(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a display screen with graphical user interface, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a front view of a first image in a sequence of a display screen with graphical user interface; FIG. 2 is a front view of a second image thereof; FIG. 3 is a front view of a third image thereof; FIG. 4 is a front view of a fourth image thereof; FIG. 5 is an enlarged front view of the area indicated in FIG. 2, provided for clarity of illustration; FIG. 6 is another enlarged front view thereof; and, FIG. 7 is another enlarged front view thereof. The appearance of the transitional image sequentially transitions between the images shown in FIGS. 1-4. The process or period in which one image transitions to another image forms no part of the claimed design. The dot-dash broken lines illustrate the display screen and form no part of the claimed design. The remaining broken lines illustrate portions of the graphical user interface that form no part of the claimed design.

 Formation Like other quartz gems, it is a silicon dioxide crystal. The smoky colour results from free silicon formed from the silicon dioxide by natural irradiation.
 Types Morion is a very dark brown to black opaque variety.
 Uses Smoky quartz is common and was not historically important, but in recent times it has become a popular gemstone, especially for jewellery. Sunglasses, in the form of flat panes of smoky
