FIG. 1 is a front view of a display screen or portion thereof showing a first image of a graphical user interface.

FIG. 2 is a front view of a display screen or portion thereof showing a second image of the graphical user interface.

FIG. 3 is a front view of a display screen or portion thereof showing a third image of the graphical user interface; and,

FIG. 4 is a front view of a display screen or portion thereof showing a fourth image of the graphical user interface.

The appearance of the display screen or portion thereof with graphical user interface sequentially transitions between the images shown in FIGS. 1-4. The process or period in which the display screen or portion thereof with graphical user interface transitions forms no part of the claimed design.

The outermost broken line showing of a display screen or portion thereof forms no part of the claimed design. All other broken lines illustrate portions of the graphical user interface that form no part of the claimed design.

EMERGENCY ROOM REPORT
KRYN, MAYA 12/12/2014 @ 07:50 am

Extracted document summarization with information relevant to the diagnostic code. Just the part you wanted to read. It talks about ordering a CT Head for monitoring hydrocephalus. It also mentions a back here, although in this case it's not a body part, and a brain which the algorithm missed for some reason, and some other diagnoses that aren't relevant. Cras semper rutrum euismod. Sed sed mollis nunc, id suscipit diam. Quabitur auctor sed enim vitae cursus. Donec sed dicitur nisi. Donec nec felis posuere, euismod orci eget, sodales ipsum. Praesent tristique nibh sit amet lorem auctor fringilla. Quabitur auctor sed enim vitae cursus. Donec nec felis posuere, euismod orci eget, sodales ipsum.
