The claimed design is primarily the configuration of a panel for an inner portion of a reusable diaper as viewed, for example, when the reusable diaper is in a generally open position. This configuration is shown in FIG. 1 illustrating the top plan view of the panel. An opposite side of the panel forms no part of the claimed design. In FIG. 1, the heavier weight line defines part of a perimeter of the panel for the inner portion of the reusable diaper. And, the lighter weight line defines a seam where material is coupled together to form the panel for the inner portion of the reusable diaper.
