(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design of a device for detecting an impact event, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIGS. 1A-1E are top, side, bottom, front, and perspective views of a device for detecting an impact event, showing an embodiment of our new design.

FIGS. 2A-2H are top, left side, right side, bottom, front, back, and perspective views of a second embodiment thereof.

Subject matter shown in broken lines is environmental and forms no part of the particular embodiment of the design. Further, the shape of button 102 does not constitute part of the claimed design. However, Applicants reserve the right to claim any combination or subset of subject matter, whether shown in broken lines or solid lines, in this application or in one or more divisional applications thereof.

The shading illustrated in the perspective views in FIGS. 2G, 3G, 4G, and 5G is illustrating contour and not surface ornamentation.
