(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for a spectacle case, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

1. Spectacle case

1.1 : Perspective

1.2 : Front

1.3 : Back

1.4 : Right

1.5 : Left

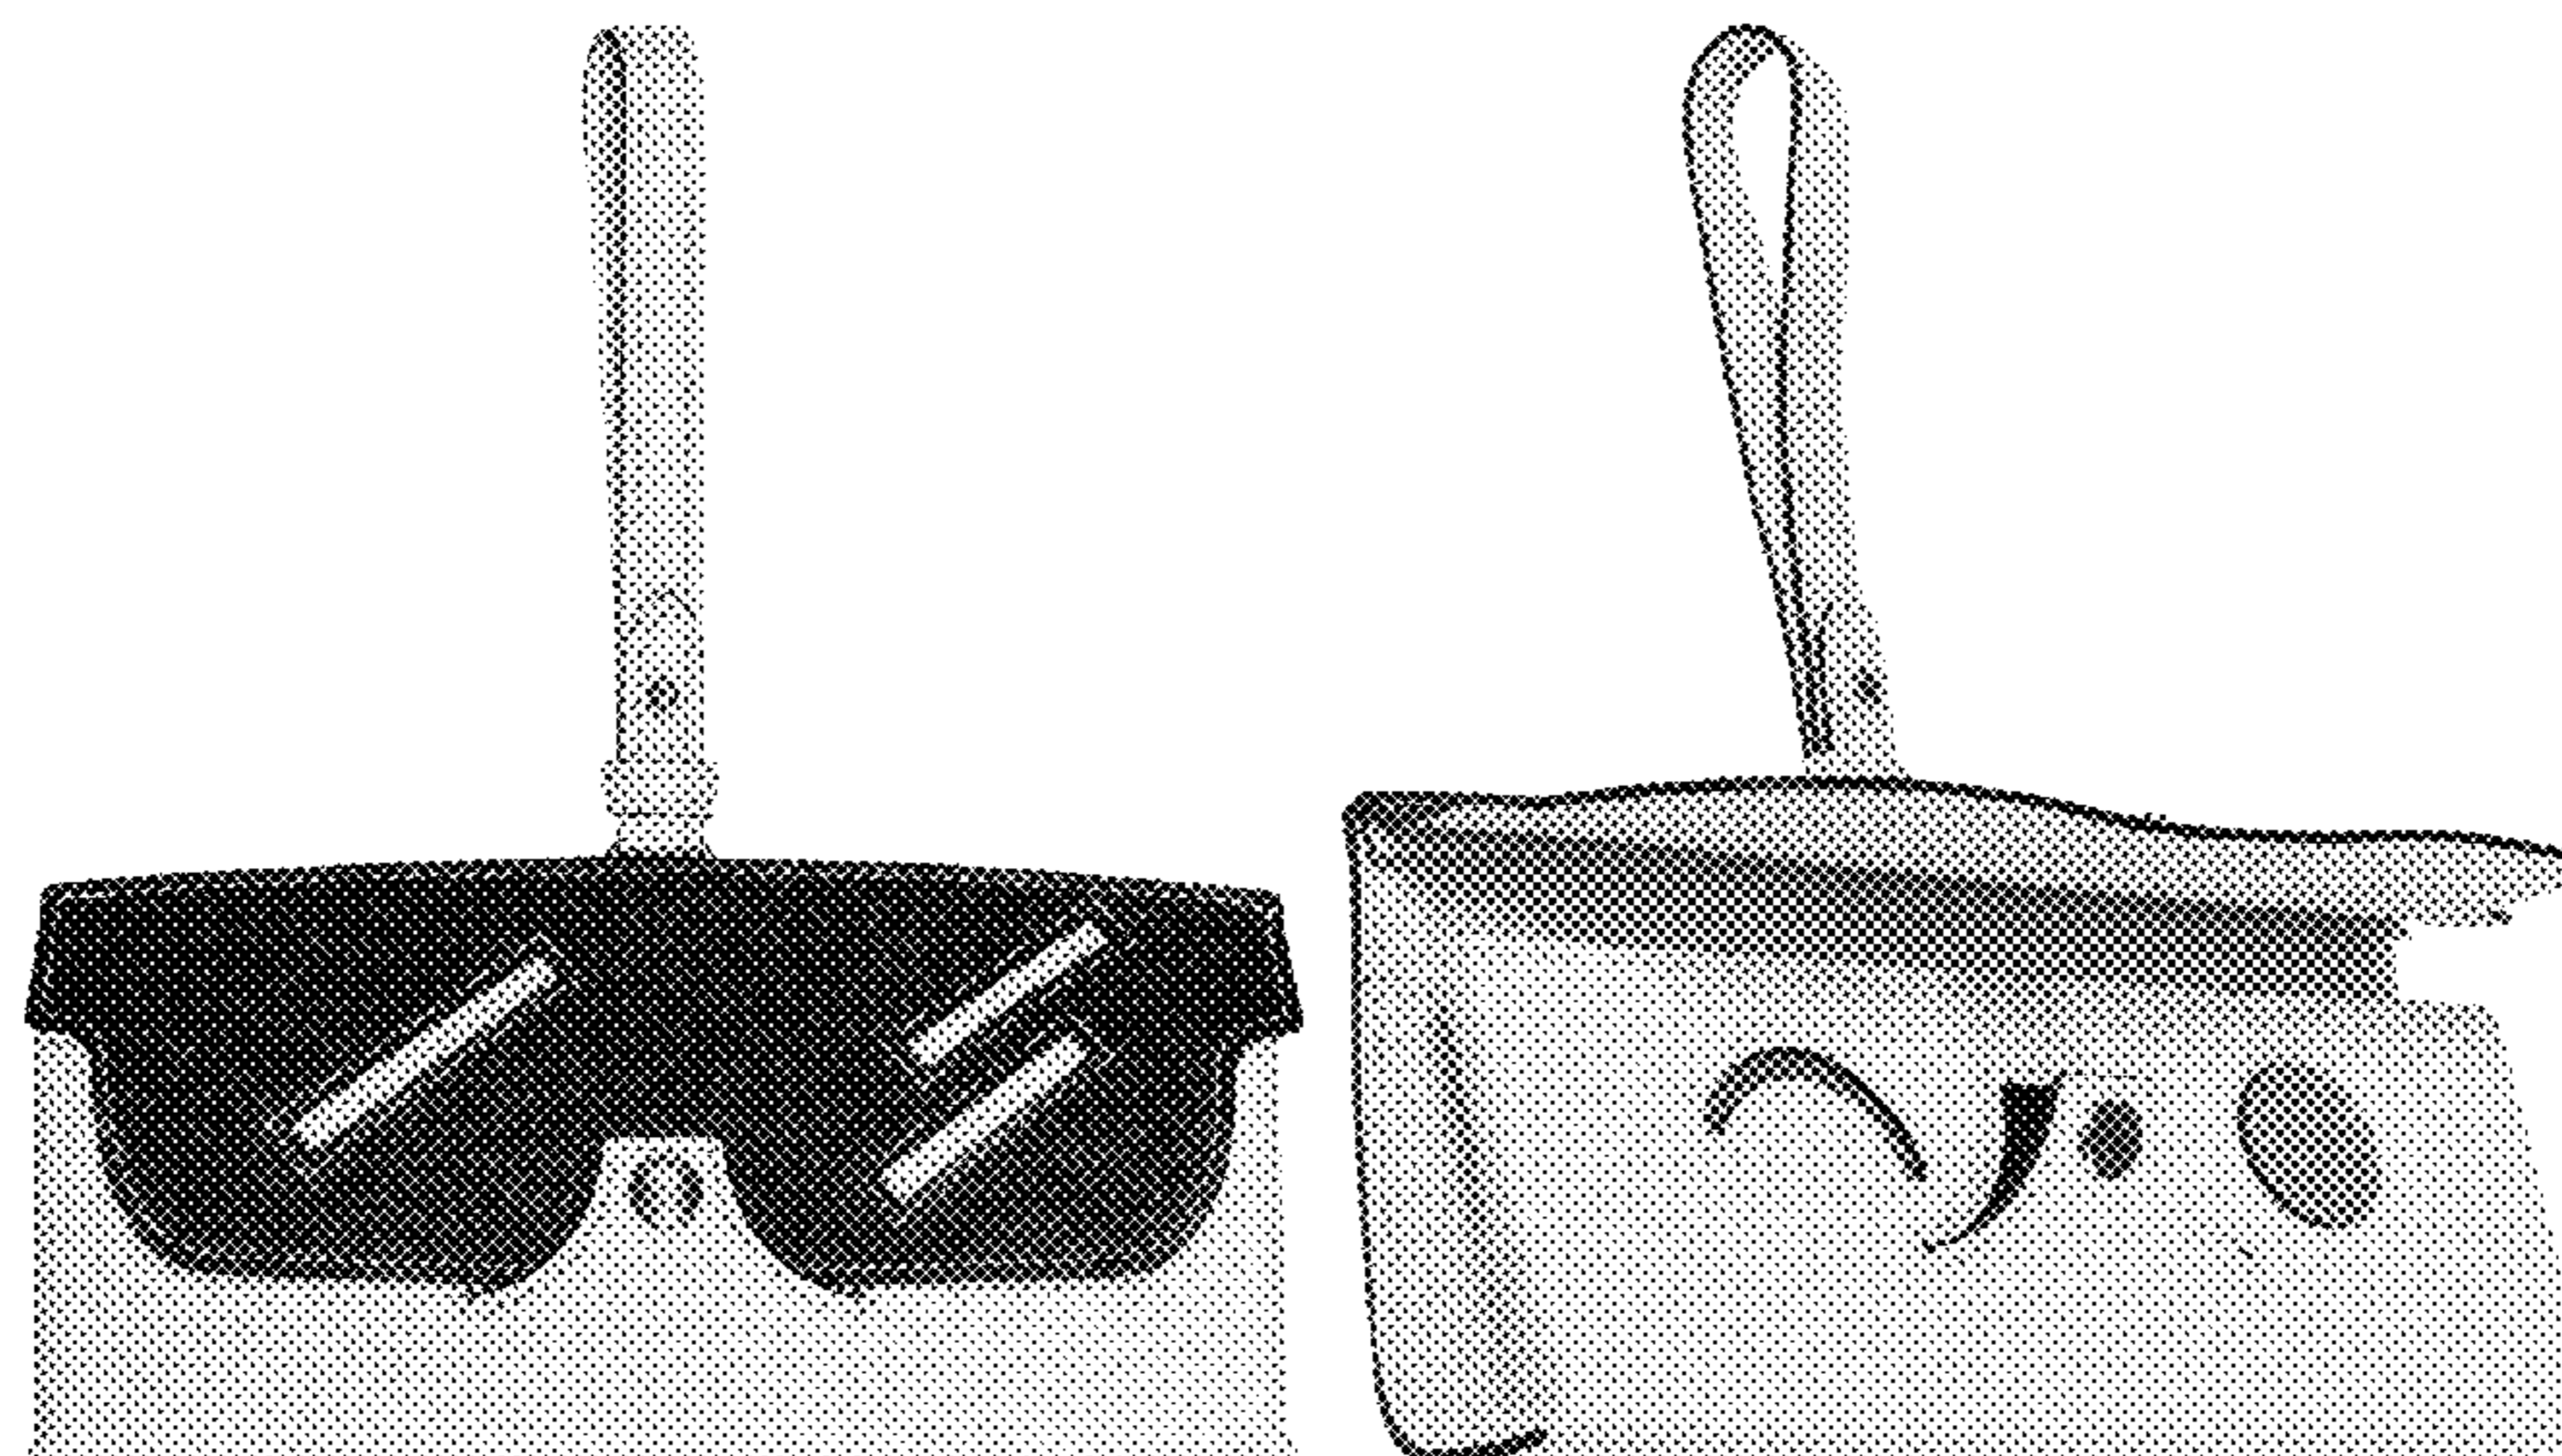

1.6 : Top

1.7 : Bottom

