(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a base for display arm, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is an environmental perspective view taken from the top, front, right side of the base for display arm, and showing the base for display arm attached to a side of a store shelf unit or cabinet and supporting an arm for holding a sign or display in an example of a use of the base for display arm; FIG. 2 is a perspective view taken from the top, front, right side of the base for display arm showing my new design according to a first embodiment; FIG. 3 is a perspective view taken from the bottom, front, left side thereof; FIG. 4 is a front elevational view thereof; FIG. 5 is a back elevational view thereof; FIG. 6 is a right side elevational view thereof; FIG. 7 is a left side elevational view thereof; FIG. 8 is a top plan view thereof; FIG. 9 is a bottom plan view thereof; FIG. 10 is an environmental perspective view taken from the front, top, right side of the base for display arm showing my new design according to a second embodiment, and showing the base for display arm attached to a side of a store shelf unit or cabinet and supporting two arms for holding signs or displays in an example of a use of the base for display arm; FIG. 11 is a perspective view taken from the front, top, right side of the base for display arm according to the second embodiment; FIG. 12 is a perspective view taken from the front, bottom, left side of the base for display arm according to the second embodiment; FIG. 13 is a front elevational view of the base for display arm according to the second embodiment; FIG. 14 is a back elevational view of the base for display arm according to the second embodiment; FIG. 15 is a right side elevational view of the base for display arm according to the second embodiment; FIG. 16 is a left side elevational view of the base for display arm according to the second embodiment;

FIG. 17 is a top plan view of the base for display arm according to the second embodiment;

FIG. 18 is a bottom plan view of the base for display arm according to the second embodiment;

FIG. 19 is an environmental perspective view from the front, bottom, right side of the base for display arm showing my new design according to a third embodiment, and showing the base for display arm attached to a side of a store shelf unit or cabinet and supporting three arms for holding signs or displays in an example of a use of the base for display arm;

FIG. 20 is a perspective view from the front, top, right side of the base for display arm according to the third embodiment;

FIG. 21 is a perspective view from the front, bottom, left side of the base for display arm according to the third embodiment;

FIG. 22 is a front elevational view of the base for display arm according to the third embodiment;

FIG. 23 is a rear elevational view of the base for display arm according to the third embodiment;

FIG. 24 is a right side elevational view of the base for display arm according to the third embodiment;

FIG. 25 is a left side elevational view of the base for display arm according to the third embodiment;

FIG. 26 is a top plan view of the base for display arm according to the third embodiment; and,

FIG. 27 is a bottom plan view of the base for display arm according to the third embodiment.

The broken lines show environmental structures in an example of a use of the base for display arm, the broken lines forming no part of the claimed design.
