(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a communications terminal display screen with graphic user interface, as shown and described.

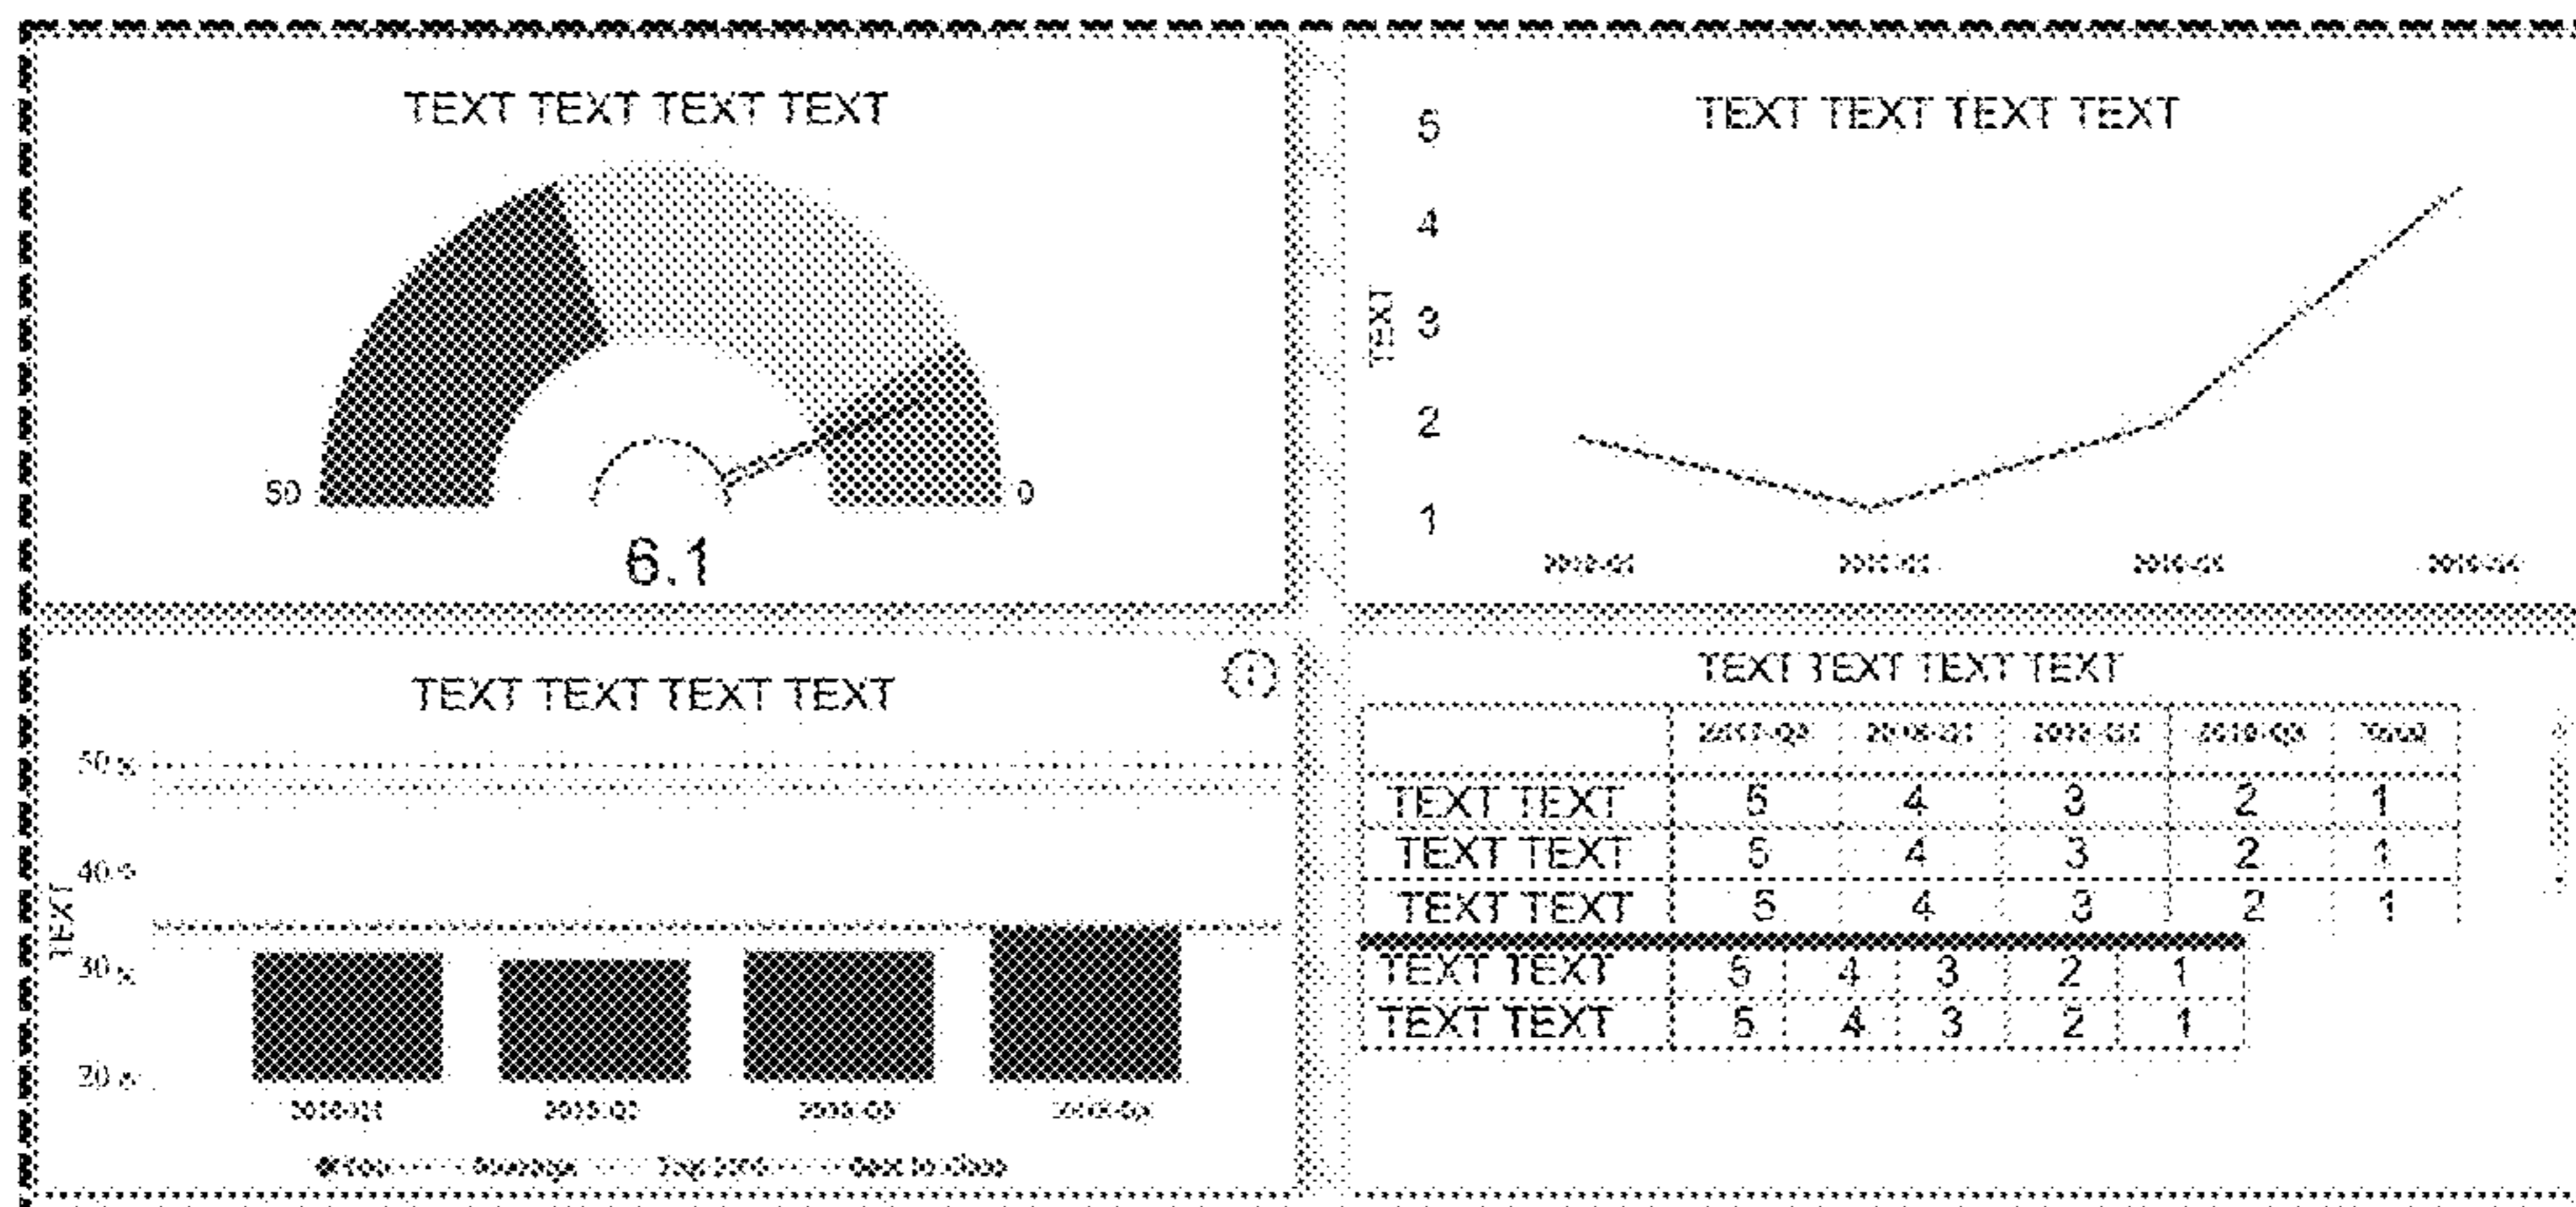

DESCRIPTION

A portion of the disclosure of this patent document contains material to which a claim for copyright is made, The copyright owner has no objection to the reproduction of the patent document or the patent disclosure, as it appears in the U.S. Patent Office records, but reserves all other copyright rights whatsoever.

The patent or application file contains at least one drawing executed in color. The Office, upon request and payment of the necessary fee, will provide copies of this patent or patent application publication with color drawing.
