(57) CLAIM

I claim the ornamental design for a sponge container, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of a sponge container, showing a first embodiment of my new design in a closed position; FIG. 2 is a perspective view thereof, illustrated in a mostly open position; FIG. 3 is a left-side elevational view thereof, illustrated in a fully open position, the right-side elevational view being a mirror image thereof; FIG. 4 is a top plan view of FIG. 3, the bottom plan view being a mirror image thereof; FIG. 5 is a front elevational view of FIG. 3; FIG. 6 is a rear elevational view of FIG. 3; FIG. 7 is a perspective view of a second embodiment thereof, illustrated in the mostly open position; FIG. 8 is a front elevational view of FIG. 7; FIG. 9 is a perspective view of a third embodiment thereof, illustrated in the mostly open position; FIG. 10 is a front elevational view of FIG. 9; FIG. 11 is a perspective view of a fourth embodiment thereof, illustrated in the mostly open position; FIG. 12 is a front elevational view of FIG. 11; FIG. 13 is a perspective view of a fifth embodiment thereof, illustrated in the mostly open position; FIG. 14 is a front elevational view of FIG. 13; FIG. 15 is a perspective view of a sixth embodiment thereof, illustrated in the mostly open position; FIG. 16 is a front elevational view of FIG. 15; FIG. 17 is a perspective view of a seventh embodiment thereof, illustrated in the mostly open position; and, FIG. 18 is a front elevational view of FIG. 17. It is understood that the respective top plan views, bottom plan views, left-side elevational views, and right-side elevational views of all embodiments, when in the fully open position, are identical. Further, the rear elevational views of all embodiments are identical to FIG. 6, but for the text which is unique with each embodiment and which is a mirror image of the text of the front elevational view of each respective embodiment.