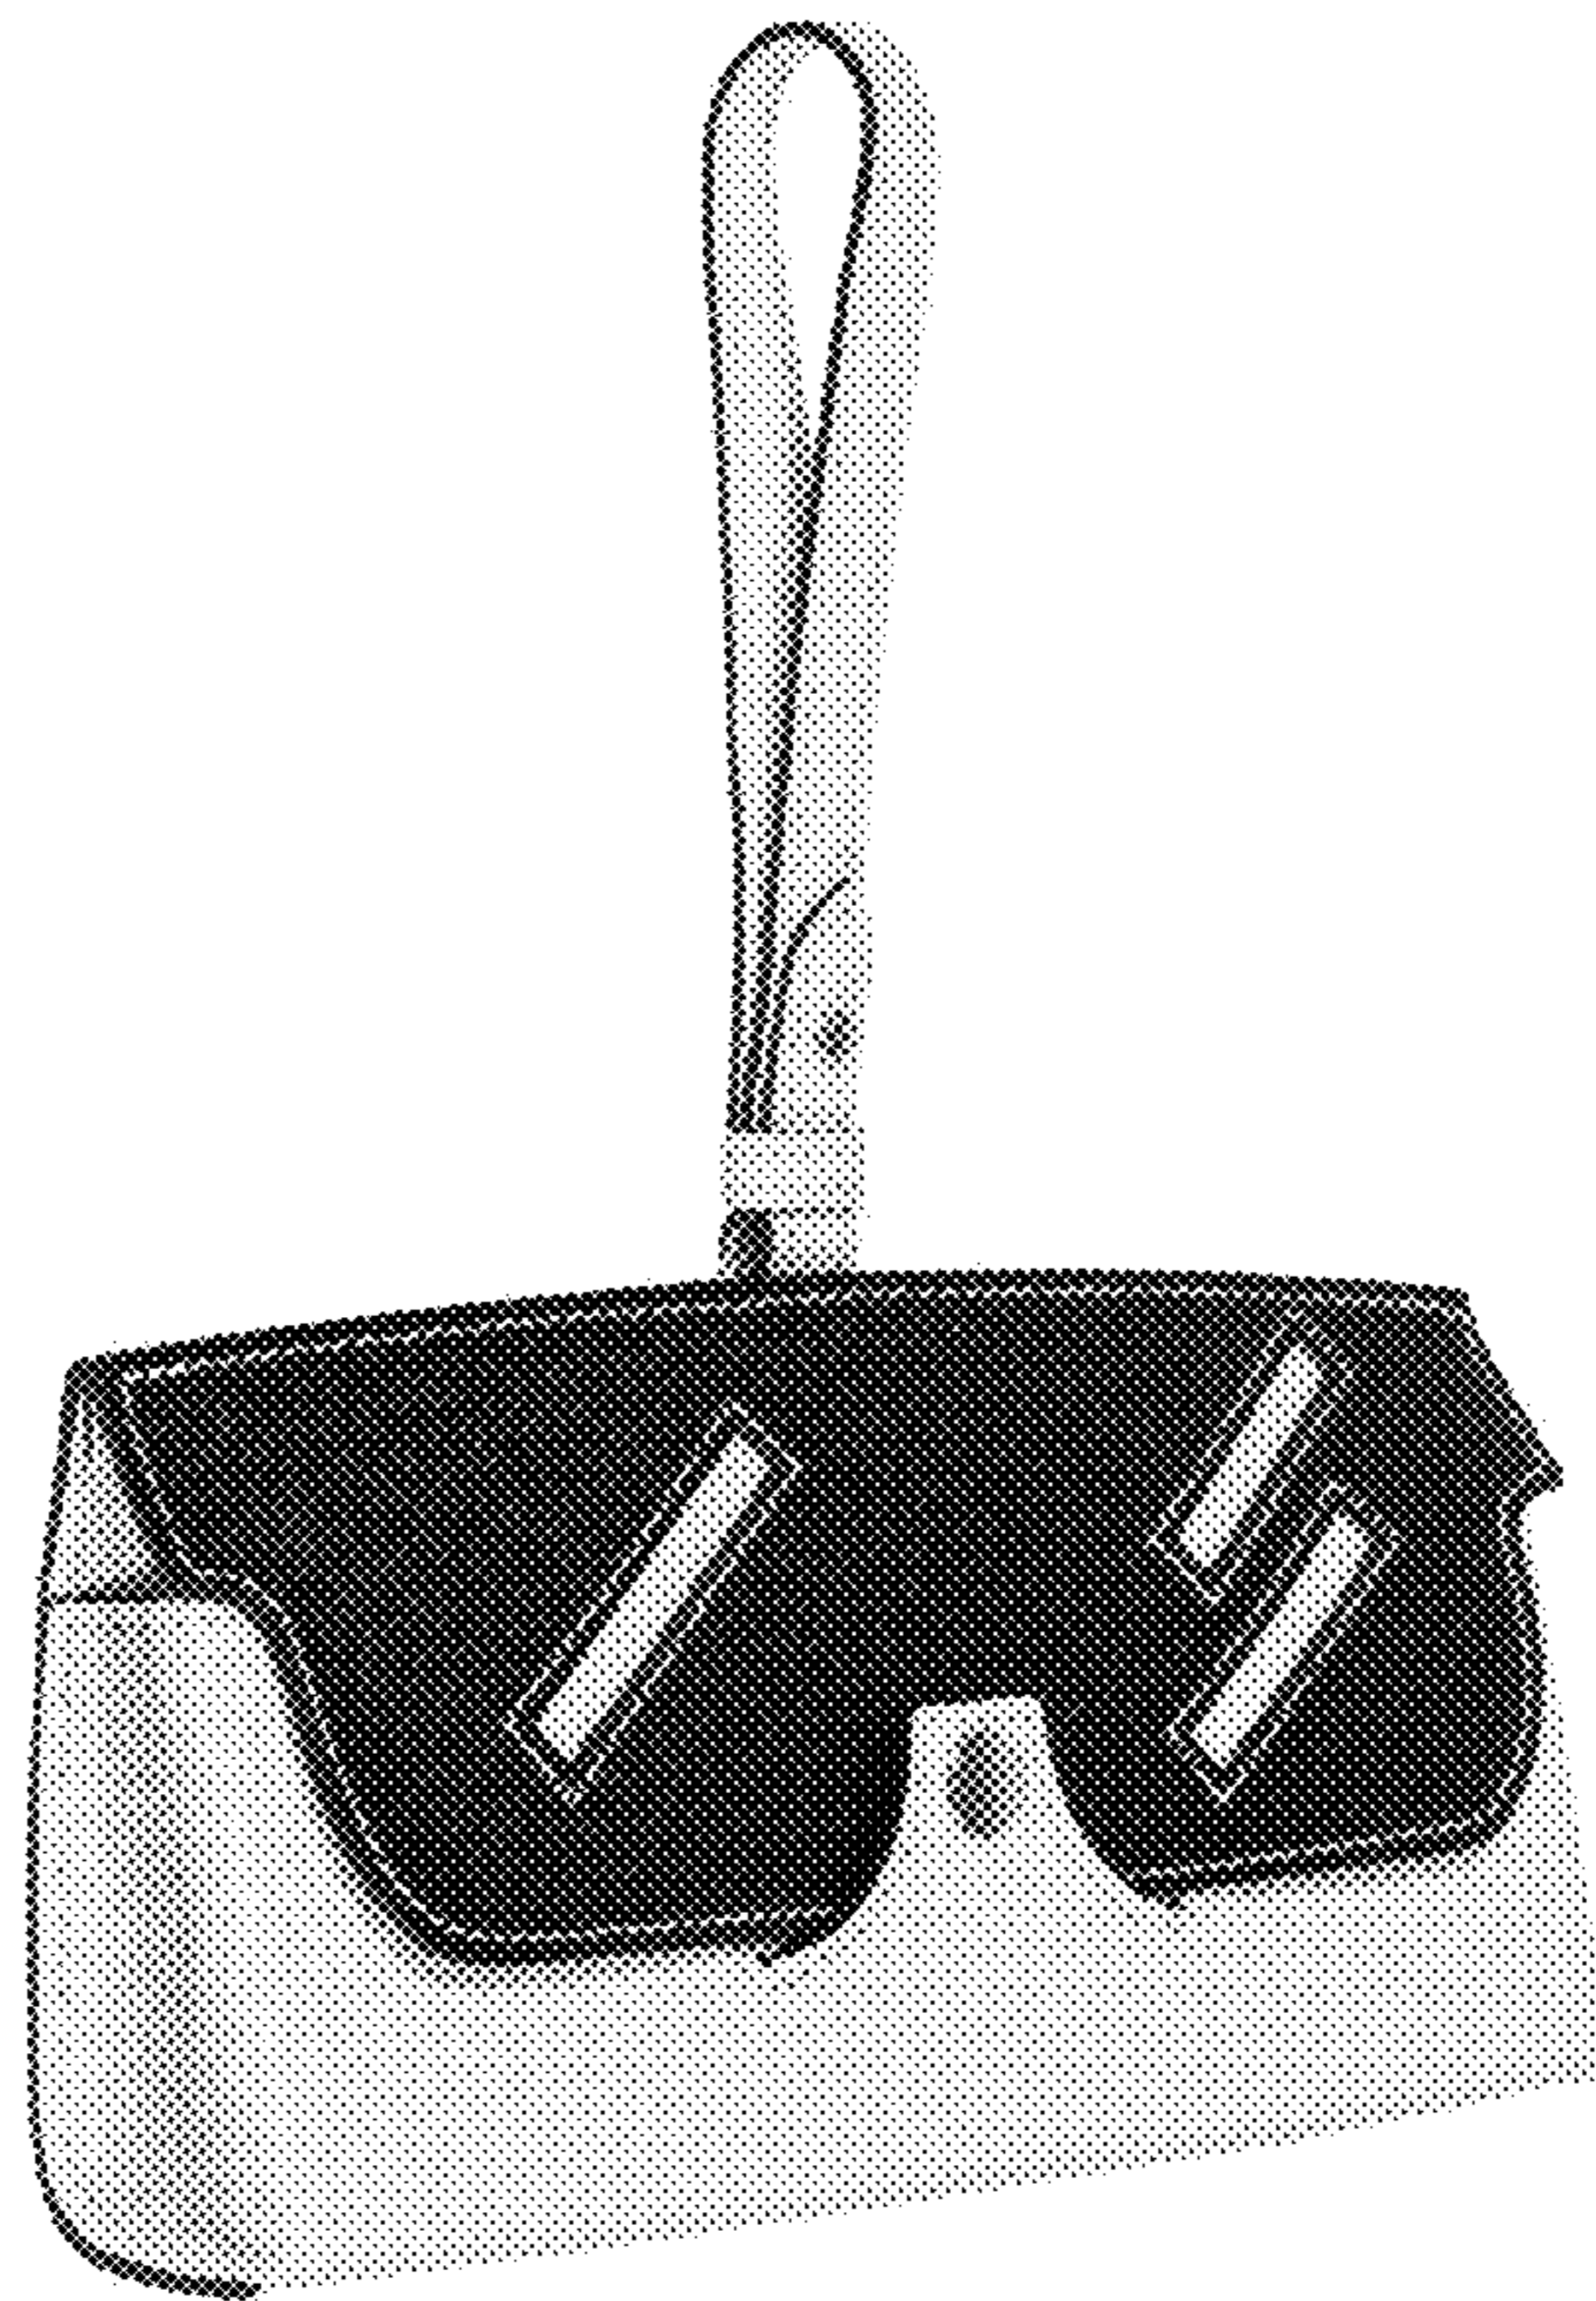

1.8 : Perspective view of the spectacle holder open

The case comprises a horizontally elongate body and a wrist strap connected at the center of the top of the body; the body has a front wall, a rear wall, and a front flap with a wavy bottom edge; the front wall of the body has a slot that defines a flexible tab for engaging with the bottom edge of the flap and holding same when the body is closed; the front wall of the body has a circular element simulating an open eye on one side of the tab, and on the other side, an almost semi-circular aperture that simulates a closed eye.
