(57) CLAIM

We claim the ornamental design for a pad member of an internal padding assembly of a protective sports helmet, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

The file of this patent contains at least one drawing/photograph executed in color. Copies of this patent with color drawing(s)/photograph(s) will be provided by the Office upon request and payment of the necessary fee.

FIG. 1 is a front view of a pad member of an internal padding assembly of a protective sports helmet, showing our new design.

FIG. 2 is a rear view of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet of FIG. 1.

FIG. 3 is a top view of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet of FIG. 1.

FIG. 4 is a bottom view of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet of FIG. 1.

FIG. 5 is a left view of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet of FIG. 1; and,

FIG. 6 is a right view of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet of FIG. 1.

The dot-dash-dot (“- - -”) broken line in the Figures represents an unclaimed boundary of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet.

The area contained between two distinct dot-dash-dot broken lines shows a portion of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet that forms no part of the claimed design.

The area contained within a dot-dot (“- -”) broken line in the Figures shows a portion of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet that forms no part of the claimed design.

The area contained between a dot-dash-dot broken line and a dot-dot broken line in the Figures shows a portion of the pad member of the internal padding assembly of the protective sports helmet that is part of the claimed design.
