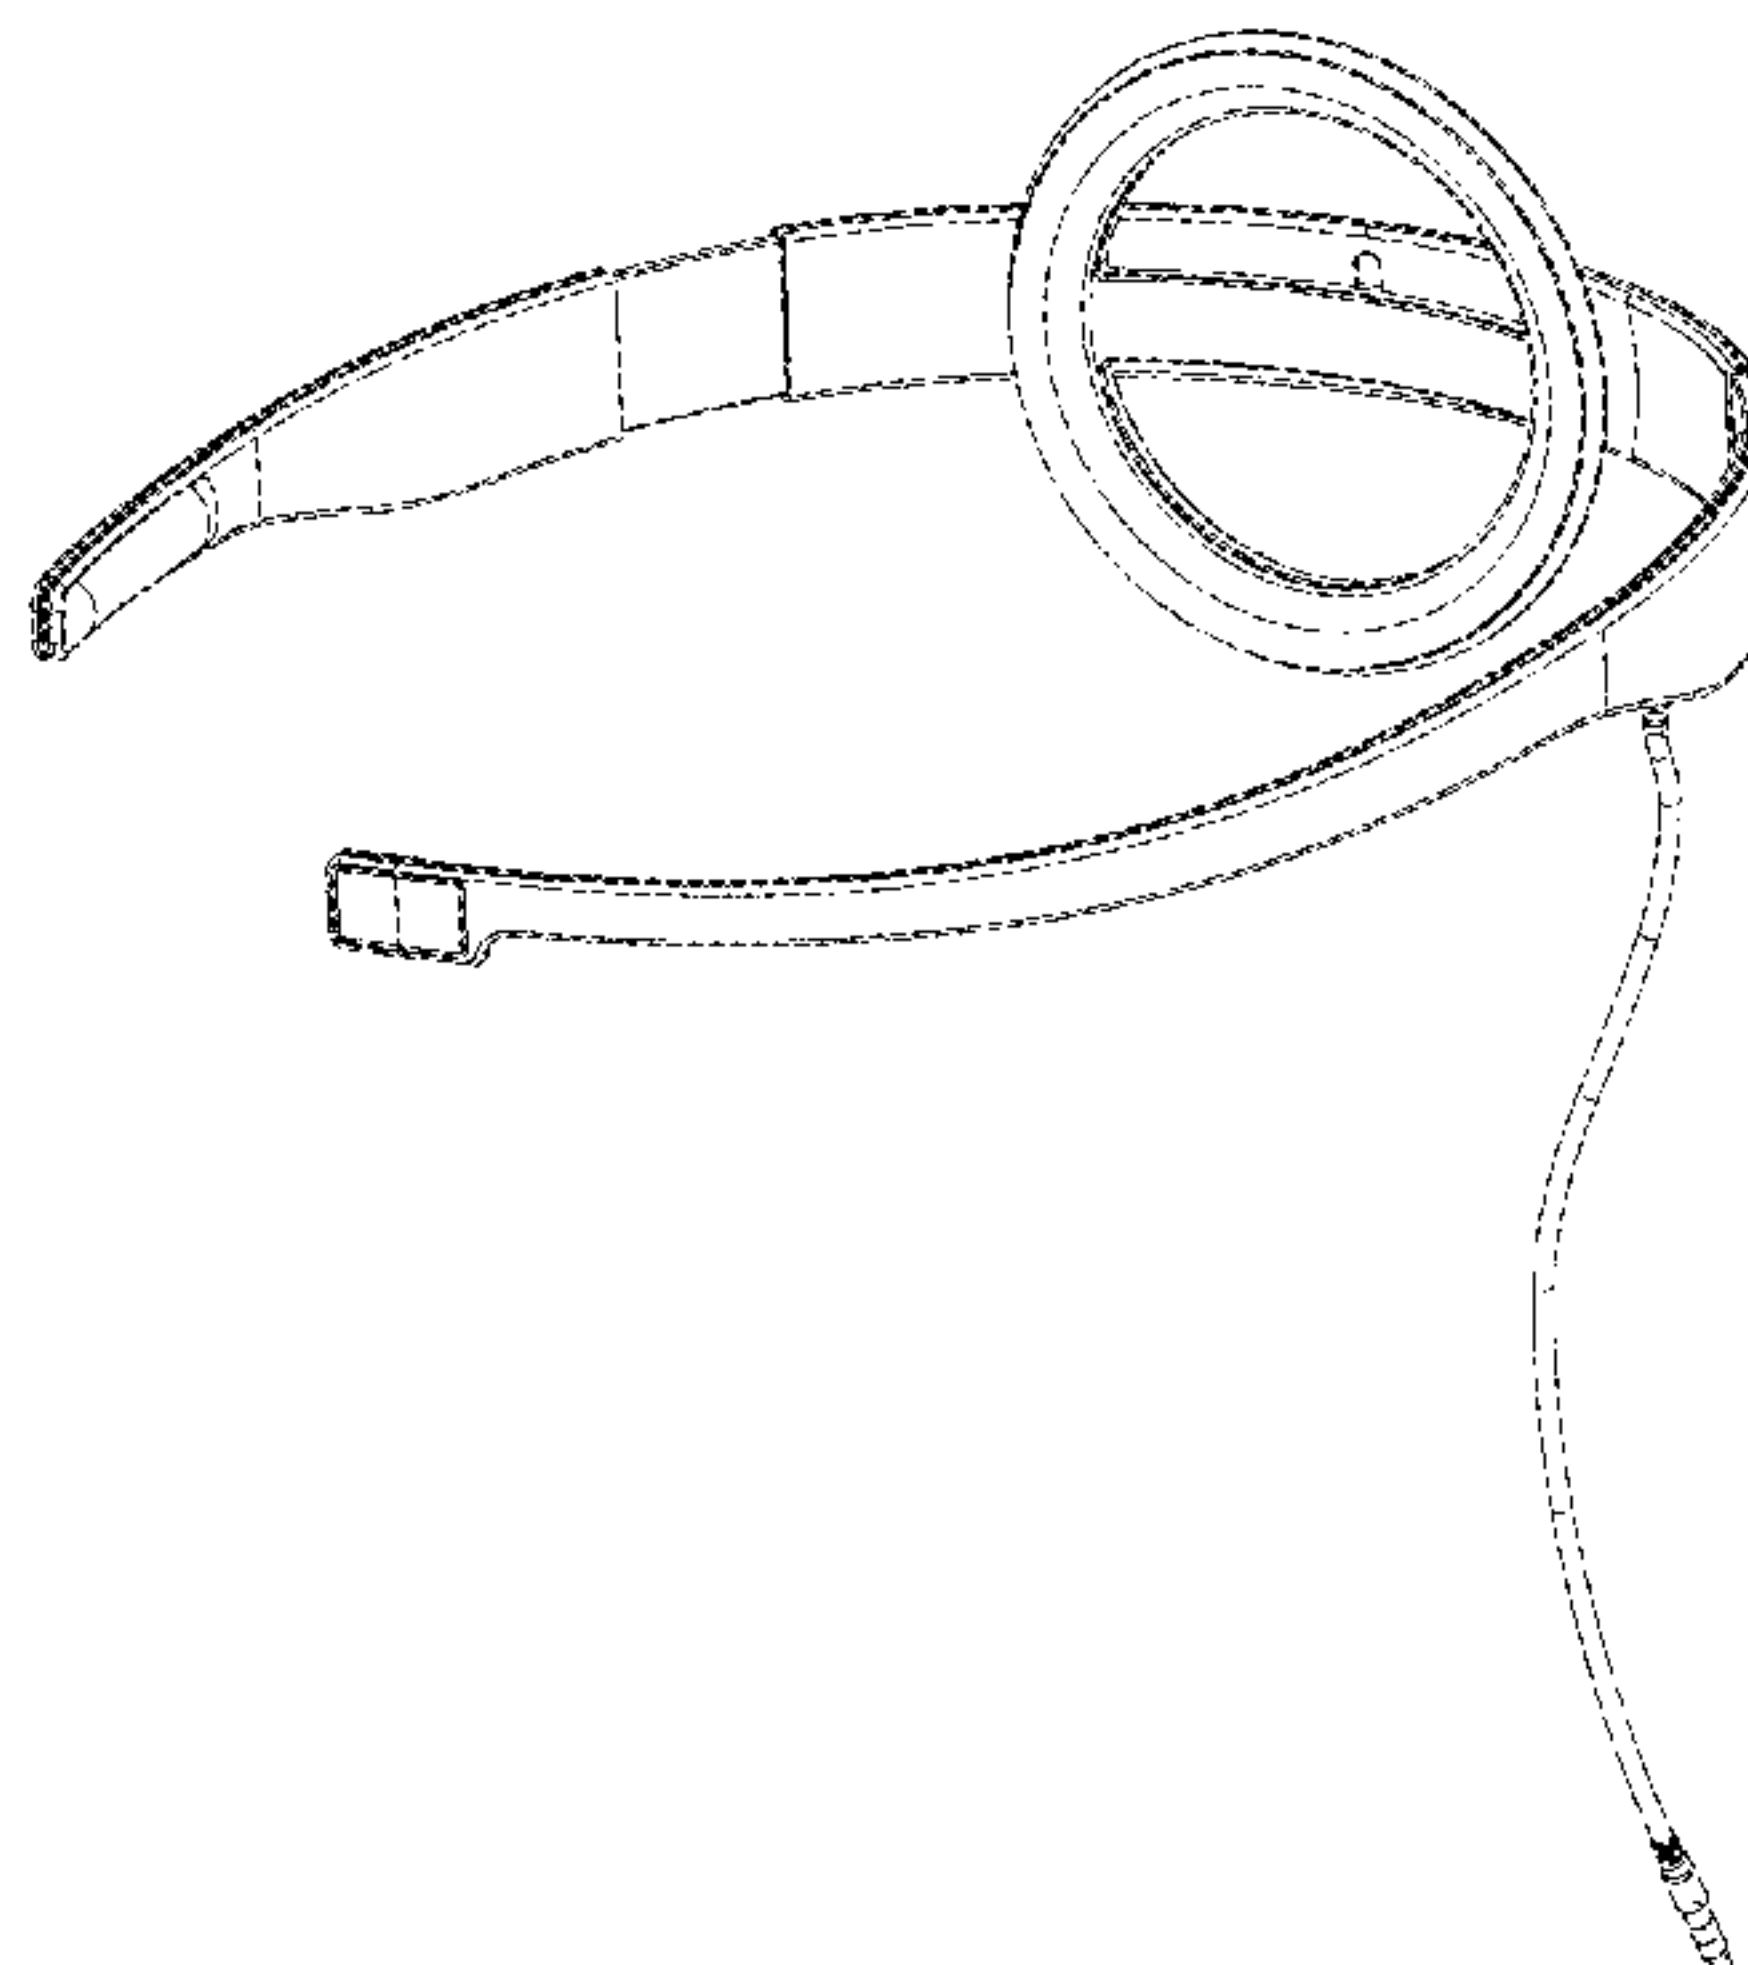

FIG. 10 is the left side elevation view, as worn, of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design;

FIG. 11 is the rear elevation view, as worn, of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design; and,

FIG. 12 is the perspective view, as worn, of a wearable visual sensor and transceiver apparatus in accordance with the ornamental design.

The human head that is depicted in FIGS. 8-12 is for illustrative context purposes only and forms no part of the claimed design.
