(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for an interlocking brush set, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a top plan view of a new design showing an interlocking brush set according to the present invention, the interlocking brush set including a smaller brush fitted into the handle of a larger brush;

FIGS. 2 and 3 are opposite side elevational views of the interlocking brush set of FIG. 1;

FIG. 4 is a bottom plan view of the interlocking brush set of FIG. 1;

FIGS. 5 and 6 are opposite end elevational views of the interlocking brush set of FIG. 1;

FIG. 7 is a perspective view from above showing the interlocking brush set of FIG. 1;

FIG. 9 is a top plan view of the interlocking brush set of FIG. 1, wherein the smaller brush has been removed, and the larger brush is shown separately for clarity of illustration;

FIGS. 10 and 11 are opposite side elevational views of the larger brush of FIG. 9;

FIG. 12 is a bottom plan view of the larger brush of FIG. 9;

FIGS. 13 and 14 are opposite end elevational views of the larger brush of FIG. 9;

FIG. 15 is a top plan view of the interlocking brush set of FIG. 1 but with the smaller brush shown separately from the larger brush, for clarity of illustration;

FIGS. 16 and 18 are opposite side elevational views of the smaller brush of FIG. 15;

FIG. 17 is a bottom plan view of the smaller brush of FIG. 15; and,

FIGS. 19 and 20 are opposite end elevational views of the smaller brush of FIG. 9.

Novelty resides in the particular configuration of the brushes, and broken lines illustrating bristle tufts thereof or unshaded portions contained within the broken lines illustrate elements of the brushes that form no part of the claimed design.
